WEATHER MAN'S ASSISTING IN HOLIDAY TRADE

Christmas Displays in More Saint John Stores Told of

The weather man continues to assist the Christmas shopper and also to favor the storekeepers by providing delightful winter days that make it a pleasure to be out doors on a route of if the store where so much is displayed for selection in the giving of Christmas presents. The holiday spirit is being intensified as the great day draws near. Here are some further good things seen. Times-Star reporters on shopping tour.
J. MARCUS & CO.
A veritable fairland for Christmas shoppers is represented at the store of J. Marcus and Company, Chesterfield street, cedar chests and floor and table lamps of many types are featured. Attractive window displays give the shopper a fair idea of what awaits within.
Ladies' sewing tables, smoking stands and smoking outfits of many styles are in the large number of fitting gifts that may be secured there. A special gift department, in keeping with the department, has been opened featuring many novelties from foreign countries. The shopper will find a visit to the department fruitful. Tapestries and rugs of high quality and exclusive patterns are arranged in attractive displays throughout the building.
The firm is carrying an exceptionally heavy stock this season, considering that the Christmas business this year will exceed all previous years. Although the shopping has not really commenced in earnest, Mr. Marcus said that advance orders bore out their opinion that business was on the up grade in this city.

14 Years Bishop

Rt. Rev. E. A. LeBlanc.

BISHOP CELEBRATES 14th ANNIVERSARY
Rt. Rev. E. A. LeBlanc Celebrant at Special Mass in Cathedral Today
Fourteen years ago today Right Rev. Edouard LeBlanc was called to the episcopal see of the diocese of Saint John, and became the fifth bishop of that diocese. This morning at 8 o'clock His Lordship was the celebrant at an anniversary mass in the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception in honor of the event, and vesper this evening will be sung also to mark the anniversary.
During the day Bishop LeBlanc was the recipient of many messages of congratulation and best wishes.
Bishop LeBlanc was born on October 15, 1870, at Weymouth, N. S., of Acadian descent. He was educated in the public schools of St. Joseph's College, Memramcook, and at St. Anne's College, Church Point, N. S. He followed his theological studies at Holy Heart Seminary in Halifax, and on June 29, 1898, was raised to the priesthood. The vicar general of the diocese in Nova Scotia, he was parish priest at Weymouth, N. S., when he was appointed Bishop of Saint John in 1912. He arrived here on December 3, and was given a notable reception by the Catholic clergy and laity.

NEW CHURCH AT EAST SAINT JOHN IS DISCUSSED

Presbytery Committee Appointed to Confer With County Secretary

The erection of a new church building at East Saint John was discussed at some length at the afternoon session of the Saint John Presbytery yesterday.
Several members of the committee, including Rev. E. E. Styles, Rev. R. G. Fulton and Rev. H. A. Goodwin, were of opinion that the people of East Saint John, by misunderstanding previous conversations on the subject, thought a new church should be erected at the expense of the Presbytery. They declared they were ready at all times to assist the people of East Saint John, but first the people must put every effort in their power to show results, warranting heavy expenditure in their field.

TAX MATTER

Taxes on church property was next taken up. The matter was finally disposed of by the appointing of a committee to confer with the county secretary. The name of Rev. O. H. Peters was preferred to the Presbytery, Macklin, Saskatchewan, where he is stationed. Mr. Peters was formerly pastor of the United Brethren church, Long Beach, on the Saint John River. The report from the Standing Orders Committee was read, accepted item by item, and adopted as a whole. During the reading of the report of Home Missions the Presbytery was informed that the grant of $200, as requested by Zion church, had not yet been received and there was talk of the church being closed.
In reply to this, Rev. Mr. Fulton emphasized the fact that it would be well to go carefully as regards the closing of this church, as there were possibilities of serious legal action might arise. On Mr. Fulton's recommendation, seconded by Rev. Mr. Styles, a committee was appointed to enquire into the Zion church situation and report back to the Presbytery. The committee was also appointed to deal with all matters.

N. B. POWER CO.

This year's stock of electric fixtures and equipment offered to the public, is the result of a careful survey regarding the householders' requirements, said R. A. McAvity, manager of the commercial department at the N. B. Power Co. The inspection of the spacious showroom confirmed his statement, for there is a large assortment of electrical appliances tending to diminish kitchen and household drudgery greatly. Utility gifts include electric ranges, gas heaters for hot water boilers, electric irons and washing machines. The feature in the cooking line is the gas oven-heat-control range, whereby a turn of the heat regulator prevents the over-heating degree. Electric grills, and toasters will assist the shopper with the gift problem. Floor lamps, bridge, boudoir and table lamps, with dainty shades of silk, parchment, and tinted glass, in elaborate settings, reminds one of many enjoyable evenings. For the kitchen there are many useful gifts, such as heating pads, portable heaters, vibrators, flashlights and adjustable electric lamps. Christmas tree lighting sets, in unique designs and color effects are in the show room, near the main entrance, a cozy rest room, for the tired Christmas shopper, has been furnished.

