OUR PAPER.

The Woodstock Journal is a large eight-page weekly, devoted to the advancement of the industrial, commercial, social and moral interests of New Brunswick.

The objects at which it particularly aims in the present circumstances of the country are the promotion of immigration, the settlement of the wild lands, the opening of the country by means of railroads, &c., an increase of the representation in the Assembly, and Free Education, schools of all grades, from the lowest to the highest being open to all without money and without price, and supported by Direct Taxation.

The Journal is published every Thursday at Woodstock, N. B., for Wm. Edgar, Proprietor.

Single copies, Two dollars a year, Clubs of six, one and three quarter dollars each.

Clubs of ten, one dollar and a half each.

To any person who makes up a club at these rates, and sends us the money in advance, we will send a copy of the Journal for one year, gratis.

When payment is not made in advance, two dollars and a half, and when payment is delayed beyond the year, three dollars will be charged.

Clergymen, postmasters, and teachers supplied at a far and a half a year.

MR. RAREY'S FAREWELL LECTURE.

On Monday, Mr. Rarey commenced a short series of farewell lectures at the Alhambra Circus, previous to his departure from this country. These, so far as they have proceeded, have been marked by complete success, both as regards attendances and the experiments themselves. Yesterday afternoon the attendance was specially brilliant: the number of carriages at the door of the circus was very great, and though Epsom had probably attracted a good many lovers of horseflesh, within the splendid building every seat on the box tier seemed occupied by fashionables, while the pit and galleries were filled by most respectable spectators. On the evening before, we were also present, when the circus was well filled, and it seems, therefore, that Mr. Rarey is likely to make a most successful wind-up of his career in this country.

On each occasion the horse-tamer exhibited three animals, of which, on Monday evening, the best—that is, the most difficult—subject, was an Arabian horse, an exceedingly clever-looking animal, of great fire and strength, having an infirmity of temper not uncommon to the equine race of the Orient—an affection for kicking, with hind feet and fore, at everybody and everything. The struggle was a long and severe one, but finally it ended as usual. Mr. Rarey's straps were found too potent for the Arab, and, utterly prostrated in spirit as he lay, he allowed his conqueror to take a series of liberties with him, even to putting his hand in his mouth, where no man's hand, it was said, had been ever known to be before. The intrepid gentleman was warmly cheered, and bowed his acknowledgments with obvious satisfaction.

Yesterday, we were promised a great treat in the exhibition of a gigantic dray horse, nineteen hands high, a biting savage, said to have worried several men, and to be insusceptible of any other influence than that of a bludgeon. After a very nice looking bay cob, obviously good-natured, but probably spoiled in temper while breaking, had been put through its exercise, the giant dray was introduced, muzzled and grim, looking, led by two grooms pulling at opposite cheek ropes. The hobbling business was accomplished speedily and easily, and after but a few gyrations on his knees the huge animal, rather to our disappointment, lazily gave in. Then was seen, when he was on the ground, how great was his bulk. His legs were like an elephant's; his girth tremendous; but under the spell of Mr. Rarey all was of no avail. He was soon deprived of his muzzle, mounted, jumped upon, humped in every way, and finally led off obviously a wiper and a better horse. The next subject was a brown cart mare, famous for striking, whose mouth could not be touched. She was led in muzzled as the previous case; a long booted, low set jade, swinging her tail wickedly, with a mischievous look about her head, and screaming at any attempt to touch her. It was not without some trouble and danger that first one strap was attached, and then another. When standing with one foot strapped up, it was a sight to see how she still contrived to strike furiously with the other foreleg, screening with rage all the while; when both feet were strapped up, she struck out with them, to the most imminent danger we thought of Mr. Rarey, with a steam-engine like power, vitiating her long tail like a tiger-cut and snorting savagely. After about ten minutes, however, she gave way, falling down sideways but only for a moment. Now, with her head wildly tossing from side to side the straps of the circus, with glaring eye, and panting sides, lying down on her forequarters, to rest for a little, in sullen wrath; plunging forward and round as if to escape from her master, the fight went on for upwards of half-an-hour, with but little appearance of victory to Mr. Rarey, all whose points of coolness and quickness were exhibited to great advantage. At last, the snorts of passion became fewer, the tail was less active, the hindquarters became tremulous, and the stout steed was beaten. The muzzle was taken off, the lesion was completed in the usual way, and, amid the plaudits of the assembly, the mare was led off, apparently in considerable amaze at the change which had been somehow wrought in her.

The exhibition, as we have said, was on both occasions triumphantly successful, and the lecture abounded in hints easily intelligible, and most valuable to all who have to do with horses.—London American.

