Joie Ray Makes New A. A. U. Mile Record

Philadelphia, Sept. 13.—The New York Athletic Club won the annual senior track and field championship of the National Amateur Athletic Union on Franklin Field here today with a team score of 46 points. The Chicago A.C. was second with 40 points, and the Illinois A.C. third with 26. Fourth place went to the Boston A.A. with 21.

Two National A.A.U. records were broken. In the one mile run Joie Ray of the Illinois A.C. bettered his own record of 4 minutes 18 2-5 seconds, by 4 seconds. Eddie Fall of the Chicago A.A., who finished second to Ray, five yards behind, also broke the former mark. Fall's time was 4 minutes 15 seconds. The other new record was established in the running high jump. In this event John Murphy of the Multnomah A.A.C. of Portland, Oregon, cleared the bar at 6 feet 3 3-16 inches, beating the former mark by 3-16 of an inch.

While the team showing of the New York A.C. was the feature of the meet, the work of Joie Ray bordered on the sensational. Following his victory in the mile, he came back and won the half-mile, 1.56, only two seconds behind the national A.A.U. record. Later he ran anchor on the Illinois A.C. four-mile relay, which team won first place. His time in this race was 4.34.

There were three other double winners. P. G. Smart of the Chicago A.A. won the running broad jump and the 440-yard hurdles; Pat McDonald of the New York A.C. won the 16-pound shot put and the 56-pound weight thrown for distance, while Bob Simpson of the Illinois A.C. broke the tape in the 120 yard high hurdles and the 220 yard low hurdles.

In the course of the meet eleven champions were dethroned. Those who competed today and lost their titles are: Earl Thompson, in the 120 yard high hurdles; C. Hause, 440 yard hurdles; Richard F. Remer, 3 mile walk; C. Buck, pole vault; Matt McGrath, 16 pound hammer and 56 pound weight throw; D. Pollizer, running broad jump; D. F. Shearn, hop, step and jump; Loren Murchinson, 220 yard dash; Jo Loomis, 220 yard hurdles, and E. Muller, discus throw.

ELIZABETH BOYS WIN PLAYGROUND HONORS

Several Annual Track and Field Championships at Exhibition Park.

City Playgrounds held their seventh annual track championships at Exhibition Park on Saturday afternoon with 156 girls and 227 boys entered in the 38 contests. There was not a large crowd but the contestants and those who were there made up in enthusiasm. Elizabeth won the boys' championship with 32 points, aving McCormick a very close second with 27 points. Leslie Grove won the girls' championship with 14 points, and St. Andrew's were second with one point less, or 13 points.

Five boys' records were broken and two girls'. A Proctor, Earlscourt, in the intermediate 115 section, clipped 4⅘ seconds from the 440, making 56 2-5 secs. Chapman and Beare, Strathcona, lowered the record of the juvenile potato race from 13 secs. to 12 secs. Greig and Sharpen, East Riverdale, took 1-5 secs. from the old record of 13 secs. J. Silvera, Roden, ran the one mile, under twenty years of age, in 5 min. 22 1-5 secs. The old record was 5 mins. 27 secs. McCormick junior relay boys lowered the old record of 56 4-5 secs. to 55 2-5 secs. In the girls' section, Dolly Henderson ran the 75 yards juvenile race in 10 secs. or 1-5 secs lower than the previous record. Mildred Bergen, Leslie Grove, ran the uvenile 75 yards race in 1-5 secs. less than the old record of 10 3-5 secs.

High Park, Parkdale and Oakland Clubs notified the secretary that tournament or interclub competitions prevented their taking part in the East and West match, but that they were contributing their entry fees in order to support the charities which benefit by this annual event.

Uncle Wiggily and the Toddle Bug

BY HOWARD R. GARIS.

Copyright, 1919, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

One day, when Uncle Wiggily was hopping along thru the woods not far from his hollow stump bungalow, thinking whether it was time to twinkle his pink nose, he heard some voices in the bushes.

"Go on now, jump! Jump right over his head!" cried one voice.

"Yes, and if you can't jump over his head, jump on it!" spoke a second voice.

