

“Material” means any of the material listed in Annex A to this Agreement;

“Nuclear Material” means any “source material” or “special fissionable material” as those terms are defined in Article XX of the Statute of the IAEA, as amended and accepted by both Parties in writing;

“Person” shall mean any natural person or legal entity subject to the territorial jurisdiction of either Party but does not include the Parties;

“Production” shall mean all production phases such as construction, production engineering, manufacture, integration, assembly (mounting) inspection, testing, and quality assurance;

“Technology” means the specific information necessary for the “development”, “production” or “use” of items such as material, nuclear material and equipment with the exception of data “In the public domain” or of “Basic scientific research”;

“Use” shall mean operation, installation (including on-site installation) maintenance, repairs, overhaul and refurbishing.

ARTICLE 2

Objective and Scope

1. In terms of the provisions of this Agreement, the Parties agree to cooperate in the use of nuclear energy for peaceful and non-explosive purposes, in good faith and with due regard for the principles of international law.
2. Nothing in this Agreement will affect the rights and obligations of the Parties in terms of their respective national laws and policies, as well as in terms of their membership of international treaties to which they are a party at the time of the signing of this Agreement.
3. The Parties may promote cooperation in the following areas:
 - Basic and applied research regarding peaceful uses of nuclear energy;