MURDER IN THE LEGISLATIVE HALL OF CALIFORNIA.—A terrible tragedy was enacted in California Assembly a few days before its adjournment. A member of the House, named John C. Bell, was shot and stabbed to death, almost in his seat, by one Dr. Stone. Stone was a lobby member, attempting to procure the passage of a bill for the division of the county represented by Mr. Bell, and to which the latter was opposed. Mr. Bell was in the act of consultation with another member beyond the bar of the assembly, while it was in session, when Stone came and denounced Bell as a liar, and immediately began shooting and stabbing him. The unfortunate man was carried away, and died two days after. Stone was released on bail. As he is a rich man the crime will go unpunished. The Assembly took no notice of the murder. Bell is from Ohio, and was unarmed. Stone is from Kentucky. Several circumstances show the act to have been premeditated.

We are pleased to notice that the Cavalry Company under the command of Major the Hon. Judge Wilmet, are now under drill, and give promise of making a very efficient escort to His Royal Highness, the Prince of Wales, while in this city. Captain Saunders, Lieuts. Fairweather and Segee, and Cornet Reid, we understand are attached to this Company. The Volunteer Rifles are also steadily advancing in their drill, and the use of the new Rifle.—Reporter.

NEW BRUNSWICK MARBLE.—We have been shown a piece of Marble taken from a quarry lately opened at Musquash, by Mr. William Campbell, Architect and Builder of this City, which is pronounced by competent judges to be equal, if not superior to any ever imported into the province. We understand that in the quarry as now opened he has three different qualities, viz. the pure white, equal in cleanness and polish to the best Italian; the blue veined and mottled, a beautiful sample of which is before us, that will compare favorably with any Italian, and the green stripe.

We have been assured by the enterprising proprietor that he can get out and dress this Marble, suitable for fronts of buildings, as cheap as the Granite, which is so much used in this City. Mr. Campbell intends entering largely into this business and has already got out a considerable quantity of very fine blocks, he is also erecting suitable machinery for cutting and polishing it. We wish him every success in his undertaking.—New Brunswick Reporter.

QUALITY OF WITNESSES.—The Massachusetts Senate, says an exchange paper, has adopted an amendment to its laws, which removes the disability to receive the testimony of atheists in its courts of law. The amendment provides that "every person, not a believer in any religion, shall be required to testify truly under pains and penalties of perjury." To this, an amendment was adopted, as follows: "And the evidence of such persons' disbelief in the existence of God may be received to affect their credibility as witnesses." The latter clause of the amendment was adopted by a vote of ten to seven. The vote upon the amendment, as amended, was thirteen to thirteen, and it was adopted by the casting vote of the President.

DIFFICULTY WITH SPAIN.—On Sunday, the 6th of May, two Cabinet Councils were held at Madrid over one of which the Queen herself presided, for the consideration of the relations of Spain with the United States. It is "believed" that the principal subject of consideration was the seizure of the steamer Marques de la Habana at Anton Lizardo by an American man-of-war, "notwithstanding she bore the Spanish colors." It is added that the result of the two Councils was the transmission of an energetic note (una nota enérgica) to the Government of the United States.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—Tempico dates of the 4th state that a battle had taken place at Guacajalajara, between Uruga, and Gen. Wolf, which resulted in the defeat and flight of Uruga who lost one leg but escaped. Zaluga had assumed the presidency at the Capital. A conducta with over $1,000,000 had been ordered. Another was expected soon.

St. Louis, June 12.—One hundred armed men went out this morning with the Pike's Peak Express to prevent it being robbed by a party of ruffians said to have left here for that purpose. The passenger train on the Belleville road ran off the track this morning, injuring thirty persons, some fourteen seriously. A large number of delegates were on board.

Queen Victoria has conferred the order of knighthood on Francis H. Saltus, Esq. of New York City, for important improvements in artillery. Mr. Saltus is the first citizen from this country thus distinguished.

New buildings of the aggregate value of $718,000 are going up in New York the present season. They are mostly in the business portions of the city. But few costly dwellings are being erected.

A large and very efficient Committee has been appointed to make arrangements for the reception of his Royal Highness the Prince of Wales. We have understood that a programme will be decided upon at their next meeting.—Reporter.

In France only one traveller is killed out of every two millions of passengers on the railroads and only one wounded in every 200,000.

The Connecticut Legislature has appropriated $25,000 with a view to taking steps to prevent the spread of the cattle disease in that state.

The velocity of the recent tornado at Cincinnati has been estimated at eighty miles an hour. It lasted about twenty minutes.
