The rules for certiorari were made absolute in these two cases on the gound that Waugh was just over the boundary line, in Maine. When he was served with the summons to appear before Police Magistrate Dibblee, and although it was shown that Waugh immediately stepped to the Canadian side on receiving the summons, the court seemed to incline to the opinion that the service was void. There were three Kavanaugh cases in which the same lawyers appeared, and again the like directions were given certiorari to bring up the convictions A great deal of trouble arose about dates and times of the offences, and it appeared that the police magistrate had made mistakes in making up his records in most of the cases and came in for censure by some members of the bench for carelessness Druggist McKeen of Woodstock had two applications to be relieved from Scott act fines. D. Jordan, Q. C., appeared for him, but the facts were too clear, and the rules were discharged and the convictions sustained. Mr. Garden, a brother druggist, however, is doomed to remain in suspense a while longer. In his two cases the court ordered the issue of the writs to bring up the proceedings, but if what Mr. Connell alleged turns out correct, there is only an error in dates which will be correct by the return. Owen

Saunders and John McFarlane had one case each before the court, the former was represented by J. J. Gallagher and the later by A. R. Slipp. In the one case the date of the offence had been changed after information laid, and in the other the applicant had been convicted of a second offence in his absence. Both objections were quickly disposed of on the authority of the Doherty case decided last term and the Groves case of later date. With the exception of the Waugh and Kavanaugh cases. Mr. Connell thinks all the other convictions in which rules when the proceedings get before the

has been beautiful and the snow fast disappearing. On Saturday night about nine o'clock the round house whistle commenced to blow, intimating a fire was in progress near the station. It proved to be in James Kelly's house. Mr. and Mrs. Kelly were down town and had five small children in the house. A lamp which hung in the room had faller down, the hook only being in a lath. The lamp exploded and set fire to the bed in which two children were asleep. Mr. Kelly's eldest boy snatched then out of the bed and ran out of the house, and neighbors rescued the others. The room and all in it was burned black. A hose from the station was laid and soon put out the fire. Campbellton has no fire brigade now. but judging from the way some men tore and broke things up recklessly last night the sooner they get one and a salvage corps the better. The crowd did more damage than the fire and water together.

On Wednesday night the congrega tion of the Presbyterian church will be asked to take into consideration the enlarging of the church, and also of putting a Sabbath school in basement. It is only a few years since Capt. Nelson Clark, aged 65 years, a highly respected resident of St Andrews, which is his native place died on Wednesday evening after a short illness from peritonitis. Cant. Clarke has for thirty odd years been engaged in the coasting trade betwee border ports and U. S. ports. He wa a man of kindly disposition and of the strictest integrity. He was father of Geo. J. The celebrated Haggarty bears at McAdam Junction, who, when he took his sudden departure last fall, left them in charge of a boy, who was, it is said, to get in the spring half the proceeds from the sale of their pelts, have been sadly neglected, as appear ed when their dens were opened few days ago. The old bear was found ying with his feet up dead in his quan ters, starved to death. The female bear, which was almost dead, was kept alive by eating her yearling cub, which was confined in the apartment with her. An attempt is being made to save her life, but the proper thing to do would be to kill the poor This is clearly a case demanding the attention of Inspector Wetmore. The boy who had charge of the bears thought the bear house and bears had been seized by Haggarty's creditors, and seeing no chance for any money for himself he neglected to feed the poor brutes.

DUMAS' SCHEME.

Many years ago Alexandre Dumas, sr., was visiting his son, who at that time lived in a villa near Paris. They sat in a thry scrap of a garden behind the house under the one small tree it contained. It was a broiling hot day, and Dumas, who was very stout, said to his son: "I am suffecating with the intense heat." "What shall I do, father?"

"Suppose you open your chamber window and let a little air into the garden," replied old Alexandre, with gravity.-Paris Journal.
