

RECRUITING MEETING HELD ON NORTH SHORE

Officers and Band of 145th Battalion Held Forth with Considerable Success at Newcastle.

Newcastle, July 17.—The officers and band of the 145th Battalion held a most successful recruiting meeting here Saturday night. After good music by the band of 21 pieces, led by Bandmaster G. Herbert Perry, one of the stage as leader of Perry's Peerless Players, speeches were made from the band stand by Capt. Rev. G. A. Lawson, chaplain of the 145th; Capt. Rev. Dr. Geo. M. Campbell of the N. S. Highlanders, and Major Lionel Hanington of the 145th. Ex-Mayor C. J. Morrissey presided. Five recruits were secured right on the grounds and nine more on Sunday—14 in all. Their names were: Cornelius McCafferty, Thomas J. Delano, Freeman Johnston, Newcastle; Arthur Eagles, Guy Tozer, Nelson; Wm. E. McEling, Stanley Treadwell, Newcastle; Stanley Malley, Charles Malley, Nelson; Dr. Gordon Atkinson, Stanley Casey, Harold Casey, Arthur McMurray, Hector McQuarrie, Newcastle.

Guy Tozer and Freeman Johnston enlisted for the 145th, the other 12 with the 145th.

Capt. Lawson occupied the Methodical pulpit yesterday morning and Capt. Campbell the Baptist. They returned to Moncton yesterday afternoon.

Major Hanington, Lieut. Sumner and Bandmaster Perry remained over. The 145th held a recruiting meeting in Chatham Saturday afternoon but no recruits offered.

MARRIED.

MELROSE-McGOWAN.—In St. David's church, St. John, July 18th, by Rev. J. A. MacKestran, Robert Melrose to Miss Lillian, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. McGowan.

DIED.

SWIM.—In this city, on July 18, Adelaide Swin, wife of Rev. Gideon Swin, aged fifty years, leaving her husband, three daughters, one son and one brother.

Funeral on Thursday afternoon at three o'clock from 48 Adelaide street.

ELLIOTT.—At the General Public Hospital, on the 17th inst., Mrs. Mary Elliott, widow of George Elliott, late of St. John.

Funeral from 7 Church street, on Wednesday at 2:30 p. m.

BLANCH.—At her residence, 117 Elliott row, on Saturday, 15th inst., Mrs. Thomas Blanch, leaving husband, one son and four daughters to mourn.

Funeral on Wednesday from her late home at 11 a. m. Interment at Apohaqui.

RUSSELL.—In this city, July 18th inst., Peter P. Russell, DeMonts street, age fifty years.

Remains taken to Grand Manan for burial.

THEALL.—Suddenly at West Side, St. John, on July 18, Frank L. Theall, in the fifty-ninth year of his age, leaving his wife and one daughter to mourn.

Funeral notice later.

ANTHONY.—At his home, Red Head, July 15, Henry Anthony, aged sixty-eight years, leaving wife, five sons and two daughters to mourn.

Notice of funeral later.

HE GAVE HIS LIFE TO SAVE HIS COMPANION

Young Man Named Tinker Drowned Near Eastport on Saturday Night—Other News of Campobello.

Campobello, July 17.—A sad drowning accident occurred on Saturday night between Treats Island and Eastport, Me., in which a well known young man lost his life. One young man up the small craft in which he was rowing when young Tinker, now of Eastport, but formerly his parents resided at Wilson's Beach, Campobello, went to his rescue, succeeded in saving him and died for the effort.

The annual school meeting was held on Monday. The appropriation for the ensuing year will be the same as the previous year, namely, $1,460.

The term of G. M. Byron, trustee, having expired, he was re-elected. The other officers remain the same.

Mr. and Mrs. Patterson and family have recently taken up their abode in their summer home here; also Miss Harper arrived on Saturday last to occupy her summer cottage, the servants having preceded her.

Miss Edith Calder spent a few days of last week with friends at St. John.

Miss Agatha Casey, who has been employed here for a time, returned the last week to her home at Milltown, N. B.

Master Winston Mitchell spent the past week with relatives at Lubec, Me. The Sunbeam Club (a band of small lassies connected with the sewing class) spent Thursday in picnicking and other sports much to the delight of the little ones.

PERSONAL.

His Worship Mayor R. T. Hayes returned yesterday from Valcartier, where he visited the New Brunswick battalions.

