SAYS ST. JOHN BOYS IN FIRST CONTINGENT SEEM TO BE FORGOTTEN

No. Receiving Anything in The Way of Comforts From The Home Town

A suggestion that steps might be taken to keep in mind the St. John men who went over with the 12th Battalion in the first contingent, and who went to the front at reinforcements for other battalions is given in a letter from Private Fred Edwards, now with the 15th Battalion (4th Highlanders). Edwards says he needs nothing for himself, as his father, to whom the letter is addressed, looks after his comfort, but says there are at least twenty St. John men in his own battalion, to say nothing of the others scattered elsewhere, who never receive from their home town any of the little comforts which go so far towards brightening the life of men in the trenches. Portions of the letter are as follows:
 "We came out of the trenches last night and are in a rest camp for a few days. We have pretty good times when we are out of the trenches, we have all games every day and concerts nearly every night, and they are fine. We have a dandy ball team and best pretty well every team we play.
 "Do you know, Dad, I have often wondered if the people of St. John have forgotten the boys who left with the first contingent, because they never seem to think of them when they have anything to send to the troops. It is all sent to the second contingent in England, and the boys of the first, who are scattered among the different battalions at the front get nothing. It is not that I want anything, for I get all I want from you at home, but I know of at least twenty St. John boys who have not received a single thing from St. John since they left. In fact there has not been a single thing sent to any of the boys who first left St. John by any of the societies, as far as I know, except some chocolates at Christmas, while the 20th have all they want sent to them for the asking.
 "I think it is a shame the way they have been forgotten, just because they have been broken up and scattered among the different battalions."

SUPERINTENDENT WOODS OF MUNICIPAL HOME PASSES AWAY

In Other Days Prominent in Athletics and in the Polymorphian Club

The many friends of Edward C. Woods, for many years superintendent of the St. John Municipal Home, will learn with regret of his death, which occurred at an early hour this morning. In early life Mr. Woods was one of the best known athletes in the city. He was a splendid specimen of physical strength, and excelled in many sports. For many years he was a member of the crack four-oared crew of the Neptune rowing club. Other members of this crew were J. McKelvey of H. M. Customs; Albert A. Winchester, superintendent of streets, and the late Dr. DeVeber. Mr. Woods was also an active member of the famous Polymorphian Club, which led in the celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of the landing of the Loyalists, in 1883. On this occasion he was chosen, on account of his fine physique, to be the Indian Chief who, at the head of his tribe, welcomed the exiled Loyalists to their forest-clad homes.

Mr. Woods was in every sense of the word a "good comrade." His heart was as big as his body. He was at the same time a man of excellent executive ability. Called at a very early age, on the death of his uncle, William Cunningham, to fill the difficult and responsible position of superintendent of the Municipal Home, he has discharged the duties which devolved upon him with marked ability and fidelity. Everything connected with the management of the institution down to the compounding of the doctor's prescriptions passed under his hands. He had the satisfaction of seeing the institution develop under the progressive policy of the commissioners into one of the best conducted municipal homes in the dominion. The duties of his position of late confined his attention largely to the work of the institution. His kindly nature nevertheless made him always a welcome member of any society which he was a member of. In addition to the athletic organizations with which in early life he was connected, he belonged to several other societies, and was a member of Albion Lodge of the Masonic fraternity. He leaves his wife, three sons and one daughter to mourn his loss. The sons are: E. Lorraine, Gordon D., and Douglas B., and the daughter, Miss Annie G. Two brothers and one sister also survive. They are Fred and Frank Woods, of Boston, and Mrs. Shannon, also of Boston. The warm sympathy of a large circle of friends will be extended to all in their bereavement.

Talk to Manufacturers

There are something like 125,000,000 people in the United States and Canada.
 Every one of these who can read reads a newspaper.
 All of them may not be customers for your product.
 So you can subdivide these millions into classes and into communities, and reach just the one you want through newspaper advertising.
 Every dealer is a newspaper reader and you influence retailers and consumers through the same newspaper advertisement.
 Manufacturers with a peculiar advertising problem are invited to write to the Bureau of Advertising, American Newspaper Publishers Association, World Building, New York.

