A BOARD OF CONTROL

The Montreal city council's committee on legislation, by a vote of seven to four, at a meeting last week, adopted a resolution which "approved of the principle of the establishment of a board of control for the city, and authorized the city attorneys to prepare a clause empowering the city to establish such a board."

This was adopted as a compromise, in place of a motion, "to the effect that a clause be inserted in the city charter empowering the city to establish a board of control, to consist of three persons, to be elected by the council, to receive a fixed salary of not less than $5,000 a year each, to be appointed for a term of years, and to take charge of such part of the city's affairs as might be entrusted to them by the council."

"In the discussion one speaker said: 'In Toronto there is a board of five, elected by the whole city, and it costs each one of them $3,000 a year each, and their salary is $2,500 a year each. The mayor is the chairman of the board, and they are elected every year by all the citizens.'"

There was considerable discussion and difference of opinion on the question whether the members of the board should be elected by the city council from its members, or by the people. But it was agreed that each member of the board should give his whole time to the city's affairs. Finally the committee contented itself with affirming the principle of a board of control. This will be considered by the full council.

AMERICAN SHIPPING

The Washington correspondent of the New York Journal of Commerce believes that congress will adopt a modified ship subsidy bill, to encourage the development of United States shipping. He says: "Chance now favors the early enactment of a ship subsidy bill by congress. The matter has already been seriously discussed between some of the leading members of the house and Speaker Cannon with a view to some definite understanding as to the position of the latter. According to the best information, the speaker declines to take a definite position that will absolutely bind him, although the impression produced by his attitude is that he is still antagonistic to the plan. It is considered very singular that, in spite of this attitude on the part of the speaker, subsidy men continue to maintain that matters have been fully arranged and that the subsidy bill, in some form, will go through congress shortly after the holidays, if not before. In explanation of this peculiarity, it is now alleged that a modification of the subsidy bill will be pushed forward shortly after the assembling of congress, and that the speaker will find himself able to assent to this new plan on the ground that it is radically different from the old one. Then the bill will be rapidly run through the house as a substitute for the pending ship subsidy measure. From the house it will go quickly to the senate, where it will find ready acceptance at the hands of that subsidy-loving body. This, of course, is a plan and a prediction merely, but it is what subsidy men are now counting on, and their opponents are arranging to resist."

The great growth of business in the City of Toronto is indicated by the following paragraph from the News of that city:—

"Tremendous advances have been made every month in the business transacted by the Toronto Clearing House, which indicates that, if the present ratio is maintained in December, the increase for 1906 is calculated to be over one hundred and fifty millions in excess of last year. The month of November now closing has been the largest on record. Clearances have amounted to $126,591,219, being an average of $4,888,000 for every working day. During the eleven months of the present year the clearances have aggregated $1,159,374,384, an advance of $132,363,573 over the corresponding period in 1905. The expectation is that the total for the year 1906 will reach over $1,200,000,000, as compared with $1,047,490,701 for last year. The increase for 1906 will thus be $152,509,299, or say, $12,290,000 per month."

As was to be expected, President Roosevelt's message relative to the Japanese, has evoked a storm of angry protest in California, with threats of a violent disregard for federal authority. The country at large, however, will endorse the stand he has taken, even if it be felt that he might have expressed his purpose in more conciliatory terms. The president evidently felt that this was not a time for half measures, and he is not the man to hesitate when he feels that something should be said or done.

The discussion in the senate yesterday, following Senator Ferguson's statement of the heartless conduct of marine and railway officials on P. E. Island when the crew of a wrecked Norwegian bark were being one by one swept into the sea, should lead to greater vigilance and effort on the part of such officials, and also to the establishment of a better system of life-saving stations along the Canadian coast.

The cosmopolitan character of the population of Winnipeg is indicated by the following paragraph from the Free Press:—"At the sitting of the appeal court yesterday, A. Haggart, K. C., the president of the Law Society, presented to the bar E. R. Levinson, from Western Australia, and B. D. McDonald, from Nova Scotia, who were sworn in and signed the roll of barristers."

The British school teachers will not find technical education as well provided for in Canada as it should be, or as it will be within the next few years. The people and the governments are but now waking up to a moving sense of the importance of technical training as a part of the general educational system.

