Capt. J. H. Pratt
In Fine Steamship

Former St. John Skipper Now
Commands S. S. Haleakala
—Sailed from Jacksonville
Sunday.

The many warm friends of Captain John Pratt in this city, as well as along the coast, are at all times ready to hear good news about this former popular St. John skipper.

A letter was received from him a few days ago from Jacksonville, Fla., from which port he sailed on Sunday last as commander of the steamship Haleakala, of the International Freight Corporation of New York. Captain Pratt is the Commodore of the line, and the Haleakala is a fine 600-ton ship, 410 feet length and 54 feet beam, built with a draft of 21 feet. She was built in Los Angeles three years ago and is a very fine ship. She sailed from New York a couple of weeks ago for Philadelphia where she took on about three thousand tons of cargo, and then went to San Francisco, to finish her cargo with grain. She is now on a long voyage to Bernabeu, Bahia, Rio Janeiro, Santos, Montevideo, and then to Buenos Aires. From the latter port the Haleakala will steam back to Santos, where she will load a cargo of coffee for Boston, making a voyage lasting from three to four months.

Thus last St. John, Captain Pratt has been in command of some very fine ships sailing to foreign ports; it was during the war, while he was in command of a fine large new ship, that it was picked out of a convoy by the Halifax and sunk by a German submarine.

Captain Pratt and his crew were saved by a British war ship and shortly after landed on another ship in the country, and the following day witnessed the sinking of a German sub.

In the same district where the British Hospital ship Llandovery Castle was sunk with much loss of life, including Nursing Sister Anna Stammers of St. John. It was stated at the time, that this sub was the same one which sank the Hospital ship on the same day that the new German sub was sunk.

During the past few years Captain Pratt has been sailing from Philadelphia in command of liners to Rio, Buenos Aires etc.

A. F. Bentley Was Man Nominated

Supporters of Provincial Government Pick On St. Martins
Resident As Choice for
By-Election.

The nomination of A. F. Bentley, of St. Martins, as the candidate to contest the seat in St. John county, left vacant by the resignation of Dr. J. B. M. Baxter, received the unanimous endorsement of a representative convention of government supporters at a meeting held Tuesday evening in Moose Hall. The only other name proposed was that of Counsellor Murray Campbell, who refused to have his name placed in nomination and became a non-contender.

A letter was received from him a few days ago from Jacksonville, Fla., from which port he sailed on Sunday last as commander of the steamship Haleakala, of the International Freight Corporation of New York. Captain Pratt is the Commodore of the line, and the Haleakala is a fine 600-ton ship, 410 feet length and 54 feet beam.

The convention was presided over by A. F. Johnson, of Loch Lomond. The first name submitted in nomination was that of Murray Campbell, proposed by Arnold Thorne. Mr. Campbell asked to have his name withdrawn, however, and then nominated A. F. Bentley. No other names were submitted, and Mr. Bentley's nomination was made unanimous.

After the proceedings had terminated, the nominees addressed the delegates for the honor conferred upon him, and expressed their appreciation of what he termed their "capacity for nominating," making reference to an unique feature in the history of provincial politics, in that he had so many times received the nomination in that constituency, and had been defeated on one occasion, in 1909. He advanced several reasons why Foster government must be sustained in the coming by-election and declared that we opposed the government on the part of those opposed to the government. He outlined the work being carried out in several departments of the government, and urged that the Foster administration should receive the heartiest support. The speaker promised in the coming campaign, some of the ablest men in the government would address the meetings throughout the constituency.

Dr. L. G. Curran, M. L. A., in a brief address, reviewed the situation which had been carried out in the different departments of the government in the past few years. He paid a tribute to Mr. Bentley, and congratulated the delegates on their choice of him as the candidate.

During the course of the evening, addresses were also made by John A. Barry, Counsellor Murray Campbell, Counsellor O'Brien, Arthur Carton, James O'Daniel, Amadore Anderson, counsellor Shanklin and ex-counsellor Dafoe.
