

WHAT THE GOVERNMENT IS DOING.

The government inflicts a heavy penalty on a transportation company rebating or discriminating in freight rates. These regulations are artificial and have been found necessary as a protection to the government and the business interests generally.

Does this not, therefore, establish a precedent that regulation in trade is sometimes necessary for the protection of the business interests of the community?

Gentlemen, you can only keep yourselves safe financially by understanding what this complex artificial state of trade means, and consideration of your Association obligations, as a big part, and a very important part, of your business.

If anything I have said leads to consultation and discussion of these matters I will feel that I have not taken up your time in thinking out what I have said to you this evening.