C. D. Howard, New England passenger agent of the Government Railway, passed through the city today.

Captain R. Ingelton and Lieutenants J. P. Dever, Clair Gilmour and L. S. McGowan left yesterday for Valcartier after a brief visit here.

Julio Larsen, from Bilbao, Spain, is in the city on business. He came here via the United States, where he has been for the past year.

Lieut. Gov. Wood was a guest at the Royal yesterday.

Premier Clarke was in the city yesterday attending a meeting of the government.

L. R. Wilson, Montreal, was registered at the Royal last night.

Hon. D. V. Landry, Bouchette, spent yesterday in the city attending the government meeting.

Felix Michaud of Bouchette was registered at the Victoria yesterday.

Dr. O. B. Price, M.L.A., Moncton, was a guest at the Victoria yesterday.

THE POLICE COURT.

In the police court yesterday the case against Charles Ryder for violation of the traffic regulations was resumed.

John Walsh (who was run down and injured by Ryder's car) testified that he had been in the General Hospital nine weeks, suffering from injuries to his head and a broken pelvic bone. J. Harry Dooey, James Walsh, Serat Smith and C. E. Ryder also testified. After W. M. Ryan, for the prosecution, had addressed the court, the magistrate said that the charge against Mr. Ryder was for driving on the wrong side of the street. He would take the evidence under consideration and deliver judgment later. A deposit of $100 left by Mr. Ryder was ordered returned, minus $10, which will be held pending the magistrate's decision.

Margaret Sullivan, charged with drunkenness, profane and obscene language, was fined $24 or six months in jail.

George Drew, for drunkenness, using profane language and violently resisting the police, was given a sentence of six months in jail and fined $50 or an additional three months.

KING'S COUNTY MOURNS LOSS OF AGED RESIDENT

George Ellison who Died on Friday, aged 81 years, had Lived in Apohaqui for Half Century.

(From a Special Correspondent.) Apohaqui, July 17.—In the death of George Ellison, Apohaqui has lost one of the oldest, most interesting and most respected citizens. He had passed the three score years and ten by fully eleven years, and had seen the growth of this village from almost a wilderness to its present comfortable and prosperous condition, wherein dwells, in pleasant homes, a happy and contented people. One could listen to Mr. Ellison, by the hour, as the writer did many a time, and hear him tell in his pleasant interesting way stories of his boyhood days, and of the olden folk, and of the times, when Apohaqui was a stretch of alder swamp, woods and virgin forest, out of which here, as elsewhere, our fathers brought forth, by hard work and serious toil, the farms and home lands of today. The deceased would often say "the boys and young men of today know little of work, and have little to do, in comparison with the labor and hardships, dangers and risks, too, endured and conquered by the old folk and pioneers of the country."

As already announced in The Standard, he departed this life on last Friday afternoon, dying in the comfortable cottage home in which he had resided for nearly half a century, that home one of the first in the locality. He learned his trade as a general blacksmith and iron worker, when a young man, and had carried it on very successfully all his manhood days, until the last few years, when he retired for a well earned rest, watched over and attended to in his failing health by a devoted wife and daughter.

During his life he took a deep interest in the welfare of the country, an active part in government work, and was employed more or less in his line of business, during the building of the I. C. R., which as he said "he had lived to see, one of the best lines in Canada, a boon and convenience of utmost value, and owned by the people themselves, something we could not do without today, although he had heard lots of croakers, when it was being built, condemn it, get off their lies about boodie and craft and say as a fisher, it would never pay for the axe grease."

The old gentleman would sometimes add "those croakers are nearly all dead and buried long ago, but I, C. R. still lives, and I am living too, thank God, to see the line a success. Now there is another brood of croakers and liars at their dirty work, a faithful friend and adviser, and a good government is a bad one and there are lots of idiots in the country led away by them; look at Westmorland the other day."

Mr. Ellison came of good old English family, was loyal British subject, of Imperial stamp, loyal to Canada, as part of the Empire, loyal to England and England's king. In politics he was a staunch Conservative, a faithful friend and adviser.

On Sunday, just about forty-eight hours after his spirit had returned to the God who gave it, thus going to reap his reward, the mortal remains were taken to his former home to the Church of England, where the beautiful solemn and inspiring burial service of the church which he loved, was given over the casket, in which rested all that was left on earth of the departed.

