OTTAWA HOLDS UP FLOUR FUK GREECE

oment From Kenora to Salonika Stopped as Contraband of War.

By a Staff Reporter.

OTTAWA, Ont. Feb. 3.—The customs department was notified today that seven carloads of high-grade Canadian flour consigned from Kenora Ontario, to Salonika, Greece, via New York, had been held up at Niagras Falls as contraband of war. Greece being a neutral country a ruling by the department was asked for. The reply of the department is that since October 29 last, when an order in council was passed dealing with the question, the exportation of contraband of war from Canada to all oreign ports in Europe and on the Mediterranean and Black seas, with the exception of those of France, Russia, except the Baltic ports, Spain and Portugal is prohibited. When the order in council was passed food was not a contraband of war, but now that it is so, the customs department except. is so the customs department expects that there will be a good deal of trouble until shippers thereby understand the conditions. The difficulty is that in case of such a country as Greece there is no guarantee that food consigned from Canada to a Grecian port will not find its way into Germany, Austria or Turkey.

EAST ELGIN FISHERS SEEK LARGER FIELDS

Urge Minister of Public Works to Give Them Greater Scope.

Gill net fishermen of East Eigin waited in a strong body upon Hon. Findlay M. cdiarmid yesterday afternoon to ask that the whole extent of Canadian waters be thrown open to their operations. Whereas now they possess only the right to exploit the waters of Lake Erie lying directly off their shores, they desire to expand both east and west and build up their industry.

In claiming this right they pointed out that a pound net fisherman held the privileges to left and right of them, but that American gill net men were coming over constantly and reaping a rich harvest in fields denied to them.

In view of the strong representation made last week by the pound-netters it is unlikely that their request will be granted this year. By way of further protest another gill net deputation will approach the minister on Thursday.

There was an overflowing audience yesterday afternoon at the twilight musicale of the Women's Art Association, when Mrs. Angus Sinclair was the hostess and Mr. H. B. Anderson arranged the program. Mr. Arthur George, who has lately returned from Italy, charmed everyone with his beautiful voice and Miss Gladys Seward, who has also recently returned from studying abroad, made a great impression with her exquisite plaving. The others contributing to the program are old favorites. They were Miss Marjorie Gray, Miss Jean Hunter, M.S. Gladys Jones and Mr. Arnold Davison. That the accompaniments were in perfect accord goes without saying when Mrs. H. M. Blight's name concludes the program. A few of the large number present included the following: The president, Mrs. Frederick Mercer. Mrs. D gnam, Mrs. Graham, Mrs. E.Lott, Mrs. Charles Sheard, Mrs. R. S. CIRCULATING OF DOMINION NOTES appears in The Financial Post of Jan.

Government Found Itself in Peculiar Position Last

30. It will be recalled that according to the government's financial statement for December Dominion notes, were outstanding at the end of the year to the amount of $3.0,00,000 in excess of the limitations imposed by the Dominion Notes Act. It was taken in the considerable part of the excess circulation could be accounted for by the issue of national currency by way of loan to chartered banks against the excess issue not accounted for by lands to the banks and the case issue could not thus be accounted for the plant of the excess issue not accounted for by lands to the banks does not exceed $25,000,000, and that $10,000,000 of this went to pay extraordinary expenses of the government for which in ordinary times treasury bills would have been issued. Fifteen millions, it is said, went to the Grand Trunk Facific and the Canadian Northern by way of load against their government guaranteed bonds. The Post says:

The government found itself in a peculiar position last fall. The Canadian railreads had made arrangements to finance when the war broke out. Both the C. N. R. and the G. T. P. had completed arrangements for bond is sues. The C. N. R. had actually sold $15,000,000 bonds on the London market. Owing to the moretorium, it could not get the money. The G. T. P. was in the same position. Emergency financial legislation had been passed at the August war session of parliament which permitted the government to make advances to banks on the deposit of approved securities. The railroads might have secured their money in this manner, and it has been the seneral opinion that money was so advanced. The students of the Royal College of Dental Surgeons have issued invitations to their annual at home on Friday evening at 2 o'clock in the Metropolitan. 30. It will be recalled that according
