MONTREAL MARKETS

MONTREAL. Tuesday, Nov. The markets this morning were well filled and business was active in all departments. There the markets this morning were well filled and business was active in all departments. There is a large supply of poultry, yet the demand seems to be equal to the supply, and prices are firm. The demand for pork cannot be spoken of as encouraging, as there is a large surplus now on hand. Beef is still unchanged. Vegetables are offered in liberal quantities and bring ready sales at quotations. There is a good demand for first class potatoes, but the stock offered cannot be considered first class; in fact out few lots of potatoes can be passed as "standard." Fancy grades of apples 'sell-fairly well; other kinds quiet. Choice apples, $2 25 to $3.25 per bbl; fair to good, $1.50 to $2; poor to fair, 75c to $1.50; pears, $3 to $5 per bbl; quinces, $3 to $5; crab apples $4 per bbl; Florida oranges, $4 to $4.50 per box; Jamaicas, $8 to $8.25 per brl; Louisianas, $5.50 to $6; Malaga lemons, $3 per box; bananas, 50c to $1.50 per bunch; Concord grapes, 25 to 32c per 10 lb basket; Catawbas, 15 to 32c; Malaga grapes, in 55-lb kegs, $5, is aboutline way to size up the fruit market. Eggs are in good demand for fresh laid, but last year's stock sell slow. At Point St. Charles there have been liberal arrivals of stock, and there were a number of ends hold-

In fact the markets for the past week have about held their own, which is about all that can be said. We cannot say an encouraging word for any farm product unless it is first-class. Good butter is good property the year round, but poor butter evidently has struck the "last ditch." The farmer who smiles when the markets to sell him all wool goods made. Canadian cattle growing countries, neither merchant tries to sell him all wool goods made from cotton should not complain when the mer-chant demands good butter for his table, instead of an article that causes the suap maker to look diagonally. There is no just excuse for poor butter, for live cheese, for dried beef on foot, for oak tanned pork; hence, while the laborer is worthy his hire the dollar is worth its hundred cents. We simply say this to show why there is a just depression in some of the branches of the markets. Hay and grain are in good demand at quotations.

Flour and Grain.

For the past two or three days there seems to have been more life in the Hour and grain trade, little more anxious look. Up to date the pea man has been mighty independent and has dic-tated terms, but it now looks as if the purchaser had the best end of the rope. Flour s sold mostly in small lote, the money market encouraging country merchants to stock up

Butter and Cheese,

The butter market has experienced no change of late and only small lots are called for. It is well known that there are large quantities in the country being held in the hopes that the market will soon get cleaned out, when they ex pect to drop in and dictate prices, but as yet the supply is fairly up to the demand. As to cheese there is nothing new to be said; the market bas all it can handle, and enquiries are coming in daily from holders who evidently are on the anxious seat, but they receive little, if any, encouragement. It has come to this, that nothing but the very best is wanted at any price, and then the purchaser wants to dictate terms. There is no demand for foreign shipments to speak of, and advices from Liverpool are anything but cheerful to holders. The New York market was thought to be improving but not over healthy.

To separate the leaves of charred books, cut off the backs so as to render the leaves absolutely independent from one another, then soak them, and dry them rapidly by a current of hot air. The leaves will then separate, but must, of course, be handled with extreme care.

In papering a wall for the first time it is important that after being dusted the walls be well wiped down with damp cloths, frequently cenewed, previous to applying the paper. If this prevantion be neglected the almost imperceptibly fine dust will be collected by the damp paste, giving the paper a streaked, dirty appearance, which no after treatment can efface.

Apples are coming in in large quantities, and all the markets are well stocked: in fact, the supply is fully up to the demard, and some holders appear to be getting a little anxious, still prices are easy. Despatches from over the way call for a let-up, as the markets at Glasgow and Liverprol are overstocked. Most of the apples offered are of good quality. Dried fruit is in good demand. The steamer Barcelona has just arrived from the Mediterranean with a cargo including 3,180 barrels, 2,260 half parrels and 1,350 cases currants, and 42,839 boxes from the wharf have sold at 7c, while small lots command more. Large lots of currants have changed hands at 6gc, which is now about the inside figure. Common Malaga raisins are at about $2.15, and London layers at $2.75 to $3. New figs are selling at 12c to .13c. Almeria Apples are coming in in large quantities, and treatment can efface.

