Notes From Sound Island

The Orangemen celebrated their annual parade, New Year's Day, Jan. 1st. About 60 Orangemen paraded from the hall to Samuel J. Eddies (Newtown), thence to the church for Divine Service, where the Rev. Robt. H. Mercer gave a very brief speech which was well appreciated and enjoyed by all the brethren present. They then marched to the church to sing "God Save the King," and gave three good cheers for King George the Fifth, they then returned to the hall where the ladies had the tables spread (such a fancy way, that one Brother (the Past Worshipful Master) from Boyne Lodge, "Victoria Village," extended his hearty congratulations to the ladies and also to the Brethren for carrying out their parade so splendidly as they did.

The Ladies' Aid also celebrated their Annual Sale of Work at the Orange Hall, December 10th, 1911, which was well attended, but owing to weather being stormy there were a great many people who could not attend. The excellent amount which was raised was $130.00, which we are glad to report for such a small place in raising that amount. We extend our hearty congratulations to the ladies in doing such good work.

The past few days it has been very boisterous weather around this vicinity. Mr. Wm. Flynn's boat which was moored near Sound Island, sank Saturday morning during the storm, which was a severe loss to the owner.

Herring are very scarce around here, but reported fairly plentiful at Mussel Harbor and Tack's Beach. CORRESPONDENT. Sound Island, Jan. 6th, 1912.

Pure English. "My dear, I wish you would speak more carefully," said a stickler for pure English to his wife. "You say that 'Henry Jones came to this town from Sunderland.' Don't you see that it would be better to say that he 'came from Sunderland to this town'?" "I don't see any difference in the two expressions," rejoined the lady. "But there is a difference in the two expressions—a rhetorical difference. You don't hear me make use of such awkward expressions. By the way, I have a letter from your father in my pocket."

"Oh, dear, is my father in your pocket?" inquired the wife. "You mean that you have in your pocket a letter from my father."

"There you go with your little quibbles! You take a delight in harassing me; you are always taking up a thread and representing it as a rope."

"Representing it to be a rope, you mean, dear?"

And then he grinned a sickly grin and wished he had never started the discussion. —Tit-Bits.

No'es From Greenspond.

During the past week we have had old time winter weather—gales of wind, terrific snow storms, and exceptionally severe frost. Added to that a very heavy sea have in and injured a little floating property.

The principal Methodist teacher got a very pleasant surprise on Xmas morning. One of his school girls called at his residence and left a small parcel, which when opened was found to contain a purse of money and Xmas greetings. The school girls had arranged it so quietly that no person seems to have had the slightest idea that anything of the sort was being projected. Little deeds like this make a pleasant feeling between scholars and teacher.

Silver, Ltd., is having three fairly large motor boats built here this year. Those built here last year must have given good satisfaction or the Co. would not be getting more orders for others. The same company is having a large number of lobster cans made here this year. During the past two years some 800 cans have been made yearly, but rumor has it that this year the number to be made will nearly double that of former years.

Water is now very scarce here. I have had no reservoir now it is quite questionable if we could get enough water to drink. Certain it is that some of the people would have to go a long way for it. The great complaint now is, the people have to wait a long while for their turn, as we have only one hydrant. Last year a petition with the majority of the voters' names to it was presented to the Government for an extension of the water system, but so far very little has been done to supply the great want of the people. The people are determined to resent the treatment meted out to them in this direction and they are only waiting for a chance to vote again, when this extravagant picknicking party will be buried beneath an avalanche of disgusted Tory voters. CORRESPONDENT. Greenspond, Jan. 11, 1912.

Ask your Druggist for SERRAVALLO'S TONIC (Bark and Iron Wine). Cures: ANAEMIA, CHLOROSIS, DEBILITY. Delightful Taste.

