

Written for the Acadian. The Drunkard's Child.

I had a home, a happy home, With peace and plenty blest, (reigned) Where love and sweet contentment A haven of joy and rest.

I had a mother in those days And young and fair was she; To-night alone I walk the street With none to care for me.

I knew a father's tender love— A father's watchful care; How shall I spend the future year? And see his face no more?

My father, how I worshipped him! He was my joy and pride— The happiest hours I ever knew Were spent when by his side.

Of all the love that filled my heart The best to him I gave, But of that father sleeps to-night Within a drunkard's grave.

I wept not when my mother died, Though she was good and kind, And daily loved the orphaned boy She had to leave behind.

For oh, I knew that she was safe Upon the golden shore, Where cold and hunger, grief and pain Would trouble her no more.

I wept not when I left my home, Though bitter was the pain, To think those dear familiar rooms Would never be home again.

For still I hope was left to me— My father I might save, But that that hope is gone to-night— He fills a drunkard's grave.

I know I have another home, Not built by hands of clay, Which he who sold my father drunk Can never take away.

For 'tis a drunkard's child like me The Saviour died to save, For one that love avails for one Who fills a drunkard's grave!

I have the words in God's own Book, For read the words and 'er, Which say, to sinners' feet can tread Upon the heavenly shore.

My stricken heart can know no rest 'Till I have loved the best on earth, For him I loved the best on earth— He fills a drunkard's grave.

—LESA. "So Like Johnny." During the hard winter of 1877, when thirty thousand unemployed workmen haunted the streets of New York, driven to beggary, or too often theft, a man rang at the door of a house in one of our largest cities, and asked for something to eat.

He told a girl at my discharge from a factory, and he had a wife starving not far away. The mistress of the house made it a rule to give no alms that winter, except after a personal examination of the case of each applicant.

So she went into the kitchen and ordered a substantial meal to be set before the man, who ate ravenously. He was a young honest-looking fellow, but there were clear marks of dissipation on his face.

Suddenly he dropped his knife and fork and sat staring at the door. "Who's that?" he cried, "Johnny! Johnny!" The lady's little girl, a child of three had followed her from the nursery, and stood in her white gown by the doorway, her curls tumbling over her face.

The tramp recovered himself with a hoarse laugh. "I beg your pardon," he said. "It's your child of course. I—I haven't seen a child for a long time." But his face seemed to choke him. In a few moments he started up in agitation and said— "I am not a workman! I am Jim Floyd, and I was discharged yesterday from Moyamensing prison, where I served out a sentence for burglary. I was a decent man once. I left my wife and my old mother up in Bottsville, and—my lady!"

While he spoke his eyes were fixed on the child with a terrible hunger in them. "Little one," he said, holding out his hands with a piteous entreaty. "Shake hands with me won't you? I wouldn't hurt a hair of your head!" The mother's heart gave a great throb. The man was just out of prison. But the lady—surely God sent it—ran forward smiling, with both hands out, and knelt down beside it, the tears rolling down her cheeks. "It is so like Johnny!" he muttered. "It is so like Johnny!" "You go back to your wife and mother," said the lady.

He would not promise. "It's too late to make a decent man of me," he said, and presently, putting on his old cap, he went out. Six months later the lady received an ill-appealed letter from Pittsville. "I am at work here." That day I had planned to join the burglar again. But your little girl saved me. I came home instead. It wasn't too late.

WHAT YOUR FRIENDS AND NEIGHBORS SAY ON A MATTER OF VITAL IMPORTANCE. Below will be found a sample of the multitude of letters of encouragement Messrs H. H. Warner & Co., of Rochester, N. Y., daily receive. The subjoined unsolicited testimonials are from your friends and neighbors, ladies and gentlemen you know and esteem for their honor and straightforwardness, and who would scorn to be a party to any deception. What has been done for others can be done for you, and it is fully, my satisfied, to longer suffer when the means of recovery lie at your very door!

Interceded E. R. D. Ding Saloon, AMHERST, Nova Scotia, Jan. 1, 1887. In October, 1884, I was taken down with bleeding from the kidneys, or some of the arteries leading from them. One day, while lying, I felt something going away in the region of my left kidney and immediately after I commenced to pass blood in my water. Three doctors could not stop the flow of blood. I got "Warner's Safe Cure," and began taking it unknown to the doctors, and about the 10th of December the bleeding began to get less, and in two or three days the dropsy began to set in my legs and feet. By this time I was reduced to a mere skeleton, suffering from cramps in my legs, feet and hands, also the hic-coughs. My flesh became like a piece of white, unpolished marble, cold and no signs of any moisture. I here wish to say that I did not take any of "Warner's Safe Cure" from the 20th of December until March following. They tried all they could to check the dropsy, but had to resort to tapping at last, which was done every thirteen or fourteen days until the 23d of March. Then I was given up as hopeless, my spiritual director giving me the last dying rites of my church.