During the service in the sacred edifice, by Rev. Mansel Shewan, rector of the parish, three favorite hymns of the deceased were sung, namely, No. 390, "A Few More Years Shall Roll"; No. 507, "Jesus, Lover of My Soul"; and No. 18, "O God of Truth, O Lord of Might." The finish of the church service was given beside the open grave. Immediately after the local Foresters, in their regular performance of the burial rite of their order over the grave of their departed brother. They had accompanied the body from his former home to the church and the graveyard. Their services were solemn and touching and during this service, too, the beautiful hymn, "Nearer, My God, to Thee," was sung by the brethren and many others surrounding the grave.

This was laid to rest a man, a neighbor and a Christian, who had won the esteem of a host of friends. His memory will long remain not only with those near of kin, but with many who had learned to regard him for his many good and kindly qualities.

BRITISH SAILORS RELIEF MEETING POORLY ATTENDED

At the meeting held yesterday afternoon on behalf of the British Sailors' Relief Fund, in the Board of Trade rooms, the chair was taken by J. A. Likely, who first called upon the honorary secretary of the fund, M. P. Pennell, Jr. of Montreal, to address those present. Arrangements were made to secure the active interest of those in the province who appreciate the work done by both the British navy and the mercantile marine in the direction of obtaining contributions for the objects in view.

R. E. Armstrong said he thought the local executive should receive authority to distribute circulars through him as honorary secretary, asking for subscriptions in selected districts.

A. M. Bolding suggested that appeals in the Moncton district and North Shore towns should be left with the committee of the fund in Moncton.

M. E. Agar said he thought it would be inadvisable that St. John should undertake more than its proper share of the efforts and should confine itself to work in Charlottetown, Kings, Queens and St. John counties, leaving Fredericton to look after the river towns.

H. C. Schofield said he thought circulars should be sent out and be followed by personal canvass.

Colonel E. T. Sturdee agreed generally with Mr. Schofield's proposals.

Capt. Mulcahy thought some very definite form of appointment between the navy and merchant marine should be made.

C. W. Hallamore suggested that the banks be authorized to receive subscriptions.

A. W. Adams agreed generally with the suggestions made by the various speakers.

It was ultimately agreed to issue circulars calling for subscriptions, these circulars to be accompanied by an explanatory letter and to organize a system of personal canvass afterwards.

The meeting was adjourned until next Monday at 3 o'clock.

CANADIAN PATRIOTIC FUND.

Monthly—T. H. Estabrooks Co., Ltd., $100.00; Municipality of City and County of St. John, $30.00; Miss B. Shaw, (two months), $2; Mrs. Sydney Kerr, (three months), $1.50; Chas. Kain, $2; Mrs. John Malcolm (two months), $2; Mrs. King (two months), $2; Miss M. Moore (two months), $1; W. T. McGivern (two months), $4; Mrs. Keene, $5; James McKinnay (two months), $2; Mrs. Christiana (two months), $1; Mrs. Dexter (two months), $1; E. Sigball (two months), $2; C. F. Brown, $5; J. A. Galbraith, $1; Rev. E. A. Westmorland, $5; John F. Strange (three months), $3; W. A. Cunningham, $2; J. A. Coster, $2; Miss Grace Coster, $2; S. D. and Mrs. Crawford, $3; Dr. J. V. Anglin $10; Mrs. Hetherington, $2; F. W. Brownell, H. C. Brownell, W. J. Brownell, A. Cameron, D. Campbell, Miss E. L. Compton, E. Duff, Miss L. M. Ferris, George Hetherington, A. McDonald, Mrs. Margaret McDonald, Miss M. Morris, R. Morris, A. C. Podman, A. Stuart, W. T. Sims, T. Wilson, L. Wright, one dollar each.

C. Cooper, Miss B. Coram, J. Corbett, Miss L. J. Corey, Miss C. Haggerty, J. Hanratty, C. McAlduff, Miss M. E. Moore, Mrs. R. Moore, J. W. Park, Miss Phillips, J. Scattary, E. Scott, E. L. Small, Mrs. M. Stuart, C. J. Tanswell, Miss Thomas, W. Walters, Mr. Wm. J. Keane, Miss Mary Estabrooks, fifty cents each.

