Question No. 264—Mr. Mifflin:

In consideration of all national defence expenditures in Canada, what is the per capita expenditure by province and territory for each of the years 1980 to 1992?

Hon. Marcel Masse (Minister of National Defence): Information requested has been provided in response to Question No. 238 answered this day.

Figures are unavailable for 1991–92 as the fiscal year is not yet complete.

ALLOTTED DAY, S. O. 81—COURT CHALLENGES PROGRAM

Mr. Jean-Robert Gauthier (Ottawa—Vanier) moved:

That this House call upon the government to restore the Court Challenges Program.

He said: Mr. Speaker, the motion is simple and straightforward and, I believe, makes it incumbent on the House to consider this matter.

Since 1978, the Court Challenges Program has made it possible for a number of private citizens and minority groups to have their constitutional rights clarified before the courts. Supported over the years by all political parties, the program has been an essential factor in the constitutional development of language rights. I am thinking of section 133 of the Constitution Act, 1867, section 23 of the Manitoba Act, 1870; and since 1982 the Charter of Rights and Freedoms and sections 16 to 23 on matters that are vital to this country, section 15 on equality rights, section 27 on multicultural heritage, and, finally, the equality of men and women, as guaranteed under section 28.
