MANUFACTURERS' LEAGUE ORGANIZES FOR SEASON

It Is Likely That the League Will Be Composed of Eight Teams This Winter—Officers Were All Re-elected—Bylaws To Be Changed.

The Manufacturers' Hockey League held a meeting in the Y. M. C. A. parlors last evening, and reorganized for the coming season. The league this year will likely be composed of eight teams, six being represented at last night's meeting. Representatives from McClarys, McCormicks, Lawson & Jones, Perrins, Greene-Swifts and McLeod & Nolans were present, and, judging from the enthusiasm shown already, the league should enjoy its most prosperous season this coming winter.

Two New Members.

McClarys and McLeod-Nolans are new members of the league, and they both intend to put in strong teams. The league will make an effort to land two other teams, and make an eight-team league. If the Jubilee rink decides to put in ice this coming winter, it is likely the league will be divided up into two sections, part playing in the East End rink and the other section playing in the Westminster rink. A play-off between the two winners would decide the championship of the league at the end of the season.

Officers Re-Elected.

The officers of the league were all re-elected as follows: President, R. Lawson; vice-president, N. B. Graham; secretary-treasurer, Ernie Gill.

It was decided to change the bylaws of the league to a certain extent, and a committee was formed for that purpose. It was also decided to engage the services of Sid Rankin, the popular O. H. A. referee, to officiate at all Manufacturers' League games this winter.

The league will not meet again until next month.

UNFORTUNATE DAY FOR MACKMEN

A Substitute Infielder Had His Wrist Broken in Game With Yanks.

TOO COLD FOR PITCHERS

Plank Did Not Show Up to World's Series Form—Senators and Red Sox Won and Lost.

Philadelphia, Oct. 3. — This was an unfortunate day for the Philadelphia champions—unfortunate because the weather was too cold and blustery for their pitchers to get a good tuning up for the world's series, and unfortunate because Orr, the first substitute infielder, had his right hand broken. Philadelphia won the first game by 13 to 10 and New York the second, which was called on account of darkness at the end of the sixth inning, by 2 to 1.

Orr's injury was received in the second game, when he touched out Hartzell, who tried to steal third base in the fourth inning. Hartzell's spikes were driven into Orr's hand and one of the bones fractured. This was the second accident of the series with New York, Catcher Schang having had his hand hurt by a foul tip yesterday, but the injury is not thought to be serious. The scores:

World's Series Stars Haven't Anything on "the Punch" They Had Back in the 80's Says Billy Sunday!

FAMOUS EVANGELIST, WHO WAS FASTEST PLAYER BASEBALL EVER KNEW, PREDICTING GIANTS TO LAND CHAMPIONSHIP, COMPARES 1913 LINEUP WITH OLD-TIMERS, AND ADDS SOME FLASHING COMMENTS.

BY BILLY SUNDAY,

Now the World's Most Successful Evangelist, But in the 80's a Star of Anson's Famous White Stockings, and Fleetest Ball Player That Ever Wore Spiked Shoes.

[Copyright, 1913, by the Newspaper Enterprise Association.]

The world's series will be a great exhibition of baseball, but it won't be any more interesting or exciting than the series of the 80's between the National league and American Association winners!

They say the game is faster than when I played, but you'll have to show me. They say it is more scientific. Maybe, but it wasn't quite so rough-and-ready as some fans think.

In the series this year will be Baker, Collins, Oldring, McInnes, Murphy, Herzog, Burns, McCormick, Merkle, Meyers—all great batters, but how about Brouthers, Thompson, Roger Connor, Richardson, Kelley, Ewing, Comiskey, Anson, Dalrymple, Ryan, O'Neill, Stovey, Welch and Browning?

You read about the speed of Collins, Snodgrass, Merkle, McInnes and Herzog. Could they outsprint Latham, Pfeffer, Stovey, Hamilton and, may I add, Billy Sunday?

(Editor's Note—Sunday is the fastest man who ever played in the National league. He was timed 100 yards in 10 1-5 seconds, and his race with Latham was a hollow victory. Sunday was once timed 300 yards in 31 seconds, flat.)

