

FROM THE HUB.
There is perhaps no tonic offered to the people that possesses as much real intrinsic value as the Hop-Bitters. Just at this season of the year, when the stomach needs an appetizer, or the blood needs purifying, the cheapest and best remedy is Hop-Bitters. An ounce of prevention is better than a pound of cure. Don't wait until you are prostrated by a disease that may take months for you to recover in.—Boston Globe.

GUITEAU

THE END

Drawing Near.

THE DOOMED MAN'S SPEECH.

Preparation for the Execution

WASHINGTON, June 27.—The opinion of the Attorney-General in reference to the case of Guiteau, submitted to the Cabinet, is comparatively brief, but is spoken of by a Cabinet officer as a very strong and pointed review of the trial. It is stated that the opinion points out very forcibly that the issue of insanity was in fact the only matter that occupied much time of the court. The murder was practically admitted, and there was no room for doubt as to all facts connected with its commission. The fullest discussion was given every feature of inquiry upon the subject of insanity and the largest latitude allowed to the prisoner and his counsel. The opinion holds that the petitioners failed to furnish the least reason to justify the President interfering in the most unusual and extraordinary manner proposed. The views of the few who petitioned for a respite ought not to prevail against the preponderance of opinion on the part of the medical profession that Guiteau was legally responsible. It is said the Cabinet fully and unanimously approved of the opinion. The President was the first to express his views. He gave a most emphatic assent to the positions taken by Brewster.

WASHINGTON, June 28.—Dr. G. M. Beard, of New York, states that Guiteau is not especially timid. He does not wish to be hanged, but he is willing to be hanged, and if necessary will go to the scaffold as he would go to the breakfast table; if he must die, he would die dramatically, picturesquely, publicly, with insane attention to details as to the adjustment of the rope and arrangements for agents of the Associated Press; with insane inattention to the main and only issue—the deprivation of life, and with an insane speech on his lips. Rev. Mr. Hicks says his knowledge of Guiteau leads him to the same conclusion as Beard. Dr. Hicks and Miss Chevallier had an interview with Mrs. Scoville to-day. They found her calm and rational, with nothing in her manner to justify the belief that she intends to do herself harm. She said she was satisfied with what had been done for her brother, and was content to abide by the result. She has not much hope. Dr. Hicks and Miss Chevallier called at the White House on Monday, but did not see the President. On one of Hicks' visits to Guiteau, the latter said: "Doctor, I want you to go to the scaffold with me and swing me off to God."

Don't go to the President any more. I would like to see Miss Chevallier, just to shake hands with her and thank her for her kindness and interest. If my brother and sister came I would see them, but I don't want them to talk of my insanity." Several days ago Guiteau prepared a prayer for the American people, written as if it was to be offered on the scaffold. Some idea of the pressure brought to bear on the warden of the jail by persons anxious to get passes to the execution of the case Guiteau, may be obtained from the fact that after having been detained at the jail till nine o'clock on Monday night, he reached home at 10. After seeing visitors he retired at 3 o'clock and arose at 6, hoping to escape before the visitors arrived, but had to receive two or three. He drove off at 8 o'clock and reached the jail at half-past one o'clock, having been stopped more times than he could count. Then, to escape the crowd, he was obliged to retire within the barred doors of the jail. Rev. Mr. Hicks says he never saw a man so apparently happy and contented as Guiteau under such terrible circumstances. The ARRANGEMENTS FOR THE EXECUTION are complete. The men have been picked out for their various duties around the scaffold. The speech Guiteau has prepared to deliver from the gallows consists of a dozen foolscap pages. Read says: "It is one of the most remarkable documents I ever saw, full of stinging rebukes, pathos, eloquence. Read and John Guiteau drove to the jail this morning. The former was received cordially. Prisoner looked akeance at his brother for a while. He melted somewhat when he saw how painfully John was affected, and showed some feeling in regard to his interview with the priest yesterday. The President is reported as saying the interview with Guiteau's brother was the most embarrassing he ever had in his life. He felt the perilous in which John was placed, and while he had determined to let the law take its course, he could not refuse to see him. Robert Strong, who has pulled a string at every hanging since the jail was built, has been selected to

WORK GUITEAU OFF.

During the greater part of the time Guiteau manifested neither unusual excitement nor depression. Last night he said to Rev. Mr. Hicks: "My mind is free from all worldly affairs, and I am ready to go. I have no enemy now against any one. The matter is now between the President's conscience and his God. I hope on Friday there will be no bungling, and that Crocker will do his work well. The prolongation of my life will not contribute to my happiness, although it would be for the good of the American people." The minister and condemned man then prayed, the latter being apparently more sincere and devout than at any previous time. As Mr. Hicks left the cell, Guiteau said: "I am counting the hours till I shall be relieved. I have no fear of punishment hereafter. I feel the act of which I have been convicted was God's act, that I was God's man."

I SHALL BE WELCOME TO PARADISE."
Prisoner, after going to bed, seemed to labor under mental excitement which prevented him from sleeping as quietly as usual. When he rose this morning he spent some time looking out of the window at the storm. He ate a hearty breakfast, read a while, took his customary walk in the corridor, and was again locked in the cell. This afternoon Hicks, Reed and John Guiteau visited the prisoner and were cordially received. Reed asked Guiteau if he wished to prepare a will. "No," he replied, "to-morrow will be time enough. Call around and we will fix it to-morrow morning." Subsequently the brothers had a long talk about their boyhood and the events of the years gone by. Prisoner showed much emotion when speaking of his mother. When Hicks re-entered the cell he asked Guiteau if his mind was at rest. "Oh, rest!" he replied, "I have emptied everything out of my mind except the fact that

I SHALL HAVE TO GO ON FRIDAY.
Hicks then held a long religious service, the prisoner taking part with fervor. The scaffold is now in complete readiness, and the rope was tested to-day with a weight of 150 pounds. The exact time of the execution is not yet fixed. It will depend to some extent on the prisoner's condition and wishes. The death warrant will probably be read about one o'clock. The Western Union Company is now putting up eight wires to connect with the jail for use on Friday. The Associated Press will have a special wire. The others will be used by the large number of correspondents. There are forty women in the jail, nearly two-thirds of whom are colored. The colored women are pretty well frightened over the approaching execution, and try to keep the subject out of mind by singing. Guiteau's stock of photographs has become very small. He said to-day he would not order any more, as the market for them had been closed against him. He selected one for each of the guards in the jail and colored men employed in the kitchen, which he tied up in a package, with the request that he be distributed as directed after he had been hanged. He wrote the name of each person on the back of the photograph, adding a Biblical quotation. Hicks told Guiteau his brother said he would go to the scaffold with him and stand by until the last moment. Guiteau said, "I'll need no help to go to the scaffold. The Deity will stand by me then as always."

(Concluded on Fifth Page.)
Dr. W. Armstrong, Toronto, writes: "I have been using Northrop & Lyman's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda for Chronic Bronchitis, with the best results. I believe it is the best Emulsion in the market. Having tested the different kinds I unhesitatingly give it the preference when prescribing for my consumptive patients, or for Throat and Lung affections."

ENTAIL IN SCOTLAND.

A bill presented by Lord Rosebery to the House of Lords on this subject is explained by the following interesting memorandum:—The two leading objects of the present bill are to give increased facilities to entailed proprietors for disentailing their estates and to enable them to convert their entailed estates into money, the price of land sold remaining subject to the restrictions under which the entailed lands were held. The form of strict entail in use in Scotland was sanctioned by the act of the Scottish Parliament in 1665, which authorized the settlement of land in strict entail in perpetuity, and the law remained on this footing until the Entail Amendment act of 1848, generally known as the Rutherford act. That statute divided entails into two classes—viz, those existing prior to its own date, and those which should be made in future. It enacted that the former might be terminated with consent of a certain number (in no case more than three) of the subsequent heirs, provided that the nearest heir should have attained the age of twenty-five, or by an heir born after 1848, without any consent. With regard to future entails, it provided that they could be terminated only with consent of an heir apparent—that is to say, an heir who must succeed if he lived, in other words a descendant of the proprietor of the age of twenty-five years—or by an heir born after the date of the entail, without any consent. The act of 1848 continues to be the regulating statute, though it has under one certain modifications by subsequent legislation. The principal of these, introduced by the Entail Amendment Act, 1875, are the reduction of the age of the next heir, whose consent is required to twenty-one, and the provision that the second and third heirs in entail made prior to 1848 shall be dispensed with upon their interests being valued and secured. The present bill proposes to extend this latter provision to the nearest heir to enable minors and persons under disability to give consent and to assimilate the position of entailed proprietors holding under entails made subsequent to 1848 in all respect to that of proprietors holding under entails made prior to that date. The combined effect of these provisions will be to place it in the power of every proprietor of an entailed estate to disentail, upon making full provision for the interests of the other heirs in existence. The second proposal in the bill is to enable proprietors of entailed estates to sell their estates, in whole or in part, the price remaining subject to the restrictions of the entail, and due provision being made for its preservation for behoof of the succeeding heirs. This part of the bill is in its effect substantially the same as Lord Cairn's Settled Land bill, which has been passed by the House of Lords.

WOMAN'S WISDOM.
"She insists that it is of more importance that her family shall be kept in full health, than that she should have all the fashionable dresses and styles of the times." She, therefore, sees to it that each member of her family is supplied with enough Hop Bitters at the first appearance of any symptoms of ill health, to prevent a fit of sickness with its attendant expense, care and anxiety. All women should exercise their wisdom in this way.—New Haven Palladium.