A SUCCESSFUL CONCERT.—The pupils attending the day school at Spencer's Cove held a very successful concert there on St. Stephen's Day. The schoolroom was packed. Mr. A. Butcher took the chair. All the items on the programme were well rendered. Miss Dudden, C. E. teacher, deserves great credit for the excellent training imparted to her pupils.

To-Day's News.

Special to Evening Telegram.

BERLIN, Jan. 15. An immense rally around the Socialist flag, during the election for the Reichstag, is indicated by the figures taken at random of the number of voters in fifty constituencies, which shows that nearly 32 per cent. of the voters went Socialist. This forebodes that the aggregate Socialist vote at the conclusion of polling will total 4,400,000. The Zeitung heads its columns with warnings to the Government and all non-Socialist parties to make efforts in the second balloting against the return of Socialist candidates. Socialists, it says, are exercising turbulent terrorism at home, and build up the visionary hope of a general fraternization of the peoples of the world.

The Foreign enemies and rivals of the German empire, the newspaper continues, build hopes upon the Socialists and will rejoice if they add to their victories on the second ballots. The conclusion of the article says: "Our work for peace can only prosper when we keep ourselves strong, united as a nation. Among the first tasks of the new Reichstag will be the guaranteeing of our defensive powers. The party calling itself international is incapable of meeting this most important demand."

Special to Evening Telegram.

PARIS, To-day. The French Cabinet is organized and Premier Poincaré has officially announced the following appointments: Premier and Minister of Foreign Affairs, Poincaré; Minister of Justice, Briand; Minister of Labour, Bourgeois; Minister of War, Miller; and Minister of Marine, Delcasse; Minister of Finance, Klotz; Minister of Interior, Steeg; Minister of Public Works, Dupuy; Minister of Agriculture, Pams; Minister of Colonies, Lebrun; Minister of Public Instruction, Guishaw; Minister of Commerce, David. President Fallières received the new Ministry afterwards which met and drew up a declaration which will be read in the Chamber of Deputies on Tuesday. It will be short, insisting first on the necessity of quick ratification of the Franco-German agreement respecting Morocco, and will announce that the Government will do its best to secure and ensure the early satisfaction and conclusion of the Franco-Spanish negotiations.

Special Evening Telegram.

GERMANY, To-day. Unofficial returns of the result of polling at the elections have been received from all of the 37 constituencies. Owing to discrepancies in the tabulation it is still difficult to make any definite prediction of the complexion of the new Reichstag, as there are 189 constituencies in which a second ballot will be necessary. The Conservatives and Clerical coalition which controlled the Imperial Parliament since the fall of Prince Von Buelow has been badly shaken. Their absolute majority is probably a thing of the past but the combination of the two powerful parties must still be reckoned with as the strongest factor in the Reichstag. The Socialists have run up the number of elected members already to 66 of which 20 are taken from members of other parties. The Socialists are also concerned in 122 second ballots. They need only hold their own in re-balloting in order to return to the Reichstag as strong numerically as they were in 1903 when their representation reached the high water mark. The National Liberals and Radicals paid the major portion of the bill for the Socialist feat on the first ballots, but the Conservatives Centrist will pay for remainder of the reckoning on the second balloting.

Special Evening Telegram.

MANCHESTER, To-day. Sir George Asquith, representing the Board of Trade, who is engaged in an endeavour to bring about a settlement of the cotton dispute in Lancashire, allowed it to be known that he has a new suggestion in connection with the strike, which he thinks will meet the views of both sides. He will present the plan when the Conferences with masters and men are resumed to-day.

Special to Evening Telegram.

PEKING, To-day. Despatches from the Province report many murders, looting, burning houses, hundreds of women committing suicide in fear of bandits who are committing all kinds of atrocities. The armistice expires on January 17. It is therefore expected abdication will be completed before that date.

Special to Evening Telegram.

BOSTON, To-day. The Grand Trunk Railway petitioned the General Court authority to construct lines into Boston and Worcester, and to own and operate steamships within the jurisdiction of the Commonwealth.