L. McCarthy, Miss E. Mills, Frank Foley, twenty-five cents each.

PROBATE COURT

In the estate of Bryce Climo, an infant, letters of guardianship have been issued to John S. Climo.

In the estate of Isabel Kerr Johnston letters of administration to issue to Robert L. Johnston and William A. Johnston.

In the estate of Bridget Rodgers the will has been admitted to probate, and Mrs. Rosanna McDonald of Halifax, N. S., the executrix appointed in said will, has been sworn in.

In the estate of William Feraligan letters of administration have been issued to the Eastern Trust Company.

In the estate of Dennis O'Brien the will has been proved and John P. Murphy sworn in as executor.

In the estate of William Quinn late of St. John, mason, letters of administration were granted to Walter Quinn.

In the estate of James H. Dooey the will and codicil were duly proved in common form, and letters testamentary granted to the Eastern Trust Company and Patrick W. Keane.

In the estate of Janet Maude Hatfield the last will was proved in common form and letters testamentary granted to Samuel F. Hatfield, the executor.

In the estate of Annie Campbell Willet letters of administration have been granted to John Willet, the rest of the next of kin renouncing.

SCHOONER NOTES.

The tern schooner Crescendo was towed to Port Greenville last night by the tug Watson and will probably be sold there. She is owned by Mr. G. N. Cochran.

The two-masted schooner Rebecca G. Whidden, stranded on a ledge near Deer Island, N. B., while bound from Calais to Fall River, was floated early Saturday in a damaged condition. She will be towed to Calais her home port, as soon as her cargo of lumber has been discharged.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER ABSOLUTELY PURE. Made from Cream of Tartar, derived from grapes. Many cheap baking powders are made of alum or other materials derived from mineral sources. ROYAL BAKING POWDER Made in Canada.

OBITUARY.

Special to The Standard.

Miss Carrie Caldwell. Woodstock, N. B., July 18.—Miss Carrie Caldwell, aged thirty-two years, one of the most popular young ladies of the town, died at noon today. She had been unwell for a few years, but was able to attend to her duties until a few weeks ago.

For six years and at the time of her death she was president of the Ladies' Auxiliary, A. O. H., attended many of the provincial conventions and always took a prominent part in the deliberations. She was an ardent church worker and a valued member of the Altar Society of St. Gertrude's church. She is survived by her mother, Mrs. Charles Caldwell, six sisters, Mrs. Joseph Power, Mrs. Geo. Sharkey, Mrs. Richard Gullivan, Misses Maggie, Annie and Eva, and one brother, Chas. Caldwell, all of this county.

James Robertson. James Robertson, a well known electrician, died early yesterday morning at his residence, 20 Charlotte street, after a brief illness. He was a native of Prince Edward Island, and came to this city about two years ago. So far as is known he is survived by one sister, who resides in Prince Edward Island.

Mrs. Adelaide Swin. Many will learn with sincere regret of the death yesterday evening of Mrs. Adelaide Swin, wife of Rev. Gideon Swin, 48 Adelaide street, at the age of fifty years. Mrs. Swin had been ill since last February, the cause of death being paralysis. Besides her husband she leaves three daughters, Pearl and Helen, at home and Edna, a graduate nurse in the General Public Hospital; one son, Harold, at home, and a brother, Crowell Penny, of Cape Island, N. S. The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at three o'clock from her late home.

Mrs. Catherine Fowler. An aged and highly esteemed resident of Sunbury county passed away on July 17th when Mrs. Catherine Fowler, widow of William Fowler, died at her home at Salmon Creek. Mrs. Fowler who was in her eighty-fifth year was a daughter of Nova Scotia at Catalina, Newfoundland; the daughters, Misses Freda, Grace and Carrie at home. The remains were taken to Grand Harbor, Grand Manan, yesterday, for interment, the funeral taking place from St. Paul's church today. The deceased was a prominent member of the Church of England and an excellent citizen.

He was a native of Grand Manan where for many years he was engaged in the general and fish business. Removing from Grand Manan some years ago he was manager of the Quoddy Coal Company at St. Andrews, and then came to St. John intending to take up the fish business. While here he was a member of the General Fish Committee, and was beloved by a wide circle of friends.

