Sylvia Pankhurst Escapes Police Not One of His Rich Pickings Is by a Clever Rus and Addresses Meeting.

London, Nov. 6 .- By a clever stratagem, which completely hoodwinked the large force of police sent to prevent her from speaking, Miss Sylvia Pankhurst was enabled to announce at the Bow Baths, in the east end of London, last night, the formation of a volunteer corps, organized under command of Captain Sir Francis Vane, a Boer war veteran, for the protection of militant suffragettes and labor unionists.

Miss Celie Emerson, of Jackson. Mich., presided over the meeting. Just meeting was called to order the statement was made that the residence of George Lansbury, Socialist member of Parliament, and a warm supporter of the militant suffragettes. was surrounded by police. The crowd rushed from the Baths and found a large number of foot and mounted police around Lansbury's house, with a taxicab in front of the entrance.

Noisy Crowds. Mr. Lansbury arrived on the scene and was uproariously greeted as he entered his home. The report was spread that the preparations portended the arrest of Sylvia Pankhurst.

The lights in the house were extinguished and suddenly a woman rushed from the doorway and sprang into the taxi, which, surrounded by mounted police, proceeded to Bethnal Green. Then Miss Daisy Lansbury, daughter of the ex-Socialist member, stepped out of the taxi much to the discomfiture of the police. Meanwhile Miss Pankhurst entered the Baths practically unobserved. only disorder was caused by an attack by the women on a few reporters whom they suspected of being detectives. Mr. Lansbury and Sir Francis Vane followed Miss Pankhurst to the platform. The Boer veteran explained that he proposed to establish a labor training corps. Waved Big Club.

Waving aloft a huge knotted club, Sir Francis said he was prepared to use that weapon wherever he saw women injured, and in labor disputes, or wherever the oppressed needed aid. Says He Was Seen Dragging Body to Furnace in Brick . Yards.

[Canadian Press.] Kiev, Russia, Nov. 6.-The name of Mendel Beiliss, Mendel Belliss, the man standing trial for the alleged murder of the Christian boy Andrew Yushinsky, in March, it was barely mentioned in the speech counsel for the prosecution today. T This was remarked by those present in court, as the same thing happened when counsel delivered his opening speech.

Toward the end of his address to the ury, however, prosecuting counsel expressed his profound Beiliss was guilty, and remarked that the accused had been seen dragging young Yushinsky toward the brick fur where Beiliss was employed, and "Mendel Beiliss possibly was an excellent father and a virtuous man, who lived modestly, and was certainly religious, but does this preclude the possibility of the perpetration by him of a crime which, from his standboint, was not a crime? He regards himself as an expiatory vic tim for his co-religionists."

Counsel for the prosecution then dwelt en the subject of the clay found on young

Yushinsky's clothing, which, he said, resembled that of the soil near the stable where the prosecution believes the murder was committed and where Mrs Beills went to live after the arrest of her hus-band. The stable was whitewashed before the visit of Krassovsky, the detective, and was burned down charge of the preliminary investiga-

There was no the board of estimate. scarcely more in the board of aldermen, none in all the city deborough of Manhattan, Brooklyn. If starvation can kill Tammany, Tammany is very ill.

A Tammany leader of the order, one of the men who have been in the inner circle at Tammany Hall for years, was asked today Murphy's days are numbered.

Will Still Fight.

"Murphy go?" he said. "He won't go without a fight, and what's the use of fighting? We haven't got anything to fight about. The other fellows have all the jobs."

But everywhere was the rumor that Murphy must go, if not from one cause, then from another. The real change that politicians brought against him was one of generalship. Why did Murphy let the impeachment of Sulzer come just when it did? Was it not in the primer of politics that the revenge of Sulzer's supporters would be visited on the candidate of Tammany Hall, no matter what his personal capacity might be? Was not Murphy primarily to blame for letting Judge McCall stand before the people as a paschal offering for the acts of Sulzer, and against Sulzer? Murphy Complacent.

Murphy himself did not think anything of the sort. At any rate, he did not admit it, when he talked for the newspapers today. Not a cloud was on his brow. John Warner Had Made Many Friends in Vicinity of Melrose.

The funeral of John Warner, aged 20 rears, who died on Sunday in Victoria Hospital, following an operation for appendicitis, was held at 2 o'clock on Wednesday from Logan's undertaking rooms, to Melrose Cemetery. Services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Durnsford, of Hyde Park English Church. The numerous friends of the young man paid their last respects by attending the funeral in large numbers. Mr. Warner had only been in the country six months, coming from Montenham, England, where his parents and several brothers reside. He had been employed on a farm by D. H. Selles, of Melrose. He stood high in the regard of his employer and family, and made many friends in the district. His parents, brothers and sisters in England, and his friend, E. Smith, who came with him to this country, have