Holloway's Ointment and Pills.—Coughs, Influenza.—The soothing properties of these medicaments render them well worthy of trial in all diseases of the lungs. In common colds and influenza the Pills taken internally and the Ointment rubbed externally are exceedingly efficacious. When influenza is epidemic this treatment is easiest, safest and surest. Holloway's Pills and Ointment purify the blood, remove all obstructions to its free circulation through the lungs, relieve the overworked air tubes, and render respiration free without reducing the strength, irritating the nerves, or depressing the spirits. Such are the ready means of saving suffering when afflicted with colds, coughs, bronchitis and other complaints by which so many are seriously and permanently afflicted in most countries.

FIRST PASTORAL VISIT OF HIS LORDSHIP, THE RIGHT REVEREND BISHOP VINCENT O'LEARY, S. T. D., BISHOP OF KINGSTON, ONT., TO THE MISSION OF PERTH.

To the Editor of THE TRUE WITNESS:

DEAR SIR,—Friday, the 9th instant, shall be long remembered as a red letter day by the Catholics of this town and mission of Perth. And justly so, for on that day the illustrious prelate who now rules over this most ancient diocese in Ontario, made his first pastoral visit to Perth. This visit, we know, would have been made months previously but that His Lordship, with kindly consideration, delayed it, in order that the parish priest and his parishioners might have the needed opportunity to complete the construction of those beautiful spires which now grace their grand parish church.

At the appointed hour, 6 p.m., His Lordship, the Right Rev. Dr. Cleary, accompanied by his Secretary, Father Kelly, and by Fathers Walsh and Masterson, of Toledo and Prescott, respectively, was met at the C. P. R. station here by the Rev. Father O'Connor, Parish Priest, and by the Right Rev. Monsignor Farrelly, of Belleville, and Father McDonald, of Kempenville, who had arrived the day before, and was escorted thence in an open carriage, preceded by our local military band and accompanied by an immense crowd of fervent Catholics and sympathizing citizens to the parochial residence. Here His Lordship and attendant clergy robed themselves, and afterwards proceeded in solemn procession to the main entrance of the parish Church of St. John Baptist, passing into the Church beneath a splendidly designed arch of evergreens, surmounted by the appropriate motto in letters of gold, "Welcome to our Bishop." Inside the main door of the Church His Lordship was received by the parish priest, in accordance with the requirements of the Roman ritual, and was conducted thence to a throne placed near the grand altar. Then, after a few moments spent in silent adoration, His Lordship took his seat on his throne and graciously signified his assent to the presentation of the following address from the leading members of the congregation, whose names are herewith appended:—

To the Right Reverend JAMES VINCENT O'LEARY, S. T. D., Bishop of Kingston:—

WE, your spiritual subjects in this portion of your extensive diocese, beg leave to offer you our heartfelt greetings on the occasion of your first pastoral visit to this mission of Perth, and to tender you at the same time an expression of the filial esteem and love which infuse the hearts of all of us towards your Lordship, as Bishop of this venerable diocese whereto you have been sent by the Vicar of Christ, to rule over and guide its children in the way that leads to everlasting life.

In thus manifesting our heart's purest devotion towards your Lordship, we are but repeating, it is true, those expressions of enthusiasm wherewith your coming has been already welcomed in all parts of the diocese which you have hitherto honored by your visit; yet we confidently trust that even, though we are somewhat late in offering our greetings, owing to circumstances over which we had no control, nevertheless, that your Lordship will accept them from us with the same kind consideration that you have accorded to like efforts from your spiritual children elsewhere. And we would assure your Lordship, in this connection, that we gratefully appreciate the untold sacrifices that you must have made in tearing yourself from those ties that bound you to your native Erin, that land that has nobly preserved the Catholic faith, even though robbed of all else, and that has given hosts of zealous missionaries, who have gone forth into foreign climes at the command of the Vatican, even as yourself, my Lord, to cast their lot among strangers, and labor for the salvation of souls. But we claim, my Lord, that we are not strangers to you in the repulsive sense of that term, for the great bulk of the parishioners of Perth are your brothers, either by birth or descent, in nationality and holy faith. Before we conclude this too brief address, permit us, my Lord, to call your attention to the unflinching zeal of our esteemed Pastor, the Rev. J. S. O'Connor, who, besides the faithful discharge of his clerical duties amongst us during the past three years, has likewise, in conjunction with the parishioners proper and other kind friends, been most indefatigable in improving the Church property here in Perth, and in erecting those grand spires which adorn our Parish Church, and which shall remain, please God, as enduring monuments of Catholic faith for ages after those immediately concerned in their erection shall have gone to their long home. While praying with all the fervor of our souls that your Lordship may be long spared to discharge with a zeal and dignity all your own manifold obligations of your sacred office as bishop of the parent diocese of Ontario, and that in the fulness of time, when your episcopal labors here below shall terminate, you shall be rewarded with a mitre of immortal bliss in heaven above, we crave your Lordship's benediction upon ourselves and our families and fellow-parishioners of Perth, Ont.

