OLD TALKS OF NIAGARA.

THE COULNESS AND SELF-POSSESSION OF A MAN

BOOMED TO A SURE DEATH.

The Buffalo Commercial Advertiser recalls from its files the following:

NIAGARA FALLS, Oct. 2, 1848.—At about midnight last evening a man was carried over the falls. Who he was is not known.

From his management of the sail boat in which he came down the river, I think he was not well acquainted with the current of the rapids. His dress and appearance indicated respectability, and after he got into the rapids his self-possession was extraordinary. His boat was a very good one—decked over on the bow, and I should think would carry three or four tons. From what I learn of a sail boat having been seen below Black Rock coming down, I think it was from there or Buffalo.

It was from there or Buffalo. Other than a person unacquainted with the current above the rapids would venture so near them. It was on the head of Goat Island I first discovered the boat—then near half a mile below the foot of Navy island, and nearly two miles above the falls.

There seemed to be two in the boat. It was directed toward the American shore—the wind blowing from the river and the sail was still standing. Being well acquainted with the river I regarded the position of the boat as extraordinary and hazardous, and watched it with intense anxiety. Soon I discovered the motion of an oar, and from the changing direction of the boat concluded it had but one. While constantly approaching nearer and nearer the rapids I found I discovered it was gaining the American shore—the time it had got near the first fall in the rapids about half a mile above Goat island, it was directly above the island. There it was turned up the river, and for some time the wind kept it nearly stationary. The only hope seemed to be to come directly to Goat island, and whether I should assist in the event the boat attempted to make the island was a question of painful doubt. But soon the boat was again turned toward the American shore. Then it was certain that it must go down the American rapids.

I ran for the bridge—saw and informed a gentleman and lady just leaving the island, but they seemed unable to reply or move. I rallied a man at the toll-gate—we ran to the main bridge in time to see the boat just before it got to the first large fall in the rapids. Then I saw but one man standing at the stern with his oar changing the course of the boat down the current, and as it plunged over the falls I was astonished to see the boat rise with the mast and sail standing, and the man again erect directing the boat toward the shore. As he came to the next and so each succeeding fall he sat down, and then would rise and apply his oar in the intermediate current. Still there was hope that he would come near enough to the pier to jump, but in a moment it was gone. Another, that he might jump upon the rock near the bridge, but the current dashed him from it under the bridge, breaking the mast. Again he rose on the oar of the boat, and the search for his mother, just as she and a young married man, with whom she had designed to elope to America, had got into the train. He was in custody of the police, and the mother rushed at the eloping girl, and shouting repeatedly, "Oh, you wicked hussy," laid hold of her and threatened to fire her into custody if she did not return home. The only reply she got was "Fiddlers!" but when a policeman was fetched the girl consented to return.

It had been supposed until recently that the names of the members of the parliament of 1814 were lost beyond recovery. The names were found when the officers of the members of parliament were printed five years ago. Fortunately, a list has been discovered among the manuscripts of the duke of Devonshire, and its contents are printed in the June number of the Palestine Notebooks.

At the opening of a bazaar in the Bridge house hotel, London bridge, in aid of the fund for reducing the debt upon the South-west Wesleyan chapel, Long Lane, S. E., the Rev. F. Crocker displayed a bracelet worn by John Wesley up to the time of his death. It then passed into the hands of Dr. Huntington, who gave it to Mr. Crocker. The bracelet was for sale.

A wedding was to have occurred not long ago in county Londonderry, and the expected bride and bridegroom were walking to church, when suddenly an exuberant person discharged a gun in honor of the occasion, and brought down both the men and the lady, each being struck in the face and neck and severely injured. The wedding was, of course, postponed.

In 1872 the British national debt stood at $3,655,000,000; in 1882 at $3,545,000,000. The present chancellor of the exchequer favors a scheme for more rapid redemption.

Another dock to cost $2,500,000, with water area of thirty-five acres, is begun by Lord Bute at Cardiff. The Bute family has sunk at least $15,000,000 in such works.

The income of the university of Oxford last year was $260,000. This is apart from the individual colleges, one or two of which have, in good times, nearly $150,000.

Lord Rosebery is to have the freedom of the city of Edinburgh in recognition of the interest he has evinced in Scottish affairs.

"The Positive Cure." Devlin's Astringent-bilious mixture for biliousness, sick headache, constipation, etc.

Burglar plundered yesterday morning of $100 A constable had a struggle with three men whom he suspected, but they all got away.

Lawn Tennis. The soft showers played upward the green lawn, the racket arched four times in the air. The ball is stretched taut, and the courts are clean drawn.

"Play!" The lad in white flannel, the maid in short skirt. His whistle was eagerly waited for. He ceased to flatter, she ceased to flirt.

"Fault!" The ball dully served, clear the net in its course. And is quickly returned, with victorious shout. Once more it flies back, with an un-reserved force.

"Out!" "Fifteen," in loud triumph, the conqueror's cry. Again the ball shoots the stretched netting aloft. The lad and the maid exchange glances, and sigh.

"Love!" The players rush wildly, and dart to and fro. One "volley," and rears for award abuse. The maiden cries "tush," and the youth mutters "Dance!"

The rackets are active, the "rally" is fast. The ball is returned with an accurate aim. The lad and the maiden are well matched at last.

"Nenth the cedar's cool shade opposing sides meet. The lawn is deserted, relaxed is the net. "May I bring you an tea?" may I fetch you a seat?"

"Set!" "The pleasant to rest after such active strife." "I played very badly that game, I confess." "Will you take game partner again—and for life?"

Spelling Reform. The American Philological association, which has been holding its sessions for this year at Middletown, Conn., had great joy in the essays and debates. The committee on spelling reform reported, through their chairman, Professor March, that the English Philological society, at a meeting held April 20 of this year, had unanimously approved and accepted the rules for amended spelling, adopted by the rules are now jointly recommended by the two associations for immediate adoption:
