CIVIC CAR LINES ARE AGAIN DELAYED

Clair avenue fill was dilated upon again. Ald. Graham moved that as the broken culvert had been recon-structed as well as reinforced, and that it was now able to properly withstand exceptional pressure, that the idea of erecting an $80,000 bridge across the fill should be dispensed with, and that the car tracks be rushed across the fill with all possible speed.

"The residents at the northerly limits of the city should have a service before Christmas." he declared, "but if you wait until the bridge is erected. the people there will have become dis-gusted. The culvert is of st licient dimensions to carry away all ice, etc., at the spring freshet, and no damage Controller Maguire was surprised at such statements, and said that Sir Henry Pellatt and B. J. Fleming would claim damages that would exceed the cost of constructing a bridge.

Wants An Estimate

Ald. Spence wanted an estimate of the probable damages obtained, before the matter was further dealt with, which is the course which will be taken.

The council granted Commissioner Harris permission to employ a purchasing agent for the department of works at a salary of $2500.

Joins Colleagues of Montreal Harbor Board in Surrendering Joys of Office.

MONTREAL, Oct. 22 .- (Can. Press) -It was learned today on positive thority that Major George Washington Stephens, chairman of the harbor cioners, has tendered his resignation to the minister of marine and fisheries, Hon. J. D. Hazen.
Interviewed, Major Stephens refused to make any statement whatever. "I have nothing to say for publication," The announcement of Major Stephens' resignation from the Montreal Harbor Board comes as a surprise to all who are interested in the Port of Montreal.

Should the resignation which Major Stephens is understood to have made be accepted, it is probable that it will take effect at practically the same time as those of Messrs. C. C. Ballantyne and L. E. Geoffrion.

tional spirit and predicted the country would be the great country he wished to see it. He was happy to see sitting next him a distinguished English statesman. He believed he was expressing the general feeling in saying they were only too pleased to see amongst them those who had done great service to the state. One and all in the Dominion were gradually being welded into true Capadianism and they should strenuously set themselves to harmonize the different faces to make one Canadian people. He was glad to see a number of old soldiers of the empire of good character and who had learned discipline, settling in Canada and doing well. There were almost more in Ganada than in England. Some knew him personally and others knew him better than he knew them (laughter), but they were all imbued with the idea of doing well. He commended the boy seout movement, which he did not think was controversial. It was a great educational movement and would improve the physique and the good conduct of the boys. He had given twenty certificates for boys who had sacrificed their lives to save their fellows since he came to Canada. He took interest in the boys as chief scout for Canada.

He concluded by speaking of the good influence of the Canadian clubs and his pleasure in coming among them to meet men of all professions, of all shades of politics and of all religions.