[Signed] HUGH RYAN, WM. O'BRIEN, WM. MCGARRY, WM. FARRELL, P. W. RYAN, DANIEL FARREY, JAMES MORRISON, MICHAEL JAMES, MICHAEL FOY, JOHN DEWITT, JAMES PATTERSON, JOHN BYRNE.

After the reading of the above address by James Patterson, Esq., Warden of the County of Lunenburg, His Lordship at once turned to speak to the vast assemblage before him, congratulating both Pastor and flock on the grand success that had evidently already crowned their efforts in the holy cause of religion, and exhorting them in eloquent tones to renewed struggles in the same direction hereafter.

The solemn Benediction of the Most Holy Sacrament then closed the first day of the first official visit of our beloved Bishop to this parish of Perth. During the remainder of His Lordship's sojourn in our midst, and which extended over Sunday until the following Tuesday morning, he visited the several outlying stations in this mission, preached frequently, held public receptions, and, in fact, labored incessantly in our behalf. Little wonder, therefore, that we are all delighted with his visit, and that we look forward with joyous longings to the time (not far distant, we hope,) when we shall be favored with a second visit from our distinguished chief-pastor—Rev. Dr. Cleary, of Kingston.

Yours truly, Perth, Ont., June 19th, 1882.

Liver Pills.

MALARIA! MALARIA!!

THE CAUSE OF DISEASE IN THE STOMACH, KIDNEYS AND NERVOUS SYSTEM!

Below will be found a brief Summary of a Lecture upon the Liver, delivered before the Eclectic College of Medicine, by DR. J. HAYDOCK.

The Liver has been known as the great blood-maker and blood-purifier of the circulation. From its size and spongy structure, it plays a most important part in the animal economy, as regards assimilation and nutrition. Food taken in the mouth and acted upon by the digestive organs of the stomach is converted into Glucose or Peptone, and in these forms enters the Portal vein. Here, by the action of the Liver, these substances are converted into a form of sugar and pass out of the Liver by a large vein, called the Hepatic vein, into the general circulation. The new material now formed serves two purposes, viz: the maintenance of heat in the body and assisting in the growth of the system.

Dr. Haydock says:—The conversion of bile and its secretion is very complex. It is constantly being secreted by the Liver, and increasing suddenly before eating, gradually decreasing as soon as the appetite is satisfied and feeding ceases. Now, if this most important organ of the body becomes torpid, or the passage of bile interfered with, emaciation and disease ensue. I note eight marked peculiarities that now occur, and which we all know

1. The patient complains of a feeling of weight and fullness of the epigastrium.
2. Distention of the Stomach and flow in by wind.
3. Heart-burn.
4. A feeling of weariness, pains in the limbs, and great sleepiness after meals.
5. A bad taste in the mouth, especially in the morning, and furred tongue.
6. Constipation, with occasional attacks of diarrhoea.
7. Headache in front of head.
8. Depression of spirits and great melancholy, with lassitude and a disposition to leave everything for to-morrow.

All of the above symptoms go to show functional derangement of the Liver; and now comes the great importance of any error made as to the condition of the patient. He should immediately provide himself with a LIVER PILLS, the most common form of which is a Pill. Daily experience shows that this, when the Pills are compounded properly, is the readiest mode of meeting and promoting the action of the Liver, and can be almost always relied on. I have devoted many years of my life, as many of you now before me know, to compounding a Pill that will act readily and systematically as a Biliary Remedy. I do not believe in great purgatives, and therefore have made a Pill, one of which is an active and thorough dose. I have called it

Dr. Haydock's New Liver Pill.

"THE WEBER PIANO"

Is generally acknowledged the grandest instrument of music which has ever appeared in the household, or adorned the Lyric Stage. Its tones are pure and beautiful beyond all others. It is sweet, sympathetic and plaintive, or loud, grand and majestic, at the will of the performer. In its capacity to portray feeling, and in its wonderful power of expression, it stands absolutely without a rival. The duration of its tones, quick responsive action, and perfect mechanism, place it, in the estimation of all musical people, above and beyond all its competitors. For many years the "Weber" Piano was used only by the wealthy and musical aristocracy of the United States; but since the Philadelphia Exhibition, where it was first placed before the public in competition with the great makers of the world, the demand for it has been unprecedented.

The first second-hand instrument of this maker, offered at public competition in Montreal, though a square several years in use, realized $515.00. This was far above the price reached by any other piano, and shows that a good piano, like a good painting, will always command its price.