The awful experience of the crew of the schooner Emma A. Harvey, ending so tragically in the death of the captain and one seaman, on the Digby shore in Tuesday's storm, brings home to readers of the newspapers a pathetic sense of the hardships and danger of winter seafaring along these coasts.

The general manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia has followed his recent plea for independent inspection of Canadian banks by engaging two expert chartered accountants to verify the statements of his own bank. The example is a good one.

Returns brought down in parliament yesterday show that Sir Wilfrid Laurier's dream of the time when every pound of Canadian freight shall pass through Canadian channels has not yet been realized; but we are making steady progress in that direction.

Four Moncton liquor sellers have been taken to jail, and several others are on the anxious seat. Continued enforcement of the law would make Moncton a dry town.

An Ottawa despatch says:—"It is understood that ex-Premier Ross of Ontario has been offered and will accept a seat in the senate."

TORONTO SEES TURN OF TIDE

Cobalts Are Now Firmer in That Market—English Paper Advises British Investors to Give Cobalt a Wide Berth.

TORONTO, Dec. 5 (Special).—It looks as if the tide had begun to turn. The sensational drops in Nipissing resulted in a corresponding fall in other properties. Today's quotations show a firmer tone all round. The sales on the curb involved 5,700 shares of Foster and 4,100 shares of Silver Queen, while Standard Exchange dealt in 1,200 and 900 shares respectively during Monday and Tuesday's boards. A lot of prospective profits have been wiped out, but from outside appearances it does not seem that many people about town have sustained much loss in real money. If things are now on the mend, the pleasant picture of watching the profits mount up will be revived.

MONTREAL, Dec. 5 (Special).—A London cable says:—"The Scotsman's London correspondent has a lengthy reference to the recent 'strenuous efforts to inoculate the London market with the fever of speculation for shares of Cobalt mining ventures,' and the action of the Guggenheims in refusing to carry out their purchase of four hundred thousand shares of Nipissing mine. The Scotsman remarks that the signals are ominous and British investors will, if wise, give Cobalt ventures a wide berth."

A BARGE BURNED IN LAKE ONTARIO

BELLEVILLE, Dec. 5.—(Special).—At noon today a telegraphic message was received from Captain Smith of Picton, where he and the crew of the mining steam barge Hixox arrived this morning. The Hixox took fire on Sunday night at 10 o'clock in Lake Ontario and after much difficulty was beached on Main Duck, near the end of the Prince Edward shore. All the crew took to the yawl and reached the shore. They then drove to Privy's Cove, and from there drove to Picton. The vessel is a total loss, as well as the cargo. Both are insured.

The I. C. R. men, who have hitherto had to go monthly to the Bank of Montreal to be paid, will in future receive their monthly salary in the ticket office in the I. C. R. depot, where a Bank of Montreal man will bring the funds there.

FOR THE NIGHT COMETH

Across the dial-plate, where sleeps
A lizard, drunken with the light,
An overhanging shadow creeps,
The outstretched finger of the night,
Unmolested, unimpeded, around the base
The high grass, springing, the mule's towers,
Hanging the legend on the face
"I cannot count in shades or showers."

A friend of sunny times alone,
It held no love for darker days;
When clouds across the sun are blown,
It swung for the warming rays.
It basked gray-stones in the light,
Content beneath the sun's full powers;
Above, the legend reads aright,
"I Number but the Sunny Hours."

But carved beneath, another line
Crossed its short message to mankind,
Half hid beneath the rank woodbine
To eyes that see and yet are blind.
Out of the wilderness, unheard,
It came through winter-time and June,
Shouting to all to wake and stir:
"Man, seize the hour while yet 'tis soon."

Like bugs in the dead of night
The high call started, and the heart
Lungs, as a bark to meet the light,
Eager to do its promised part.
"Eager to do its promised part,"
Would thou and stamp the instant boon;
Hast thou not seen the night come down,
"The well the Time; the Night comes down."
—John Williams Brotherton, in Harper's Weekly.

SOMETHING TO TALK ABOUT.
"O! yes, he's one of the most interesting characters in the well set."
"How utterly ridiculous! Way he has practically no character at all!"
"Quite so. The more contemptible the character the more interesting it is to the well set."

"Pop!"
"Yes, my son."
"Do you believe that the world is getting better?"
"Yes, I do, my boy."
"That's because you are getting older, pop!"