"Oh, my goodness me, sakes alive and some lollypop caramels!" thought Uncle Wiggily, looking around for a place to hide. "That must be either the Skeezicks or the Pipsisewah after me, and they want to jump on my head! Oh, dear!"

The bunny rabbit gentleman was just going to crawl into a hole which he saw in a log, when, all at once, he heard a laugh and another voice said:

"There now! Look at Uncle Wiggily. Show him how well you can jump, little Croko!"

"Hum! That doesn't sound like the Pip or the Skee," thought Uncle Wiggily, turning around. And as he did so he saw Bully and Bawly No-Tail, the two froggie boys, and with them a little frog chap about half grown.

"Hello, Uncle Wiggily!" croaked Bully and Bawly.

"Hello," answered the rabbit gentleman. "I thought you were someone else. What's going on, and who is your little frog friend?"

"Oh, that's our baby brother, named Croko," answered Bully.

"Croko! What a nice, funny name!" laughed Uncle Wiggily.

"Mother was going to call him Croquet, after the game we once played with you," said Bawly. "But he gave a funny little croak, when he was eating some lily-pad soup one day, and since then we call him Croko."

"But he can't jump," added Bully. "That's what we're trying to teach him now—to jump as we do. Only he's afraid."

"What's he afraid of?" asked Uncle Wiggily.

"Oh, I don't know—just because," answered Croko for himself. "I never jumped before."

"And you never will unless you try," said Uncle Wiggily. "It's like a little bird learning to fly, or a little boy or girl learning to walk. They have to make a start some time. Come on, now, I'll help you."

But, tho the bunny rabbit gentleman helped, and the Bully and Bawly did some of their best jumping, Croko was afraid to hop along as all frogs should.

"I don't want to," he said.

"Don't be afraid," softly said Uncle Wiggily. "Just now I heard your brothers saying something about jumping over someone's head."

"I was telling him to jump over Bully's head, or on mine," spoke Bawly.

"Yes, and you can jump on my head if you want to," said the rabbit gentleman with a twinkle of his pink nose.

But still Croko was afraid.

"I'm sure I don't know what we are going to do," said Uncle Wiggily. "Would you like to go to the hollow stump school, and have the lady mouse teacher show you how to jump, Croko?"

"Oh, no!" answered the little frog boy. "Maybe I'll jump all by myself after a while."

"But it takes you so long to get started," spoke the bunny rabbit. "Now if you will only——"

"Oh, ho! Is anything the matter there?" suddenly asked a very small voice.

"Well, nothing very much is the matter," answered Mr. Longears.

"We are only trying to teach my little brother, Croko, how to jump," spoke Bully.

"But he's afraid," added Bawly.

"Why, he shouldn't be afraid," went on the little voice. "Look at me, how small I am, and yet I dare walk across a spider's web just as the man in the circus walks on a wire in the tent. Look!"

And then, across a cobweb which stretched from one tree to another in the woods, walked a tiny little insect.

"Who are you?" asked Uncle Wiggily.

"I am the Toddle Bug," was the answer. "When I was very little I could only toddle—you know, sort of stand up and fall down, and creep along and pull myself by bits of twigs and leaves. Once I could only toddle, but now I can walk across a spider's web."

"Isn't he brave?" said Uncle Wiggily, not looking at Croko, but sort of speaking toward him.

"And so little, too," added Bully. "He's real smart."

"I wouldn't dare walk on a spider's web, even if I can jump," said Bawly.

And then the Toddle Bug walked back and forth on the thin swaying spider's web. And he was such a tiny chap, yet not a bit afraid, and he was so smart that Croko suddenly said:

"Well, if a Toddle Bug can walk thru the air above the ground on a cobweb, I just guess I can jump over your head, Bully. It isn't half so high!"

Then Croko gave a hop, skip and a jump, and thru the air he sailed, from one hump of moss to another.

"There you go!" cried Uncle Wiggily. "Now you are a regular frog, for you have learned to jump!"