I have read much of the scoring from second on an infield out by speed-merchants like Ty Cobb and Joe Jackson, and of the hit-and-run play as proving baseball is faster today.

WE DID these things, too, but we had no names for them. I scored twice from second on infield outs in one series. The first time King Kelly signaled that he'd hit the next ball and I started with the pitcher's motion, sliding around the catcher as the ball was relayed from first, where "Kel" had been retired.

Great speed and perfect timing are necessary to score from second, but only the cleanest fielding can prevent a good sprinter turning the trick.

Jake Daubert, Chase and Konetchy are the best first basemen today, but I never saw the man who had a thing on Captain Anson! I have seen him take throws from Ed Williamson, bare handed—and, man, how Williamson could hop that ball across from short field! As for fielding, how much better are these chaps than Charlie Comiskey?

What pitcher today is better than John Clarkson, the only man who ever threw an overhand raise ball; than McCormick, than Jim Keefe, with his marvelous change of pace; than Mickey Welch, than Radbourne, or Amos Rusie, the greatest of them all? When Amos was right his fast ball looked like a streak of dust.

DURBOROUGH PHOTO

Specially Posed by the Rev. Billy Sunday for The Advertiser.

Billy Sunday, perhaps not so fleet as when he fielded in the '80's, nevertheless works in his garden today spryly enough!

Compare Chief Meyers, Lapp, Wilson and Schang to the greatest backstop that ever lived—"Silver" Flint, or to "Buck" Ewing, or Charlie Bennett, and TELL ME THE ANSWER.

Eddie Collins is a great second baseman, who forced the rulemakers to write Section 8 of Rule 51, which declares the batter out if he bat an infield fly, with first and second occupied, because of his deadly trapping, I enjoy a chuckle.

There have been Baker, Bradley, Collins, Herzog—all great third baseman—but not one of them compared with Billy Nash or Denny.

Ed Williamson, despite his size and weight, was the fastest shortstop I ever saw. His fielding and ability to throw with terrific speed from any position was simply marvelous—and he played with bare hands, REMEMBER!

And are Barry and Fletcher better than Jack Glassock or Herman Long?

The great batters—Cobb, Jackson, Wagner, Daubert, Lajoie, McDonald, Speaker—what have they on Ed Delahanty, Sam Thompson, Ed Williamson, Tip O'Neill, Mike Tiernan, Captain Anson, Browning, Ewing, Brouthers, Richardson or, the greatest of them all, Mike Kelley, whose ability to foul off the ball forced the foul strike rule?

I have seen Kelley foul off a dozen balls at one turn at bat and drive Ferguson of the Phillies from the box, saying things you can't print—and wouldn't want to!

Recently, against Walter Johnson, the Athletics laid down bunt after bunt—seven, I believe. Johnson got the first six, but on the seventh went up in the air and the Athletics took the bacon—it was just the same thing Kelley did—under a different rule.

The only advance I see is the improvement in team work. We had signals. The batter tipped the runner and the catcher tipped the baseman when he would throw. The signal system may not have been so perfect, but it got results.

There are MORE stars today, but NOT GREATER ones than in the day of the series between the National league and American association.

TWO L.C.I. PLAYERS HURT AT ST. THOMAS

Brickenden Fractured His Ankle, While Stuart Dislocated His Shoulder During Game With Saints.

The London Collegiate Rugby Club ran into a bunch of hard luck at St. Thomas yesterday in its first game of the season. The Collegiate team was not only defeated for the first time in its history by St. Thomas, but a couple of the team's best players were badly hurt and will be out of the game for the balance of the season in all probability. Harrison Stuart, the fullback, had his shoulder dislocated while tackling a St. Thomas man, and Centre Half Brickenden badly sprained his ankle. Both players had to be carried off the field. It is thought that Brickenden fractured a bone in his ankle, and it is doubtful if he or Stuart will play again this season. The final score of the game was 20 to 0, in favor of St. Thomas.

London rugby players have been unfortunate so far this year. Tom Chatto, of the O. R. F. U. team, had his wrist broken a couple of nights ago while practicing at Tecumseh Park.