A. E. EVERETT.

An attractive store for the Christmas shopper is that of A. Everett, with entrances in Charlotte and King streets. The window displays here will be found a suitable gift for every member of the family, for they are so young to know what it is all about, to the oldest.

Victoria Street Fireside Club Event Enjoyed

The Fireside Club of Victoria street Baptist church held a very successful Christmas party yesterday evening in the church hall. The decorations were red, the color of the club. Red streamers and garlands were hung and red shades covered the lights. The tables were decorated with red candles in all varieties of reds.
A large throng greeted the arrival of the guests to the reception, headed by the City Cornet Band. In the Cathedral an address of welcome was given by the vicar, the Rev. J. J. Walsh, and the late Dr. Quigley read an address from the laity of the church.

H. M. HOPPER

The store of H. M. Hopper, Dock street, presents an excellent opportunity for those seeking Christmas gifts in the electrical line. The arrangement of ceiling and wall fixtures is most artistic. An especially attractive corner, is that where the floor, and small portable lamps are exhibited. These come in all sizes, shapes and designs according to cost. Large show cases contain numerous lamp shades, and bowls, of parchment and art glass, some of which are hand-painted. Electric ranges, washing and ironing machines, vacuum cleaners, set-in grates and portable heaters, no doubt will receive due attention from the shoppers. Radios, from two up to eight tube sets, with guaranteed service, are ideal gifts this season. The Christmas tree lighting sets, the latest vogue in tree trimming, are displayed in many designs and appropriate coloring. It is a very attractive display of all-year-round goods and specialties for the Christmas season.

A. O. SKINNER

PROF. J. C. SIMPSON TALKS ON ATHLETICS

Tells Other Y's Men of Dangers Connected With Sport

"Some dangers connected with athletics" was the subject of a forceful address given by Prof. J. C. Simpson, of the medical faculty of McGill University, at the weekly supper meeting of the Other Y's Club of the Y. M. C. A. last night, when Douglas Angevine, secretary, was in the chair, and representative of the Canadian Inter-Collegiate Athletic Union, which advises the universities, Toronto, McGill and Queen's, J. H. Crocker, national physical director of the Y. M. C. A., who is a native of St. Stephen, N. B., was also present at the gathering and was introduced to the members.
Professor Simpson spoke of the desirability of having sport "Simon Pure" amateur. He told of the feeling of the universities in the matter and said that the Universities believed athletics should be part of the regular education system, because of their far reaching effect.
Participation in good, clean sport was considered to have a real educational value and it was most important that the student should be interested in the game and not for financial gain or for any other similar motive.
Hearty thanks were extended to Professor Simpson for his splendid address.

TO QUIT HOSPITAL

John B. Armstrong, of Apohaqui, trackmaster on the St. Martins Railway, who suffered very serious injuries when a speckle he was driving came into collision, has so far improved that it is expected that he will be able to leave the General Public Hospital, Saint John within a day or two. He has been under treatment here for several weeks and has made splendid progress.

As Hiram Sees It

"There goes more men an' women an' children up river in boats," says I to the town feller—platin' to the patch of moonlight on Long Reach.
"Them," says "is the ghosts of the Loyalists that went up to St. John's—on—in October, 1783. Lodewick Fisher was among 'em an' his son Peter wrote a history of 'Noo Brunswick' 'bout about what them Loyalists suffered. They hed to build huts of logs or bark—or live in tents—ranked with snow—an' the winter sot in early an' the river froze an' they was short of supplies. An' they was folks that wasn't used to that sort of life. We orto be proud of 'em. They sometimes hed to keep wood fires goin' all night—an' heat boards to warm the bodies of the shiverin' children. They hed no good houses—they hed to keep cuttin' wood all the time—they hed to hunt to get fresh meat—an' live on mighty little till the river opened in the spring. Six inches of snow fell on the second day of November—an' it piled up all winter. Many of the waker' folks died an' they was no minister to bury 'em. Them was their ghosts we just seen in the moonlight on the river."