I told them, fear not, I would, with the help of God and "Warner's Safe Cure" come out all right. I then began taking "Warner's Safe Cure" every three hours, night and day, and "Warner's Safe Pills" also, and dieted as directed, and to the surprise of the doctors, my family, friends and the public, I was able to get out by the first of May for a short walk or a drive. I will continue to take "Warner's Safe Cure," and now I feel a well in health as I ever did. No more trouble with dropsy, cramps, hic-coughing, or kidneys, and consider myself a sound man again. The catarrh in the head, of which I was lately affected, also disappeared. These are all the facts of my case, as hundreds can tell you who know how low I was. As a reference I will mention the name of Mr. J. Rogers, with the firm of Evanson & Mason, of Montreal, who knows my case in full.

—M. Hamilton Toronto, Ont., (166 Wilton Ave.) Jan. 31st, 1887.—For ten years I suffered from quinsy and relaxed throat, being confined to my room for weeks at a time. I was at last induced to try "Warner's Safe Cure," and with a most beneficial result. I may say I have not suffered in the slightest from quinsy since.

—A. H. H. Hamilton Toronto, Ont., Sept. 10, 1887.—I suffered severely with lame back, at different times, for three years. My physicians said that my kidneys were affected, and treated me for Bright's disease. I obtained no relief, however, until I commenced taking "Warner's Safe Cure."

—S. D. B. Supt. Protection Police and Fire Patrol Co. of Canada. HAWKSBURY, Ont., March 27, 1887.—I have been terribly afflicted with chronic Bright's disease. My body swelled so I could scarcely move about, and my eyesight was affected so that I could hardly distinguish objects across the room. I had a distressing cough from the pressure of water in my lungs, and in danger of suffocation whenever I attempted to lie down. My limbs were so swollen that I could not bend my joints or sit on a chair. The valves of my heart refused their office. At times circulation seemed entirely suspended so that I was incapable of moving a limb, and at other times increased action of my heart would cause such a pain in my head as words are inadequate to describe. Then again my stomach refused all nourishment and I can only attend to me and there was no growing weaker everyday. The physicians; he could do no more for me and that a few days would see the end. At this stage I resorted to "Warner's Safe Cure" and "Warner's Safe Pills," and with most satisfactory results, although it was two or three weeks after I commenced their use before much decided improvement was manifested. My recovery then was very rapid. My weight from dropsical swelling was then 132lb. and is now reduced to 107, about my normal weight. Analysis showed 90 per cent. albumen with a quantity of tube casts, and is now reduced to 10 per cent. I am so far recovered as to be able to attend my domestic duties, taking moderately long walks and visit friends as formerly. "Warner's Safe Pills" has so far corrected the action of my heart that the severe pain in my head has entirely left.

—Mrs. J. B. Spence Justice Burdige, of the Exchequer Court, will hear cases in the Maritime Provinces for about two weeks, commencing on the second of May.

The Lak Charles American, a Louisiana paper, gives a nearly complete and correct list of the British naval force in North America and West India waters, and remarks, in regard to provision, for the entire of America's forces, that though this is the weakest of the numerous English foreign squadrons, it is far more powerful than any the United States could at present put afloat.

Speaking of the fishery treaty, Minister Phelps said: "I am of the opinion that it is a fair, just and equitable adjustment, and I hope it will be ratified. It seems satisfactory in England as far as I am told. But the English people have really little interest in the subject except to satisfy Canada. What satisfies Canada will satisfy England. That is the sum of what may be said concerning English feeling."

An Extraordinary Offer TO ALL WANTING EMPLOYMENT. We want live, energetic agents in every county in the United States and Canada to sell a patent article of great merit, on its merits. An article having a large sale, paying over 100 per cent profit, having no competition, and in which the agent is protected in the exclusive sale by a deed given for each and every county he may secure from us. With all these advantages to our agents, and the fact that it is an article that can be sold to every house owner, it might not be necessary to make "AN EXTRAORDINARY OFFER" to secure good agents to sell our business. Our agents now at work are making from $100 to $500 a month clear, and this fact makes it safe for us to make our offer to all who are out of employment. Any agent that will give up his business, and take a month to clear at least $100 in this time, may ALL REPRESENTATIVES, can return all goods unsold to us and we will refund the money paid for them. No other employer of agents ever dared to make such offers, nor would we if we did not know that we have agents now making more than double this amount. Our large descriptive circulars explain our offer fully, and those we wish to send to everyone out of employment who will send us three cent stamps for postage. Send at once and secure the agency in time for the boom, and go to work on the terms named in our extraordinary offer. Address, at once, NATIONAL NOVELTY CO., 514 Smithfield St., Pittsburgh, Pa.