Henry Anthony. The death of Henry Anthony, a well known resident of Red Head, occurred at his home last evening after a few days' illness. He was sixty-eight years of age, and was survived by his wife, five sons, Fred, Leslie and Lloyd at home, Obie, Montreal, and Hal with the 115th Battalion; two daughters, Julia at home, and Mrs. J. Fred Belyea of West St. John. Notice of funeral will be given later.

Peter P. Russell. Peter P. Russell died yesterday morning at his home on DeMonts Street, West St. John, after several months' illness. He is survived by his wife, one son and three daughters. The son is Hazen, manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia at Catalina, Newfoundland; the daughters, Misses Freda, Grace and Carrie at home. The deceased was a prominent member of the Royal Scarlet Chapter, Friday evening. Exaltations.

On a Yachting Cruise. On Monday afternoon Howard B. Bustin left the R.K.Y.C. wharf with his yacht Anzac on a two weeks cruise on the St. John river. He had on board as his guests Miss Wilhelmina Goodwin, Miss Freda Davis, Misses Alice Hayes and Helen Hayes, Mrs. S. B. Bustin and Messrs. Ira Digeon, Henry Sealy and Walter Somerville.

SISTERS FORMERLY OF SACKVILLE LOSE LIVES BY DROWNING

Misses Eleanor and Kathleen Moss Victims of Tragedy in Lake L'Achigan, P. Q.

Sackville, July 17.—Sackville was deeply shocked to hear of the sudden death by drowning of Misses Eleanor and Kathleen Moss, both girls were well known in town, and during their residence here had made a large number of friends. The deepest sympathy is expressed for the bereaved mother, who is prostrated by grief.

The accident occurred about four o'clock p. m. Thursday at Lake L'Achigan, about ten miles from Shaw-bridge, in Quebec. The girls had taken advantage of the fine day for a swim. They were in apparently shallow water not far from shore and a number of youngsters were playing nearby. The exact cause of the accident could not be ascertained, but it is supposed that while frolicking together they stepped into a deep hole, or that one of them got into difficulty and the other went to her assistance. The children heard the two girls scream almost simultaneously and while they were struggling together in the water for a moment before they disappeared.

Many persons were in the vicinity and in response to the calls of the children half a dozen boats and canoes were soon plying about the spot where the girls went down. The bodies were recovered about an hour after the accident. Dr. Whales, coroner of the district, was notified and is disposed of the case as accidental death, no jury being called.

The two girls with their mother had taken up their summer residence on the shore of Lake L'Achigan less than a week ago. Mrs. Moss is prostrated with grief and is under the care of a physician at her cottage.

