Chatham, May 15. — William Chrysler, bee keeper of Raleigh, in an address before the Chatham Rotary Club lamented the fact that Canadians do not know the value of honey as a commodity. The growth of the industry in the last few years could be attributed to the export trade, which has now reached large proportions, he said. There would be less diabetes, declared Mr. Chrysler,

WINNIPEG

Canadian Press Despatch. Winnipeg, May 15.—The market was inclined to the quiet side today, with very little feature to the trade. Buying power was limited, shippers and exporters being out of the market, and prices held relatively steady throughout, the closing being 1/8c lower for May and July, with October 1/4c down. The only feature to the market was the continued buying of old crop futures against sales of October. Seaboard re-against sales of October. Seaboard reports estimated overnight sales of wheat at around 200,000 bushels of Manitobas. Some business was reported ed worked overnight for export via Vancouver, and one export house was paying a premium of 1½c over July for cash wheat.

The future coarse grains were all steady, with prices about unchanged on a light volume of trade, Crushers were taking small offerings of flax at unchanged prices. The cash wheat market was very dull, and premiums broke fractionally on a very poor demand. Cash oats and barley were in demand from exporters, and a fair trade was reported. The lower grades of rye were in demand at unchanged spreads. Flax was dull and unchanged. Cash prices:
