ST. LOUIS, Sept. 26.—George Sisler, acclaimed the most valuable player in the American League, and Rogers Hornsby, who leads the National League in hits and home runs, have revealed plans to go barnstorming after the close of the season.

Sisler is organizing a team to tour the New England States, while Hornsby has signed up with Milton Stock, also of the Cardinals, who is organizing a post-season aggregation.

Chicago, Shorten, utility outfielder of the Browns, and several Boston Americans will be in Sisler's line-up, including Pitcher Piercey and Outfielder Mike Menosky.

OTTAWA HOCKEYISTS ARE BOUND FOR PITTSBURG

OTTAWA, Sept. 26.—Ottawa has lost the services of three of their best amateur hockey players in the persons of Harry Fleming of the St. Patricks, "Hib" Mils and Harold Barnhart of the "runners" team, champions of the Capital Hockey League. The depart- ing puckchangers are headed for Pitts- burg, where they are scheduled to wear the uniform of the Pittsburgh A. A. team, which in the past has sported many Canadians in their line-up. The trio was among the outstanding stars in the Capital League last winter.

WORRY! DO SAY. STRATFORD, Sept. 26.—The chilly weather of the past day or so reminds us of the not far distant hockey season. Just what material Stratford will have this year is a problem. There is plenty of good material in town and there is no reason why Stratford should not have a couple of good teams. The hockey committee will, it is expected, hold a meeting later in the week, when plans for the coming season will be discussed.

Veteran Jess Barnes 1921 Star, Who Will Pull Giants Out This Year?

Three runs in that inning, enough to keep the Giants in the game. The pitching wasn't one-sided either. The losing Yankees on the whole had no complaint as to the pitching, other than the failure of Bob Shawkey to win.

Douglas and Nehr of the Giants pitched six great games. Nehr was able to win only one of the three that he worked, while Douglas was victorious in two of his starts. Of the six brilliant games worked by Nehr and Douglas, the Giants were able to get only an even break.

Now for the part that Jesse Barnes played in the triumph of the Giants. Never in any world series has there been a better exhibition of pinch pitching than that displayed by Barnes.

Despite the fact that he wasn't selected to start a single game of the entire series, the preference over Barnes was a bright spot in the play of the Giants.

In the third game of the series after the Yankees had scored four runs off Toney in the third inning, Barnes was sent in to relieve him. He held the Yankees to one run and four hits the rest of the way, striking out seven men. The Giants won 13 to 1.

In the sixth game of the series Toney again was given the preference over Barnes to start. In two-thirds of an inning the Yankees had scored three runs and three hits off Toney, and he was sent to the showers by McGraw.

Once again Barnes was rushed to the rescue. In the seventh inning the Yankees scored two runs at the expense of Barnes, then he settled down and blanketed the rest of the way. In this game he struck out 10 men. The Giants won 8 to 5.

Easy To See. Thus it is an easy matter to see the all-important part played by the pitching. No feature of this department stood out more than the relief work of Jesse Barnes.

Now for the part played by the breaks of the game. In the second game of the series, with one out and a man on first, the batsman hit the ball to Nehr. With a double play in sight he threw wild to second, both runners being safe. That misplay permitted a run to go over the plate. That run was enough to win, as Nehr blanked the Giants.

In the eighth inning of the fourth game, with the score a tie at 1 to 1, the failure of Mays to handle a bunt proved his undoing. The Giants scored three runs in that inning, enough to keep the Giants in the game. The pitching wasn't one-sided either. The losing Yankees on the whole had no complaint as to the pitching, other than the failure of Bob Shawkey to win.

Douglas and Nehr of the Giants pitched six great games. Nehr was able to win only one of the three that he worked, while Douglas was victorious in two of his starts. Of the six brilliant games worked by Nehr and Douglas, the Giants were able to get only an even break.

L. C. I. WILL HAVE TWO GRID SQUADS

Intend Entering O. R. F. U. Interscholastic and Inter-County.

The collegiate squad refuses to believe the Petrolia correspondent's story of the game there on Saturday, when they were beaten in their first start. Lack of practice is the factor to which they attribute their defeat at the hands of the Hard Oil collegians and hard breaks.

To prove their spirit, the L. C. I. will have two rugby teams playing this fall, one in the interscholastic series of the O. R. F. U. and the other a second team in the Middlesex and Oxford Counties League, the formation of which is still in abeyance, though certain to be realized.

