The Tale of Two Fence-Buyers

This man bought Frost Fence

He saw the goods before buying, paid for fence service and got it.

His fence investment proved to be one of the best he ever made.

DURING the coming year the farmer must use more caution than ever in purchasing his wire fence.

Manufacturers, on account of the war, are compelled to pay a great deal more for all raw materials, and consequently must increase the selling price of their goods, unless, of course, they have a small quantity of old stock, which cost much less. Some again may adopt the decreased quality idea, which soon means dissatisfaction. The Frost method has not and will not change. Frost Fence is higher in price; but just as good as ever in quality.

We refuse to decrease the quality

FROST FENCE, to those who have used it needs no introduction. They can rest assured that we will keep our products just as good or better. Upwards of twenty years' service is woven right into its make-up. You'll do well to test our claim of "Longer Service at Lower Cost."

FROST FENCE is made complete in a Canadian factory. The wire is drawn, galvanized, and woven into fence right in this factory. The users of Frost Fence are not dependent on galvanized wire made in the United States. Instead, they get wire made especially for fence use.

The distribution of Frost Fence is made through dealers who buy in car lots. Thus you get the fence at the lowest freight rate. Moreover, you can examine it before you hand over your money.

You pay for and expect "service." Why not buy FROST "FENCE" and get it?

FROST FENCE FIRST

This man bought the other kind

He bought "sight unseen," and paid his money out for fence of unknown value.

His experience cost him money, for he soon needed a new fence.
