sessons of the peace, which opened ward Elliott, the first case taken up was that of Vining vs Taylor, which occupied both yesterday afternoon's and this morning's sessions, going to the jury just before the noon adjournment. The case was one in which John P. Vining, a London township farmer, sued Samuel Taylor, also a farmer, for $200 damages, for having cut and removed timber from land previously sold by defendant to plaintiff. Shortly after the resumption of court this afternoon the jury returned and gave a verdict for plaintiff, with $125 damages. Yesterday afternoon true bills were returned by the grand jury against W. H. Bartram on the charge of assaulting Robert McGarry, and against Warren Jenkins on the charge of assaulting John McDowell. No further bills were returned today up to 2:30

On the resumption of the court this afternoon, the charge against Mr. W. H. Bartram was taken up. #### City Hall Notes.

These are the days when syndicates of various and sometimes nondescript character are looming up as thick as the gnats of springtime. The latest one to rise above the local horizon as a full-fledged syndicate is not a workingman's bogey, because of tentacled ambition to corral food products or articles of apparel, but it is simply a vote-controller, and before being acknowledged by one of its most prominent members as a syndicate was known as the Real Estate Owners' Protective

In conversation today, a prominent member said that the "synd.cate," as he named it, would strive to secure control of next year's council. It was possible, he said, that no definite slate nominees would be presented to the electors, but if no particular men were nominated by it, twelve suitable men of those running would be chosen and supported by the members of the association. In either case, it was probable that the "syndicate" would plump for eight of these and let the other four take care of themselves. 'Nearly all of our 300 odd members, he added, "will vote in this way." It must be remembered, too, that a constderable number of these gentlemen own property in more than one ward. and have a vote for each of the twelve candidates, as often as they are quali-For instance, Mr. Wm. Scarrow, who is mentioned as a possible candidate, can vote for twelve nominees four times, or he can plump for one. The speaker said further that as far as he knew very many of the present members of the association would support Mayor Rumball for a second term. In regard to the proposed abolition of the hospital trust, he said that his personal opinion—which he believed to be that held by the association as a whole-was that the hospital should be left in charge of the trust, but they would advocate making business man superintendent.

The ladies of the Soldiers' Wives' League and the reception committee held a joint meeting at city hall this morning, and discussed the question of supplying the returning soldiers a uncheon when they arrive here. # WAS AROUSED

During Today's Debate in the British House of Commons.

Proposal to Offer Terms to the Boers-Mr. Brodrick Defends the Government's Policy.

London, Dec. 12 .- Considerable irritation was aroused during today's debate on supply in the House of Commons. Sir Robert T. Reid, Q.C., (Liberal), painted a gloomy picture of the conditions in South Africa. He said that after a fourteen months' war, costing $25,000,000 per month, anarchy was prevalent and famine was threatened, and this might be followed by a native rising. An attempt to place the colonies under military rule, he added, would imperil the very existence of the empire. He thought the time h d arrived for offering the Boen terms not inconsistent with British dominion. All deas of unconditional surrender should be discarded. Mr. James Bryce (Liberal) suggested granting general amnesty to the Boers now in arms as legitimate com-batants. The government, he said, had no right to treat the Boers as rebels. The negotiations should not be entrusted to Sir Alfred Milner (the British high commissioner), who was an object of almost universal distrust, including at least half the Queen's subjects in South Africa. Mr. William St. John Brodrick, the secretary of war, hotly challenged the statement anent Sir Alfred Milner. He declared that whatever else it might do the government would never weaken the power or the responsibility yesterday afternoon before Judge Ed-ward Elliott the first case taken up.

Sir Robert Reid's speech, Mr. Brodrick asserted, was impracticable, unwise and mischievous. He had gone out of his way to gratify the Queen's enemies. The government was perfectly willing to offer terms for surrender, so long as it could not be interpreted as proof of weakness, and thereby causing a prolongation of the guerilla warfare. WANTS 400,000,000 MARKS.

Constantinople, Tuesday, Dec. 11.— The Americans were the only foreigners at the dinner given at the Yildiz says.
Palace Monday. The sultan sat between the grand vizier and the United culiar States charge de affairs, Mr. Griscom, and showed unusual cordiality. His majesty's display of excessive friendliness for Capt. Colby M. Chester, of the United States battleship Kentucky is attributed to his desire to demonstrate that the visit of the Kentucky to Smyrna has produced no irritation. THE IRISH NATIONAL LEAGUE.

Dublin, Dec. 12.-The Nationalist convention resumed its sessions today, Mr. John Redmond presiding. After resolutions had been adopted, amending the constitution of the United Irish League, and making the National convention an annual fixture, Mr. William O'Brien made himself more popular with the delegates by moving a strongly worded resolution in favor of the abolition of landlordism in Ireland and the transferring of the soil to the occupying proprietary. Ireland's struggle declared, should continue unceasing until the landlords were forced to abandon their present intolerable system of dual control.

A NEW DEVICE

To Relieve Street Car Conductors of Shout- | Need of Coal ing the Names of Streets.

The "phonographic enunciator" for street cars is a new device to relieve the overworked conductor of the trouble of shouting the names of streets, while giving passengers a better chance to understand when they have arrived at their destinations. As matter of course, the "enunciator" will be very plain of speech, so that nobody need be in doubt as to what it

It is a phonograph instrument of peculiar pattern, and is intended to be placed above the door at the forward end of the car. The record cylinder which it contains has inscribed on it | spoken occupy the following time: in a series the names of the streets to be crossed on the route. On approaching a crossing the conductor presses a button, and the apparatus yells: "Nine teenth street! Change for West Philadelphia!

Any place of special interest may be similarly announced, suc has a theater, a big shop or a hotel.

It is claimed by the inventor that his contrivance is equally applicable to a railroad car. An "enunciator" installed in each such passenger vehicle, the brakeman will not be obliged to put his head through the door and shout some unintelligible Choctaw. On the contrary, the duty of communicating information about stations will be regulated to the instrument, which, just before a stopping place is reached will, at the touch of a button by the conductor-one button will do for al the cars on a train-make the requisite announcement in a clear and audib

Another inventor has just patented a phonographic fire alarm, which on the breaking out of fire in a building prowided with the apparatus, "causes the transmission of an audible signal, giving, in the tones of the human voice the exact location of the fire both to parties in the vicinity and, by telephone, to the fire department." In other words, the rise of temperature in its neighborhood so actuates it as to cause it automatically to telephone for the fire engines and to shout a warning to the people who are in the somewhat colder than Southern Onbut not any colder than some of the densely populated countries of Europe. The records of temperatures kept by the Hudson Bay show that the temperature at Mcose Factory, on the southern shore James Bay, during the coldest winter months, is not three degrees lower than that of Port Arthur, on Lake Superior. During the spring and early summer Port Arthur's temperature is five or six degrees higher, while July, August, September and October the temperature at the two points almost precisely the same. A slightly higher temperature prevails throughout the district between the height of land and James Bay than at Moose Factory, but along the height of land. the winters are somewhat colder, the difference in latitude being offset by the lower elevation as the country slopes toward James Bay. It is b Meyed also that the many small lakes in this northern part of the province tend to moderate the climate. thermometer never registers quite low in the most northern part Ontario as it does in Minnesota, Dakota, Montana or Manitoba.