Smallman and Ingram have furnished the uniforms for the teams which are to enter the Junior O. R. F. U. series. This will quite likely mean Sarnia and St. Thomas as group competitors, the latter the stiffest opposition which could be encountered.

While Serk-Major Blake is making no vain boasts, he is building for the future, with excellent chances for the present year, due to the fact that he has many of last year's players to count on.

TERRIER FANS ARE BASEBALL MAD

GALT, Sept. 26.—Galt is baseball mad. Arrangements were made today for a special train to carry a contingent of supporters of the Terriers to St. Thomas tomorrow, leaving here at 12:45.

The merchants showed their interest by agreeing to close their stores at 11:45 to allow their clerks time to get away on the trip. The local team is expected to play Wilbur Kress will in all probability pitch for Galt. Norman Himes, after two weeks out of the game, will be back at his position on short.

MAIFLOWER WILL NOW BE TAKEN ON AFTERWARDS

HALIFAX, Sept. 26.—Following the announcement last night of the international fishermen's cup trustees, the schooner Maiflower as an entrant for the trophy, the trustees of the cup, from Boston stating that it is understood that the owners of the Maiflower, who have a dispatch attempt to get her into the international series, will get her a handsome cash prize for match money.

The eighth and deciding game was won by the Giants, 1 to 0. The only score was made in the first inning, when with two down and two on, Peckinpaugh allowed an easy roller to get away from him for the only run of the contest.

Pitching, of course, is the big thing, but the breaks of the game often erase many a superb exhibition of twirling.

ORIOLES' MISCUES LOSE 2ND GAME

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Sept. 26.—New Haven avenged the series with the Baltimore Orioles for the minor league championship of the east by winning today's game, 11 to 5. The Orioles, who were the winners of the Eastern League championship, although the winners must be said to have a "sea" course not a harbor course—of forty miles.

The deciding game will be played tomorrow.

CHANNEL BEATS ANOTHER. DOVER, Eng., Sept. 26.—Walter Patterson, the Bridgeport, Conn., swimmer, started at 3:40 o'clock yesterday afternoon from a point near Cape Gris-Nez on the French coast to swim the English Channel, but gave up the attempt at 7:40 p.m. when half-way across, owing to a cramp in the leg. He had a narrow escape from missing the attending boat in the darkness.

Patterson, who was accompanied by Charles Burgess, the English swimmer, one of the two men who have successfully essayed the channel swim, swam about ten miles before giving up.

Just Between Us

By C. L. S.

While at first the rugby squad thought it was practically cinched that since McEwen would be able to take over the coaching of the O. R. F. U. team it was learned yesterday that for business reasons Canada's premier coach would be unable to undertake the duties.

McEwen's reputation in Toronto was always that of a coach who took his duties conscientiously. He took the worries of every individual on his squad as his own, and consequently, his every energy was put forth in producing a football machine. As football is a business with him, it has naturally come to a point where it was impossible for him to leave quite right.

McEwen has chosen the former.

However, that will not prevent him giving the squad an hour or two at intervals, and the locals are counting on his love of the game for a visit once in a while and some advice. Certainly no coach likely to work with the locals but would appreciate the assistance and timely tips of the former Argo coach.

As predicted in these columns, the suddenly ordered school boys' meet to be held simultaneously on Sept. 22 did not come off in London at least. The Ontario Association of Schools, without more than a preliminary sketch of the idea, named a day for the events to be staged at the Ontario Agricultural College, London, a center of which Dr. Frank Bryant was named director, had seven adjacent counties to look after. Naturally, on two weeks' notice, nothing could be done. Moreover, no consideration had been given to the matter of expenses of school boys coming to London would have to be met.

It's a case of more theory gone wrong simply for lack of organization. The Ontario Association of Schools, one providing medical science does not step in and discourage athletic competition before the high school age, as it is liable to do. Especially is this so because track athletics are aimed at gradual development. And it is a notorious fact that public school boys cannot stand the pace that these conditions might set. That is the development of Olympic competitors, eventually, and of course the development of the nation physically as a side issue, and it is a very good point where the Ontario Association of Schools should have stepped in.

From such an early start the athletes would have burned their feet.

It begins to look as if the railroad companies are going to be the worst sufferers from this world's series—unless it's the Giants.

The worst of the whole major league season is that the St. Louis fan who hit Wirtz with a top bottle won't get any credit in the averages.

You never hear the O. H. A