A neat and handy receptacle for the soiled clothes can be made of a small sized barrel that has been well cleaned, and from which leaves the soiled that has been well cleaned, and from which leaves the soiled that has been well cleaned, and from which leaves the soiled that has been well cleaned, and from which leaves the soiled that has been well cleaned, and from the Southers Statement College. from the Southern States and California.

Fish, The fish market can be classed as fully active. The Labrador herring, which came in quite freely, is not in as good demand as was anticipated. No. 1 green cod have sold in small lots at $4 25 to $4.50, and large drafts at $4.75 to $5.

mackerel in half barrels $7. Oysters are in better demand, and sell as high as $4.00 per barrel. Lobsters retail at 9 to 10 Cattle.

The yards at Point St. Charles do not denote a very active business, and beeves sell slow, as the market seems to be well supplied. Some to be in advance of his ears; this would be a good recommend for statesmen, but for reasts and salting down purposes provespoor property. There should be more methods in the raising of There should be more methods in the raising of pork in this province and the quicker it is arought about the better for all parties concerned. In the Esserm townships and the districts north, there has been a large increase in hog raising, and there will not be as, much mess pork from Montreal as in former years, owing to more pork being cut and barrelled by country packers, and dealers here correspond to this fact by stating that buyers in certain districts, who used to order 50 barrels at this season of the year, now order only 5 to 10 bbls. A few small lots of dressed hogs received have sold at $6.25 to $6.75 per 100 lbs., as to weight and quality, but the poor hog is generally required to root for himself.

THE CATTLE MARKET.

There is one very important branch of trade which has received a serious black eye. The cattle buying business was always a risky one, but in the old days there was such a considerable difference between the prices as ourrent in the Liverpool and London markets, and what the animals could be bought for on this side, that though there might be occasional losses, but for fresh laid, but last year's stock sell slow. At Point St. Charles there have been liberal arrivals of stock, and there were a number of ends holding over. The market ruled flat, all the offerings, which included some very good 1,200-15 medium cattle, holding over. Calves are very slow of sale, with the exception of a few choice veals, which sold at $6, still the veals offered, as a rule, were not first class. We are sorry not to be able to record any improvement in the quality of the cattle, but the chorus of complaint was alike everywhere, that the market was quite choked with poor stuff. There was a tolerably fair demand for feeding steers at low prices, but with this exception there appeared to be no life in the trade at all. Good new milch cows are called for freely, but those offered do not seem to fill the bill. Although the exports of cattle for the week have been light, the season's total is still the largest on record, 61,852 head, against 60,907 in 1886, 59,692 in 1885 and 55,521 in 1884.

In fact the markets for the past week have about held their own, which is about all that the charges and the cost of handling and feed, the last handler of this lot of stock stood to lose at a moderate calculation at least $27 on each animal. This is not wast may be called not an over supply from the American and Canadian cattle growing countries, neither is it because there has been a large local eattle yield, for there has not. This year has been a poor one for the English cattle raiser, and the beeves are thin, and not fit for sale. The truth is that continental Europe is swarming with beef and the surplus is pouring into England. This keeps down prices Prime beef by the carcase can be bought in London at 4½, o in the h of at 3¼d, about the same figures which prevail in the market here. With a foreign market like this no market.

AGAINST IMPORTING UNITED STATES WHEAT.

OTTAWA, Ont., Nov. 5 .- The North-West members of Parliament are urging the Government to abolish the customs regulations which permit the importation of American wheat in bond into Canada. The grain, it appears, is brought into Carala in bond to be ground, and escaping the payment of duty in many instances, is sold here to the detriment of the wheat producers of Canada, especially of the Manitoba and North-West farmers. The intertion of the regulation is simply to permit the grinding of American wheat In Canada for export purposes, the only advantage being in the employment of Cacadian labor.

The Lindon Free Press of Tuesday says: "The market to day was large, and the Square was so full that waggens had to be backed in on about the same figures which prevail in the market here. With a fortign market like this before them, a great majority of shippers are holding off until there is an indication of a rise, while the farmers who are anxious to sell find no market.

THE GOOD HORSE. While the Canadian horse fully holds his own, it is evident that care in breeding is not as fully exercised as in the States, al hough a large number of our best horses there find a market.

Horse breeding is profitable if correctly followed and the colt should be well cared for, and there is no time when neglect is admissable. The following suggestions may be good and timely:— Never cross bloods to make a better breed of horses, and if native or cross blo d maies are horses, and if native or cross blo d mates are used breed upon one blood only. That for profitable horse breeding as a specialty the draught horse breeds will prove most profitable. That ponies can be bred with a paying profit, and that they and all intermediate strains are also good, if bred pure, and that all fancy strains had better be bred as a specialty and not as a general farm stock. That early training and good care are of the first and greatest unportance. The colt should have no fear of his owner or keeper. That the thoroughbred horse is a good one and one we cannot do without. Because he is a thoroughbred he need not necessarily be a running or trotting horse, but he can be a good is a thoroughored he need not necessarily be a running or trotting horse, but he can be a good load horse, a good saddle horse, a good carriage and buggy horse, and a good horse for small breeders to breed from. That such abominations of horse flesh that no blood can be distinguished should never be breed from, and their kind allowed to disappear from the face of the goath. lowed to disappear from the face of the earth. The Canadian horse, as a rule, has no record to fall back upon, which may be in his favor, still it is apparent that more pains should be taken in breeding. We do not believe in too much "daddyism," still a good reco.d is to be covet-

POULTRY.

When fresh eggs sell readily at our quotations and fine chickens are in good demand, the subject of poultry raising is one of no small importance. The following suggestions, which we take from the Farmers' Home Journal, may be of value to many readers of this paper: Anyway keep your poultry supplied with clean water.

Poultry yards should be on sandy soil, if possible, in order to avoid mud and slush on the ground, as roup is liable to break out in flocks that are kept on damp locations. The yards should be well drained, the surface covered with sharp, fine gravel, and cleaned off at least once every two weeks where the flock is large.

Fowls thrive best when they go to roost with their c ops well filled with some sort of dry feed, which requires considerable time to digest. In the winter, just before the chickens go to roost, give them all they will eat of corn and wheat.

Build a warm place for your fowls, they will GAME AND FOULTEY.

produce enough eggs in one winter to pay the entire expense and will not require a third as Chickens, per pair. 0.25 0.45 much food.

Kerosene (coal oil) is of great help in the proper care of poultry. Their nest boxes should be oiled with it as a preventive of vermin. A few drops occasionally in the drinking water will hander colds or roup, and when applied to scaly legs it effects a cure, while it is highly recommended as a cure for cholers. Just here we would say that more pains should be exercised in the case of poultry. An experienced poultryman thinks the essential cause of failure in so many of the attempts to keep fowls in large numbers is due to the lack of care. The farmer will rise at 4 o'clock in the morning to in large numbers is due to the lack of care. The farmer will rise at 4 o'clock in the morning to feed and milk the cows, will carefully clean out the stalls and prepare the beds for his cows, and this work will not end till late, but he will not do so much for the hens. Yet the hens will pay, when properly cared for, five times as much profit, in proportion to labor and capital invested, as the cows: This last statement is broad, but the figures, substantiate it. The little country over the border, which we purpose to annex to Canada, some day, it is estimated will derive this season from its dairies $480,000,000. Yet, in one year the income from poultry there has alone been $500,000,000, while the cotton fields did not produce over $400,000 000. $400,000 000.

The Plattsburgh, N. Y., Republican says:
"The potato crop has been a great one this fall.
One firm have already bought and shipped about 75,000 bushels, and other parties 25,000 bushels, one small town raising 150,000 bushels. The prices paid have ranged from 50 to 60 control per bushel, choice Burbanks being rated the highest. The peachblow, which used to be considered the best, is nearly run out."