Mrs. Moss is the widow of the late Charles E. Moss, a widely known artist of Ottawa, and a sister of Professor Huntton of Sackville. She had resided in Sackville for four years previous to last September, when she and her daughters left for Montreal, her family consisted of three children, the two daughters, Eleanor and Kathleen, and one son, Arthur H. A. Moss, who is a student at the University of Montreal newspaper man, who is now fighting in France. The two girls were in the prime of their youth and represented a type of womanhood rarely met with. Eleanor was a talented pianist at her cottage, and her daughters left for Montreal, their family consisted of three children, the two daughters, Eleanor and Kathleen, and one son, Arthur H. A. Moss, who is a student at the University of Montreal newspaper man, who is now fighting in France. The two girls were in the prime of their youth and represented a type of womanhood rarely met with. Eleanor was a talented pianist at her cottage, and her daughters left for Montreal, their family consisted of three children, the two daughters, Eleanor and Kathleen, and one son, Arthur H. A. Moss, who is a student at the University of Montreal newspaper man, who is now fighting in France. The two girls were in the prime of their youth and represented a type of womanhood rarely met with. Eleanor was a talented pianist at her cottage, and her daughters left for Montreal, their family consisted of three children, the two daughters, Eleanor and Kathleen, and one son, Arthur H. A. Moss, who is a student at the University of Montreal newspaper man, who is now fighting in France. The two girls were in the prime of their youth and represented a type of womanhood rarely met with. Eleanor was a talented pianist at her cottage, and her daughters left for Montreal, their family consisted of three children, the two daughters, Eleanor and Kathleen, and one son, Arthur H. A. Moss, who is a student at the University of Montreal newspaper man, who is now fighting in France. The two girls were in the prime of their youth and represented a type of womanhood rarely met with. Eleanor was a talented pianist at her cottage, and her daughters left for Montreal, their family consisted of three children, the two daughters, Eleanor and Kathleen, and one son, Arthur H. A. Moss, who is a student at the University of Montreal newspaper man, who is now fighting in France. The two girls were in the prime of their youth and represented a type of womanhood rarely met with. Eleanor was a talented pianist at her cottage, and her daughters left for Montreal, their family consisted of three children, the two daughters, Eleanor and Kathleen, and one son, Arthur H. A. Moss, who is a student at the University of Montreal newspaper man, who is now fighting in France. The two girls were in the prime of their youth and represented a type of womanhood rarely met with. Eleanor was a talented pianist at her cottage, and her daughters left for Montreal, their family consisted of three children, the two daughters, Eleanor and Kathleen, and one son, Arthur H. A. Moss, who is a student at the University of Montreal newspaper man, who is now fighting in France. The two girls were in the prime of their youth and represented a type of womanhood rarely met with. Eleanor was a talented pianist at her cottage, and her daughters left for Montreal, their family consisted of three children, the two daughters, Eleanor and Kathleen, and one son, Arthur H. A. Moss, who is a student at the University of Montreal newspaper man, who is now fighting in France. The two girls were in the prime of their youth and represented a type of womanhood rarely met with. Eleanor was a talented pianist at her cottage, and her daughters left for Montreal, their family consisted of three children, the two daughters, Eleanor and Kathleen, and one son, Arthur H. A. Moss, who is a student at the University of Montreal newspaper man, who is now fighting in France. The two girls were in the prime of their youth and represented a type of womanhood rarely met with. Eleanor was a talented pianist at her cottage, and her daughters left for Montreal, their family consisted of three children, the two daughters, Eleanor and Kathleen, and one son, Arthur H. A. Moss, who is a student at the University of Montreal newspaper man, who is now fighting in France. The two girls were in the prime of their youth and represented a type of womanhood rarely met with. Eleanor was a talented pianist at her cottage, and her daughters left for Montreal, their family consisted of three children, the two daughters, Eleanor and Kathleen, and one son, Arthur H. A. Moss, who is a student at the University of Montreal newspaper man, who is now fighting in France. The two girls were in the prime of their youth and represented a type of womanhood rarely met with. Eleanor was a talented pianist at her cottage, and her daughters left for Montreal, their family consisted of three children, the two daughters, Eleanor and Kathleen, and one son, Arthur H. A. Moss, who is a student at the University of Montreal newspaper man, who is now fighting in France. The two girls were in the prime of their youth and represented a type of womanhood rarely met with. Eleanor was a talented pianist at her cottage, and her daughters left for Montreal, their family consisted of three children, the two daughters, Eleanor and Kathleen, and one son, Arthur H. A. Moss, who is a student at the University of Montreal newspaper man, who is now fighting in France. The two girls were in the prime of their youth and represented a type of womanhood rarely met with. Eleanor was a talented pianist at her cottage, and her daughters left for Montreal, their family consisted of three children, the two daughters, Eleanor and Kathleen, and one son, Arthur H. A. Moss, who is a student at the University of Montreal newspaper man, who is