Autumn Garments

The stock of Suits we are showing includes all the prescribed styles for autumn, in cut, materials, trimmings, etc., etc. They also bear the stamp of smartness conferred by their New York origin. Another good feature—the prices are adjustable to everyone's circumstances, ranging $16.50 to $65.00.

In the Coat and Cloak Section our display is adaptable to every purpose of wear. The Sturdy Tweeds and Heavy Cloths, in Blacks and all Colors for general wear, and the Rich Velvet, Silk and Satin Garments for state occasions.

Through the whole stock the matter of price has received careful consideration, giving the purchaser the best value obtainable anywhere.

THE WEATHER

Yesterday was one of those days that restored hope. Starting off with the first battalion of "hard workers" on the early cars, the day opened up smiling and cheerful. The sky had gotten back to the natural complexion blue all over with the exception of those talcum powder effects here and there. The sun appeared to relish the fact that he could take a day off and come back again without anybody asking provoking questions.

There was nothing to mar the beauty of the day at any hour of it, and the only thing that marred the pleasure of about 25,000 young folks was the fact that they couldn't get out for a long walk thru the beauteous High Park, where the leaves are just beginning to don their most bewitching fall attire.

It was a fall day—a genuine fall It was a fall day—a genuine fall day—and we hope for many more like them.

TRAVELLING RUGS,

WRAP SHAWLS, ETC.

This department has always been a leader with us, and there is constantly on view a really grand display of beautiful, soft, warm Traveling Rugs. A large number of the Scottish Clan and Family Tartans are shown in these. The prices range from a very moderate figure to fairly high, but the values throughout are right.

The showing of SHAWLS of all kinds, WOOL AND SILK, WOVEN AND KNIT, is so full that there is nothing in this line we cannot supply.

Lake Superior — Strong winds or moderate gales from southeasterly to southwesterly; showers by night.

Manitoba and Saskatchewan — Fair and cooler. The hearty endorsation our Dress Goods and Making-up Departments have received this season shows that we are assuredly on the right track with regard to the successful co-working of these branches of the business. Many of the Dress Patterns we show are confined to ourselves for Canada, and will not be seen elsewhere, thus safeguarding against commonness.

Poems and Sketches With Illustrations By FREDERICK SIMPSON COBURN. This posthumous work of Dr. Drummond's abounds in the quaint French-Canadian humor and sentiment which made his previous works, "The Habitant," "The Voyager" and "Johnnie Courteau," so popular in Canada. It breathes that devotion to sport and love of life in the open air which, together, have drawn to Dr. Drummond's works a large circle of devoted and appreciative readers.
