The Canadian Patriotic Fund gives a badge, in the form of a button, to every man who returns from the front, honorably discharged. At Quebec these men are met by agents of the fund, who investigate each case and send forward to the branch in the town to which the soldier is going his record from the medical, the financial and the military authorities. If these are found satisfactory, the badge is issued.

It is an interesting fact that these badges have been found to be more valued by the holders than any other sound in Canada, for the simple reason that they mark the man, and only the man, who has actually been in the bring line.

SUNDAY SCHOOL PUPILS PRESENT PRETTY PLAYLET The children of St. John the Evangelist Sunday school held their annual Christmas entertainment on Tuesday evening, a very large audience turning out for the occasion. Songs and recitations were given by the scholars. A delightful playlet entitled "Santa Claus Junior" was also staged by the scholars, all the children taking their parts to perfection. Miss F. Woolley and N. F. Willmot had charge of the play. During the evening Miss F. Woolley was presented with a handsome silver mesh bag, and N. F. Willmot with a very handsome hymn book, the gift of the teachers and officers of the Sunday Sunday school. The presentation was made by Mr. Linley on behalf of the teaching staff of the Sunday school.

Girls who are inclined to flirt will see in "Black Orchids" a beautiful Bluebird photoplay, to be exhibited at the Lyric Theatre on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, the possible outcome of their unmaidenly conduct. Zoraida was the worst type of a flirt—a beautiful wretch who enthralled men with her grace and charm, and then cast them ruthlessly aside. For years she indulged herself thus, and sorrow untold resulted in her heartless disregard for her hapless victims. But she jilted just one man too many—the worm turned, and Zoraida paid with her own life the penalty of her folly. Clee Madison, one of the most beautiful and talented actresses upon the screen, will play the stellar roe in "Black Orchids," and those who recall her triumph in a recent Bluebird, "The Chalice of Sorrow," need hardly be assured that Miss Madison's emotional talents will result in artistic screen accomplishments.