WIDENING OF MILL STREET MATTER NOW BEING TAKEN UP

Mayor and Commissioner in Conference With C. P. R. Superintendent—An Idea of the Plan

Negotiations between the city and the C. P. R. with a view to taking over a strip of the railway property in Mill street for the purpose of widening the street have been begun. Several weeks ago a committee was appointed by the common council to deal with the matter, and on Saturday Mayor Frink and Commissioner Potts met H. C. Groat, general superintendent of the C. P. R., to discuss the plan. At the close of the conference the mayor said that satisfactory progress had been made.
 It is understood that the plan in view to secure a strip fifteen feet in width, of the C. P. R. property running from the corner of Main street to the boundary of the I. C. R. property opposite the union station, and the same from the I. C. R. This would give an opportunity to widen the street for the entire block which is now one of the most congested in the city.
 An alternative scheme which has been suggested would include the expropriation of the land occupied by wooden buildings on the eastern side of Mill street from the corner of Paradise row to the I. C. R. station, and allowing the property to be used in use as needed, when a strip might be secured from the face of the I. C. R. property in front of the station to make the widening of the street complete.

ARMY SERVICE CORPS FROM HERE AT LEAST TEMPORARILY SPLIT UP

Thought They Would Come Together Again When Property Established in France—Letter From Private Allaby

The members of the Army Service Corps, who left here last spring and have since been in training in England, are being sent to France in two groups. A letter received today from Pte. K. S. Allaby, formerly of North End, said that the members of the division, various units of the second division, he and some others are temporarily attached to the 1st Central Postal Directory Headquarters Staff. Whether this arrangement would continue after they reached France was not definitely known, but it was thought that on arrival across the channel, once lines and best known routes were established, they would be brought together again. The working of the whole divisional train, it is thought, would be the same as that of the 1st Central Postal Directory. The boys would be a headquarters company, and the other three companies working in the divisional train.
 "I left the boys of No. 5 Company in a spirit of restlessness," wrote Private Allaby, "and wanted to get to the front. They wanted to get across to France or better still to 'Somehow in Germany,' and then saw Scotland, we expect to meet soon on French soil. This is September 20, and we are all prepared to break up our little group and go to the front today. All the boys are in good health, and though they have been in training for some time in England, they are anxious to show what their training has brought, to test their efficiency in the broader field of service."

MRS. DUVAL CANCELLED SAILING TO WAIT FOR MRS. CORBET; COMING TOGETHER

Mrs. J. L. Duval, who was to have sailed from England with her family recently, cancelled her passage, but in a letter received by friends here on Saturday, announced her intention of starting soon again in another steamship. The chief reason for the delay was that she might wait for her sister, Mrs. Corbet, who is in England on a visit to her husband, Captain G. G. Corbet, M. D. They intended to leave together.
 This will be Mrs. Duval's second attempt to return, as she left the old country on the ill-fated Hesperian with the body of her husband, Major Daval, which was lost when the steamer was torpedoed. She then returned to England until other arrangements could be made.

SYRIANS OF CITY SUBSCRIBE $100 TO PATRIOTIC FUND

The Syrians citizens of St. John, who have already shown their patriotism by giving several of their members to the first contingents, and who now have another volunteer in the 44th, have again shown their willingness to share the burdens of the war by a substantial contribution to the Patriotic Fund. None in St. John follows the war news with more interest or is more deeply interested in the success of the Empire than the Syrians of the city. As a testimony to their practical interest they met yesterday and discussed the claims of the Patriotic Fund. The suggestion for a contribution was enthusiastically received, and in a short time the sum of $100 was subscribed and the money was turned over to C. B. Allan this morning.

ECHO OF THE RAID ON THE LUMBERMEN

(Chatham World)
 The government, it is understood, has cancelled the order-in-council which provided that no increase in stumpage should be imposed for ten years. The passing of the order, it is asserted, was demanded by land lessees as the price of their contributions to the Flemming-herby campaign fund, and there is great indignation at its repeal, especially as the men who were led by Mr. Flemming have received only half their money back.