"The Toddle Bug helped me," said Croko. And ever since then frogs have been good jumpers. And if the rice pudding doesn't take the oatmeal jam away from the bread and butter when they go to the moving pictures with the lollypop, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and Nappy's bone.

TORONTO HUNT HOLDS SUCCESSFUL OPENING RUN

The Toronto Hunt opened the season of 1919 with a most successful meet on Saturday afternoon. The hounds met at Sunnybrook Farm, which is looking so attractive just now. The master, Mr. Geo. W. Beardmore, was an early arrival, and as usual had a "cheerio" for everybody. Major and Mrs. Kilgour received their guests in the paddock. Many enthusiasts who do not ride, motored out. Col. Vaux Chadwick, who has not seen a meet of the Toronto pack since 1914, was present, wearing his hunting smile, but unfortunately not in the saddle. Others who motored were Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Dixon, who are invariably present when the hounds meet; Mr. J. H. Plummer, who brought his daughter, Mrs. Lynn Plummer; Mrs. Dyment, Col. and Mrs. S. Smith, Acton Fleming, Irving Smith, Mrs. Fletcher, Harry Sifton, Mr. and Mrs. Grant, Major and Mrs. Kilgour also motored their party by road from check to check. Amongst those in the saddle were The Master on Flashlight; Frank roctor, on Greek Patriot; Stuart Macfarlane, on Singletime; Capt. Wilson, on Pardon; R. Laidlaw, on Pilot; A. Swan, on Susan; Gordon Wills, on Fergus; Capt. Lynn Plummer, on Dandy, who said his mount gave him more strenuous exercise than any P.T. in the army; Lyall Scott, on Beverly; Dr. C. Temple, on Sunshine; Fred English, on Birthmark; Geo. Harvey, on Sunbeam; Willy Wilson, on Burlington; Texy Wilson, on Bee Hive; Bryant McColl, on Jim O; Mr. Foster, on Sir Adam; A. Ivey, on Bombardier; Gordon Taylor, on Woodbine; Col. D. King Smith on his new mount, Geo. Longbridge.

The fair sex were well represented by Mrs. Forgie, on The Jap (both by the way about the same age); Beulah Wilson, on Cannie Jean; Dorothy Cassels, on Maid Millar; Eileen Carpenter, on Marquis; and Marie Carpenter, on Signal.

Many were the comments on how well they all rode, no fences were too high for them. With the usual number of grooms there were in all some 35 in the saddle.

The run was north and east, four checks finishing at Thorncliffe Farm. There was only one fall, when Mr. Elliott Maxwell came a nasty cropper. The results fortunately were not serious, a number of bruises, several small cuts, and a dislocated thumb. He was able to remount and ride home. The next meet will be on Tuesday afternoon, September 16, at the Fairbank Hotel at 3 o'clock.

Leafs Sign Frank O'Rourke And Disband at Rochester

President McCaffery went over to Rochester and saw the Leafs disband after the Sunday game. He wired home that he had signed Frank O'Rourke, the hard-hitting and capable shortstop of Binghamton for next year. Outside Sandberg and Hubbell, the rest will all be back again.

In the finals of the midget series of the Holy Name League, Holy Names, of the eastern district, defeated St. Claire's of the western district, 8 to 6. Batteries: Kirby and Starr; Teddy and Reynolds.

VICTORIA TEAM WINS LACROSSE CHAMPIONSHIP

Winnipeg, Sept. 14.—The amateur lacrosse championship of the world remains at the coast. The Victoria team decisively defeated Winnipegs, 17 to 7, in the final game of the championship tourney here Saturday afternoon, and retained the honors. The game was much harder fought than the score would indicate, but the visitors had the finish and simply ran away from the locals in the last two periods of play. 'Pegs had a good share of the play in the early stages, and at half-time were out of luck to be down, 9 to 5, but they wilted badly before the fast attack of the visitors in the closing periods.

RUGBY GOSSIP.

The Parkdale Canoe Club on Saturday elected H. Weismiller manager of their junior O. R. F. U. team, which will be coached by C. Gage and H. Gall. They hold their first practice tonight at 6.

The Capitals have called a practice for tonight.
