SPECIAL TO THE DAILY BRITISH COLONIST

New York, Sept 14-A Herald special from Paris says a rumor was very extensively circulated in the city to-day to the effect that the Emperor has seriously contemplated abdicating in favor of his son. It is said a council of Regency will be created having the Emperor and Prince Napoleon Bonaparte at its head, as provided in the New Constitution; to endure through his minority. Napoleon's health remains in a very uncertain condition.

The London News says it is rumored that the proposition for the purchase of Cuba has found a powerful friend in the Spanish administration. An annexation meeting on Sunday adopted resolutions deploring the depreciation in value of real estate, the diminution of ship building, the steady emigration of young men to the United States from the dessolation which apparently marks the city for its own, and declaring these facts and the prosperity of the United States are due not to the imaginary boundary line but to the working of the institu ions of the two countries, and setting forth as the deliberate opinion of the meeting that steps should immediately be taken towards addressing a petition to the Imperial authorities praying to be informed whether the nearly unanimous desire on the part of the people of the Dominion for an incorporation with the territory of the United States would not receive from the British people the same gracious reception accorded to a like request from the people transfer of allegiance never crossed my mind. of the Ionian Islands for a union with Greece. Sir John Young's Explanation.

In his speech delivered at the Halifax banquet, Sir John Young undertook a laboured explanation of the perverted passage in his Quebec speech. Although there is no denying that Sir John succeds in making out a tolerably strong case, yet one cannot get quite rid of a sort of undefined feeling that there is something behind the scenes, 'I hold in my hand,' said Sir John, 'a correct copy of the speech, and what I said on the jahed? Will Congress pass a law pro-noint which has been so much canvassed hibiting all polyganists from holding juwas this, that the statesmen of England. warned by the events of the last century, and enlightened by the truer theories of modern colonial policy, had acceded to the wishes of the inhabitants of the Dominion of Canada and had accorded to them in full measure the rights and franchises which they claimed and which, in my opinion, they properly claimed. I then said:

At this moment you possess free representative institutions. Your destinies are in your own hands. You are free to choose and follow out your own views. The statesmen and people of England are not more free in the management of their own affairs or in adopting a line of policy which they think conducive to their own interests, than are the statesmen and people of the Dominion of Canada,'

To this I added that I believed generally speaking the people throughout the Dominion were well satisfied with the institutions r which they lived. [Applause.] I then added that England was in no way indifferent to the position of the Dominion; that she viewed it with pride and confidence, that looking to this and assuming that the Cauadian statesmen and people were the best judges of their own interests, I said that if the people of Canada decided on some changes, I was confident that the proposition would receive from the statesmen of England a generous and friendly consideration. I argued from what had taken place to what might take place. I assumed at every stage that Canada should remain for all time to come a firm friend and faithful ally of England. There is no man of clear conceptions who does not know that it is impossible to conduct an argument unless the premises are clearly defined. There is no one accustomed to calculation even to the performance of a few simple problems in algebra, who does not know that if the premises are not stated with extreme accuracy, a confused jumble of figures and nextricable confusion will be the result That was the case in the instance to which I am alluding I have not a word to retract or quality in what I said in Quebec. But some one or other wishing to prove that I had said that the Dominion of Canada was lightly esteemed by the people of England, or that England had some desire to get rid of the Dominion, substituted one word for another in the report of my speech, and on that word I wish to make an observation. I referred to the possibility of Canada wishing for some other form of ALLIANCE, and everyone could see from the context that I meant ALLIANCE with the mother country. (Vociferous applause—the whole company rising to their feet) For the word ALLIANCE the word ALLEGIANCE was substituted-aword which I never uttered, and which does not occur in any part of my speech. The phrese 'change of allegiance' was added to the speech, as if it was possible that any Governor-General would speak before the people of the Dominion about a change of allegiance, or suggest that it could be looked upon with complacency by the people of England. I said that the statesmen of England look ed to the astatesmen, and people of Canada for guidance. Now this also has been misconstrued. I did not mean that they would be guided by the opinions of every person who did not find his position as agreeable as he could wish, -of any barrister, for instance, whose abilities did not correspond with his aspirations, or of any storekeeper whose circumstances were not as pleasant as he defired Any change proposed by the statesmen and parliament of the Dominion, will be carefully considered by the mother country. If the parliament and Dominion of Canada decide on a change in the form of alliance, it will be a matter of grave consideration for the people of England. The thought of the

The difficulties in the way of getting at the bottom of the Mormon question are more formidable than would appear at first glance, and although every right rd and party returned early this morning by minded man in the country favors closthe Moses Taylor. Mr. Seward is in ex- ing out the polygamous crew, it is difficult to conceive a plan by which it can be accomplished. The Chicago Evening Post presents some of the difficulties as follows:

Because men will have more than one wife, will the Government send an army against them? If so, when at its destinction, what will the army do? We tried that once and found that, though the force had been ten times as strong as it was, it could have done nothing. There was nobody to fight; there was nobody resisting the law; there were no rebels; there was nothing to fire even a blank cartridge at. But send an army to enforce the law against polygamy? Of course that may be done, but when a warrant is served, a jury empannelled and the trial commenced, does not the enforcement of the law rest with the jury at last? Can an army make that jury bring in such a verdict as it desires? Are there muskets, Springfield rifles and mountain howitzers enough in all our arenels to make a Mormon jury find Brigham Young guilty, no matter what he is charged with? If he were acquitted, what then? The persecuted saint, triumphant by God's special favor, is revenged more than ever before. But if condemned by a jury on his faith, he rises at once in the estimation of his followers, to the dignity next below martydom and the advantage of the conviction is all with the man convicted. How then is polygamy to be pundicial office or sitting on juries? All Mormons are not polygamists, hence the remedy would not be effectual. Will the Government resort to the policy of packing juries for the purpose of securing conviction? Can any Government afford to do that.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of mankind, as this excellent remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the races of men it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become better known. Its uniform character and power to cure the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. While adapted to milder forms of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a provision against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this antidote for them.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery over the disorders of the Lungs and Throat, that the most obstinate of them yield to it. When nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

Singers and Public Speakers find great protection from it.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

So generally are its virtues known that we need not publish the certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that its qualities are fully maintained.

Ayer's Ague Cure

For Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, &c., and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

As its name implies, it does Cure, and does not thin. Containing neither Arsenic, Quinine, Bismuth, Zinc, nor any other mineral or poisonous substance whatever, it in nowise injures any patient. The number and importance of its cures in the ague districts, are literally beyond account, and we believe without a parallel in the history of Ague medicine. Our pride is gratified by the acknowledgments we receive of the radical cures effected in obstinate cases, and where other remedies had wholly failed. Unacclimated persons, either resident in, or travelling through miasmatic localities, will be protected by taking the AGUE CURE daily.

For Liver Complaints, arising from torpidity of the Liver, it is an excellent remedy, stimulating the Liver into healthy activity.

For Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints, it is an excellent remedy, producing many truly remarkable cures, where other medicines had failed.

Ayer's Hair Vigor

For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved fo usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a

Ayer's Sarsaparilla. FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

The reputation this excellent medicine enjoys, is derived from its cures, many of which are truly marvellous. Inveterate cases of Scrofulous disease, where the system seemed saturated with corruption, have been purified and cured by it. Scrofulous affections and disorders, which were aggravated by the scrofulous contamination until cting, have been radically they were painfully afflicting, have been radically cured in such great numbers in almost every section of the country, that the public scarcely need to be informed of its virtues or uses. Scrofulous poison is one of the most destructive enemies of our race. tenant of the organism undermines the constitution, and invites the attack of enfeebling or fatal diseases, without exciting a suspicion of its presence. Again, it seems to breed infection throughout the body, and then, on some favorable occasion, rapidly develop into one or other of its hideous forms, either on the surface or among the vitals. In the latter, tubercles may be suddenly deposited in the lungs or heart, or tumors formed in the liver, or it shows its presence by eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcerations on some part of the body. Hence the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and, at length, cure, by the use of this SARSAPARILLA. St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erusipelas, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Eyes, Sore Exers, and other eruptions or visible forms of Scrofulous disease. Also in the more concealed forms, as Dyspepsia, Dropsy, Heart Disease, Fits, Epilepsy, Neuralgia, and the various Ulcerous affections of the muscular and nervous systems.

Syphilis or Venereal and Mercurial Diseases are cured by it, though a long time is required for subduing these obstinate maladies by any medicine. But long continued use of this medicine will cure the complaint. Leucorrhæa or Whites, Uterine Ulcerations, and Female Diseases, are commonly soon relieved and ultimately cured by its purifying and invigorating effect. Minute Directions for each case are found in our Almanac, supplied gratis. Rheumatism and Gout, when caused by accumulations of extraneous matters in the blood, yield quickly to it, as also Liver Complaints, Torpidity, Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and Jaundice, when arising as they often do, from the rankling poisons in the blood. The obvious reason is, that it is a more reliable and far more effectual remedy than any other. We have thousands upon thousands of certificates of their remarkable cures of the following complaints, but such cures are known in every neighborhood, and we need not publish them. Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates; containing neither calomel or any deleterious drug, thoy may be taken with safety by anybody.