now fighting in France. The two girls were in the prime of their youth and represented a type of womanhood rarely met with. Eleanor was a talented pianist at her cottage, and her daughters left for Montreal, their family consisted of three children, the two daughters, Eleanor and Kathleen, and one son, Arthur H. A. Moss, who is a student at the University of Montreal newspaper man, who is now fighting in France. The two girls were in the prime of their youth and represented a type of womanhood rarely met with. Eleanor was a talented pianist at her cottage, and her daughters left for Montreal, their family consisted of three children, the two daughters, Eleanor and Kathleen, and one son, Arthur H. A. Moss, who is a student at the University of Montreal newspaper man, who is now fighting in France. The two girls were in the prime of their youth and represented a type of womanhood rarely met with. Eleanor was a talented pianist at her cottage, and her daughters left for Montreal, their family consisted of three children, the two daughters, Eleanor and Kathleen, and one son, Arthur H. A. Moss, who is a student at the University of Montreal newspaper man, who is now fighting in France. The two girls were in the prime of their youth and represented a type of womanhood rarely met with. Eleanor was a talented pianist at her cottage, and her daughters left for Montreal, their family consisted of three children, the two daughters, Eleanor and Kathleen, and one son, Arthur H. A. Moss, who is a student at the University of Montreal newspaper man, who is now fighting in France. The two girls were in the prime of their youth and represented a type of womanhood rarely met with. Eleanor was a talented pianist at her cottage, and her daughters left for Montreal, their family consisted of three children, the two daughters, Eleanor and Kathleen, and one son, Arthur H. A. Moss, who is a student at the University of Montreal newspaper man, who is now fighting in France. The two girls were in the prime of their youth and represented a type of womanhood rarely met with. Eleanor was a talented pianist at her cottage, and her daughters left for Montreal, their family consisted of three children, the two daughters, Eleanor and Kathleen, and one son, Arthur H. A. Moss, who is a student at the University of Montreal newspaper man, who is now fighting in France. The two girls were in the prime of their youth and represented a type of womanhood rarely met with. Eleanor was a talented pianist at her cottage, and her daughters left for Montreal, their family consisted of three children, the two daughters, Eleanor and Kathleen, and one son, Arthur H. A. Moss, who is a student at the University of Montreal newspaper man, who is now fighting in France. The two girls were in the prime of their youth and represented a type of womanhood rarely met with. Eleanor was a talented pianist at her cottage, and her daughters left for Montreal, their family consisted of three children, the two daughters, Eleanor and Kathleen, and one son, Arthur H. A. Moss, who is a student at the University of Montreal newspaper man, who is now fighting in France. The two girls were in the prime of their youth and represented a type of womanhood rarely met with. Eleanor was a talented pianist at her cottage, and her daughters left for Montreal, their family consisted of three children, the two daughters, Eleanor and Kathleen, and one son, Arthur H. A. Moss, who is a student at the University of Montreal newspaper man, who is now fighting in France. The two girls were in the prime of their youth and represented a type of womanhood rarely met with. Eleanor was a talented pianist at her cottage, and her daughters left for Montreal, their family consisted of three children, the two daughters, Eleanor and Kathleen, and one son, Arthur H. A. Moss, who is a student at the University of Montreal newspaper man, who is now fighting in France. The two girls were in the prime of their youth and represented a type of womanhood rarely met with. Eleanor was a talented pianist at her cottage, and her daughters left for Montreal, their family consisted of three children, the two daughters, Eleanor and Kathleen, and one son, Arthur H. A. Moss, who is a student at the University of Montreal newspaper man, who is now fighting in France. The two girls were in the prime of their youth and represented a type of womanhood rarely met with. Eleanor was a talented pianist at her cottage, and her daughters left for Montreal, their family consisted of three children, the two daughters, Eleanor and Kathleen, and one son, Arthur H. A. Moss, who is a student at the University of Montreal newspaper man, who is now fighting in France. The two girls were in the prime of their youth and represented a type of womanhood rarely met with. Eleanor was a talented pianist at her cottage, and her daughters left for Montreal, their family consisted of three children, the two daughters, Eleanor and Kathleen, and one son, Arthur H. A. Moss, who is a student at the University of Montreal newspaper man, who is now fighting in France. The two girls were in the prime of their youth and represented a type of womanhood rarely met with. Eleanor was a talented pianist at her cottage, and her daughters left for Montreal, their family consisted of three children, the two daughters, Eleanor and Kathleen, and one son, Arthur H. A. Moss, who is a student at the University of Montreal newspaper man, who is now fighting in France. The two girls were in the prime of their youth and represented a type of womanhood rarely met with. Eleanor was a talented pianist at her cottage, and her daughters left for Montreal, their family consisted of three children, the two daughters, Eleanor and Kathleen, and one son, Arthur H. A. Moss, who is a student at the University of Montreal newspaper man, who is now fighting in France. The two girls were in the prime of their youth and represented a type of womanhood rarely met with. Eleanor was a talented pianist at her cottage, and her daughters left for Montreal, their family consisted of three children, the two daughters, Eleanor and Kathleen, and one son, Arthur H. A. Moss, who is a student at the University of Montreal newspaper man, who is now fighting in France. The two girls were in the prime of their youth and represented a type of womanhood rarely met with. Eleanor was a talented pianist at her cottage, and her daughters left for Montreal, their family consisted of three children, the two daughters, Eleanor and Kathleen, and one son, Arthur H. A. Moss, who is a student at the University of Montreal newspaper man, who is now fighting in France. The two girls were in the prime of their youth and represented a type of womanhood rarely met with. Eleanor was a talented pianist at her cottage, and her daughters left for Montreal, their family consisted of three children, the two daughters, Eleanor and Kathleen, and one son, Arthur H. A. Moss, who is a student at the University of Montreal newspaper man, who is now fighting in France. The two girls were in the prime of their youth and represented a type of womanhood rarely met with. Eleanor was a talented pianist at her cottage, and her daughters left for Montreal, their family consisted of three children, the two daughters, Eleanor and Kathleen, and one son, Arthur H. A. Moss, who is a student at the University of Montreal newspaper man, who is now fighting in France. The two girls were in the prime of their youth and represented a type of womanhood rarely met with. Eleanor was a talented pianist at her cottage, and her daughters left for Montreal, their family consisted of three children, the two daughters, Eleanor and Kathleen, and one son, Arthur H. A. Moss, who is a student at the University of Montreal newspaper man, who is now fighting in France. The two girls were in the prime of their youth and represented a type of womanhood rarely met with. Eleanor was a talented pianist at her cottage, and her daughters left for Montreal, their family consisted of three children, the two daughters, Eleanor and Kathleen, and one son, Arthur H. A. Moss, who is a student at the University of Montreal newspaper man, who is now fighting in France. The two girls were in the prime of their youth and represented a type of womanhood rarely met with. Eleanor was a talented pianist at her cottage, and her daughters left for Montreal, their family consisted of three children, the two daughters, Eleanor and Kathleen, and one son, Arthur H. A. Moss, who is a student at the University of Montreal newspaper man, who is now fighting in France. The two girls were in the prime of their youth and represented a type of womanhood rarely met with. Eleanor was a talented pianist at her cottage, and her daughters left for Montreal, their family consisted of three children, the two daughters, Eleanor and Kathleen, and one son, Arthur H. A. Moss, who is a student at the University of Montreal newspaper man, who is now fighting in France. The two girls were in the prime of their youth and represented a type of womanhood rarely met with. Eleanor was a talented pianist at her cottage, and her daughters left for Montreal, their family consisted of three children, the two daughters, Eleanor and Kathleen, and one son, Arthur H. A. Moss, who is a student at the University of Montreal newspaper man, who is now fighting in France. The two girls were in the prime of their youth and represented a type of womanhood rarely met with. Eleanor was a talented pianist at her cottage, and her daughters left for Montreal, their family consisted of three children, the two daughters, Eleanor and Kathleen, and one son, Arthur H. A. Moss, who is a student at the University of Montreal newspaper man, who is now fighting in France. The two girls were in the prime of their youth and represented a type of womanhood rarely met with. Eleanor was a talented pianist at her cottage, and her daughters left for Montreal, their family consisted of three children, the two daughters, Eleanor and Kathleen, and one son, Arthur H. A. Moss, who is a student at the University of Montreal newspaper man, who is now fighting in France. The two girls were in the prime of their youth and represented a type of womanhood rarely met with. Eleanor was a talented pianist at her cottage, and her daughters left for Montreal, their family consisted of three children, the two daughters, Eleanor and Kathleen, and one son, Arthur H. A. Moss, who is a student at the University of Montreal newspaper man, who is now fighting in France. The two girls were in the prime of their youth and represented a type of womanhood rarely met with. Eleanor was a talented pianist at her cottage, and her daughters left for Montreal, their family consisted of three children, the two daughters, Eleanor and Kathleen, and one son, Arthur H. A. Moss, who is a student at the University of Montreal newspaper man, who is now fighting in France. The two girls were in the prime of their youth and represented a type of womanhood rarely met with. Eleanor was a talented pianist at her cottage, and her daughters left for Montreal, their family consisted of three children, the two daughters, Eleanor and Kathleen, and one son, Arthur H. A. Moss, who is a student at the University of Montreal newspaper man, who is now fighting in France. The two girls were in the prime of their youth and represented a type of womanhood rarely met with. Eleanor was a talented pianist at her cottage, and her daughters left for Montreal, their family consisted of three children, the two daughters, Eleanor and Kathleen, and one son, Arthur H. A. Moss, who is a student at the University of Montreal newspaper man, who is now fighting in France. The two girls were in the prime of their youth and represented