Household Hints.

Charcoal powder will be found a first rate thing to give knives a polish.
Glaze the bottom crust of fruit pies with white of egg and they will not soggy.

A half teaspoonful of soda in half a cup of water will relieve sick headache caused by indigestion.
A hard cold is oftentimes cured by a cup of hot lemonade taken at bedtime, as it produces perspiration.

Teething children may be relieved of convulsions by being immersed in a warm bath and cold water applied to the head.
The Scientific American recommends a gargle of salt and water for diphtheritic sore throat, with a light diet. This is the first sorusene. Also a syrup of onions, sugar and honey for obstinate coughs.

For croup or pneumonia bruise raw onions, lay on a cloth with powdered gum camphor sprinkled over it and apply to chest and lungs and cover with hot flannel. This is a sure cure if taken in time.
Fried bananas are a pleasant breakfast relish. Choose very firm bananas; peel and slice them; sprinkle with a little salt; dip the pieces in thin batter and fry in butter a delicate brown. They must be served immediately.

A little turpentine in the wash boiler will make clothes very white and will often remove inscurible stains from white goods. A tablespoonful to a large boiler, or a teaspoonful to two gallons of water. There is no smell, the boiling preventing it.

OLD AGE AND DECAY.
How to Retain the Blood and Vigor for a Long Life.

The following good advice is given by Dr. Benjamin Ward Richardson: The rules for the prevention of senile disease are all personal. They should begin in youth. It should be a rule among grown-up persons never to subject children to mental shocks and unnecessary griefs.

When, in the surrounding of the child life, some grave calamity has occurred, it is best to make the event as light as possible to the child and certainly to avoid thrilling it with sights and detail which stir it to the utmost, and in the end only leave upon the mind and heart incurable wounds and impressions. Children should never be taken to funerals, nor to sights that cause a sense of fear and dread combined with great grief, nor to sights which call forth pain and agony in man or in the lower animals.

To avoid premature old age in mature life, the following are important points to remember:
Grief anticipates age. Dwelling on the inevitable past, forming vain hypotheses as to what might have been if this or that had not been, acquiring a craze for recounting what has occurred—these acts do more harm to future health and effort than many things connected with real calamity. Occupation and new pursuits are the best preventives for mental shock and bereavement.

Hate anticipates age. Hate keeps the heart always at full tension. It gives rise to oppression of the brain and senses. It confuses the whole man. It robs the stomach of nervous power, and digestion being impaired, the failure of life begins at once. Those, therefore, who are born with this passion—and a good many, I fear, are—should give it up.

Jealousy anticipates age. The facial expression of jealousy is old age, in however young a face it may be cast. Jealousy preys upon and kills the heart. So, jealous men are not only unhappy, but broken hearted, and live short lives. I have never known a man of jealous nature live anything like a long life or a useful life. The prevention of jealousy is diversion of mind toward useful and unselfish work.

Unhastiness anticipates age. Everything that interferes with chastity favors vital deterioration, while the grosser departures from chastity, leading to specific and hereditary disease, are certain causes of organic degeneration and premature old age. Thus chastity is preventive of senile decay.

Intemperance anticipates age. The more the social causes of mental and physical organic diseases are investigated, the more closely the origin of degenerative organic changes leading to premature deterioration and decay are questioned, the more closely does it come out that intemperance, often not suspected by the person himself who is implicated in its influence, is at the root of the evil.

When old age has really commenced, its march towards final decay is best delayed by attention to those rules of conservation by which life is sustained with the least friction and the least waste.

The precise rules for this purpose are:
To subsist on light but nutritious diet, with milk as the standard food, but varied according to season.
To take food, in moderate quantity, four times in the day, including a light meal before going to bed.
To clothe warmly but lightly, so that the body may, in all seasons, maintain its equal temperature.
To keep the body in fair exercise, and the mind active and cheerful.
To maintain an interest in what is going on in the world, and to take part in reasonable labors and pleasures, as though old age were not present.
To take plenty of sleep during sleeping hours. To spend nine hours in bed at the least, and to take care during cold weather that the temperature of the bedroom is maintained at 60° Fah.
To avoid passion, excitement, luxury.

Seeing is believing. Read the testimonials in the pamphlet on Dr. Van Buren's Kidney Cure, then buy a bottle and relieve yourself of all those distressing pains. Your Druggist can tell you about it. Sold by J. Wilson Goderich 2m

Miss Fussanfeather drank a glass of milk at Mrs. Crimmon's last evening. When asked her opinion she said it was just heavenly. She explained to her ma when she got home that she had said so because it was so blue.

His Last Tick.

Old Sexton Brown, the once famous sexton of Grace Church, New York, used to show his friends an epitaph, which he copied from a tombstone in Wales, as one of the rarest curiosities of churchyard literature.

"Here lies in a horizontal position the outside case of George Rutledge, watchmaker, whose ability in that line was an honor to his profession. Integrity was the mainspring and prudence the regulator of all the actions of his life. Humane, honest, industrious, his hands never stopped until they had relieved distress. He had the art of disposing of his time in such a way that he never went wrong except when set a-going by persons who did not know his key, and even then was easily set aright again. He departed this life Nov. 7, 1811, wound up in the hope of being taken in hand by his Maker, thoroughly cleaned, regulated and repaired and set a-going in the world to come."

Good Values.

Many sufferers buying medicine have been disappointed, don't give up, buy a reliable article like Dr. Chase's Liver Cure, and with it you get a recipe book alone worth the money. James Wilson, sole agent.

A right-handed man is a man who takes hold of a hoe, a rake, a spade, or a fork, with the right hand down and the left hand up, or nearest the body. A man who habitually puts his left hand down, or, for instance, the man who places his right hand on the top of a spade, and grasps the handle or shake with his left hand, is a left handed man. And so with an axe. A right handed man and left handed man can work together in chopping down a tree. If they were both right handed or both left handed, they could not do this unless one chopped on one side of the tree and the other on the other side. And so it is loading earth into a wagon. If the man stand face to face, one should be left handed and the other right handed. In hoeing a row of corn, the right handed man will walk on the left side of the row, while the left handed man will walk on the right side of it.

Fever colic, unnatural appetite, fretfulness, weakness, and convulsions, are some of the effects of Worms in Children; destroy the worms with Dr. Low's Worm Syrup.

PROPERTY CHANGE.—The property belonging to the estate of the late H. B. Evans, was put up by auction at Clinton, and both lots disposed of. A quarter acre lot in Kippen, with small store thereon, was sold to James Moore, to Kippen, for $200. Lots 833-834, Mary St., Clinton, were sold to John Rioult, for $395. In both cases the prices were better than the vendors anticipated.

The tide water pipe Co., Bradford, P.A., always keep a stock of Giles' Iodide Ammonia Lintiment on hand. It is a necessity, and achieves wonders in all forms of horse troubles sold by F. Jordan, Goderich.
