Marine Men to Urge Its Establishment as Well as Appointment of Inspectors at Lower Lake Ports—Minimum Rate Fixed.

Grain carriers will have fixed a minimum rate for next year from Fort William to Montreal.

They ask the government to appoint inspectors at lower lake ports, because discrepancies often appear in the government certificates from Fort William.

They urge the establishment of a grain clearing house at Fort William to save time in getting away with cargoes.

Many of the prominent men interested in the transportation of grain were in session at the King Edward hotel yesterday.

Some of those there were J. A. Cameron, Toronto; King, Kingston; Fairgrove, Hamilton.

They are members of the Ontario Marine Association, under whose auspices they were meeting.

A minimum rate at which grain will be carried from Fort William to Georgian Bay ports and on to Montreal next year, was established.

The rate will be calculated on one or two members of the association, who were not present.

They claim it will not be necessary to bring it into effect till next spring, and further discussion upon it can be done if it does not meet their views.

The minimum made last September was entirely lost sight of in a month, but at the outset it was indicated that the figure was so modest on the whole that the rate was below the cost of carrying, which was the competition of the shippers when the rate was increased.

The marine men deny that they are establishing a combine, but they are establishing a minimum rate to facilitate shipping and do away with the idea of cutting each other's throats for business.

They want to get into some form of a combine, but they will not be bound at one end of the line of shipment and left at the other.

Although the rate could be definitely learned, the carriers felt that they will, when shipping time comes again, get a rate in excess of what is fixed, and there is only a little difference between it and that of last year.

The idea seems to be to prevent a rate below cost of carriage when it becomes necessary to do so.

Clearing House. A matter discussed at length, with the object of doing away with long waiting, was the question of establishing a grain clearing house at Fort William on the same system as a harbor clearing house.

It was pointed out that the grain could be got away from one place and loaded rapidly, instead of having to go to four or five places, and waiting two or three days to load.

Another important result of the meeting was the determination to request the government to inspect the certificates at Fort William.

The government is expected to verify the certificates at Fort William, which follows a lot of existing dissatisfaction over many shortages in cargoes which have appeared when the grain is re-weighed.

Another point, and the claim is made that it due to faulty weighing at Fort William or at the receiving points in fairness it might be said that there were other causes, is that the government's certificate is not to be used against the carrier's certificate, so if inspectors are appointed at Georgian Bay ports there will be variance in weights beyond reasonable causes.

The government will be responsible. Has Started in Earnest Now. An event of considerable interest to the people of this city was the opening yesterday at the beautiful store, Yarn and Temperance stores. The advertisement columns went into details of the value offered. The sale bids fair to create the widespread anticipation of a "big" business, and the weather the stock is much larger than was expected.

SNOW AND RAIN. Meteorological Office, Toronto, Jan. 2.—(Special.)—The weather has been very foggy in all portions of the Dominion, and the most part moderately cold. The disturbance now developing in the southwest is expected to move into Ontario tomorrow.

HOSPITAL FOR NEW YORK BEQUEATHED BY YERKES

Will Cost $800,000 and is to Be Open to All—Widow Fares Handsomely.

New York, Jan. 2.—In his will read today by Clarence A. Knight, his executor, the late Chaas T. Yerkes makes many public bequests.

Provisions are made for the disposal of his New York home after the death of his wife to a corporation organized for the maintenance of his art gallery.

He leaves $750,000 to his wife, Adelaide Yerkes, and the income from the same to be paid to her for the remainder of her life.

His widow, son and others are provided for. The will was read to the members of his family to-day, and they expressed entire satisfaction with its provisions.

The principal bequests include: $200,000 to his wife, Adelaide Yerkes, his wife, who also receives the home at Sixty-eighth-street and Fifth-avenue, together with all the paintings and works of art therein.

On his death will go to a corporation to be known as the Yerkes Hospital, the $750,000. Other bequests include: son and daughter are given $200,000 each; to every household servant on his employ for four years preceding his death $2000; $100,000 in trust for the income to be paid to the University of Toronto, to be used for the maintenance of Yerkes' Observatory at Lake Geneva, Wis.

The remainder of the estate is to be invested and divided into four equal shares, the income from two of the shares to be known as the Yerkes Hospital, and the income from the other two to be paid to his son, Charles Yerkes, during his life and the income from the remaining one share to be paid to his daughter, Bessie L. Rood, during her life time. Upon the death of Mrs. Yerkes, the income from the hospital share is to be incorporated and conducted a hospital, to be known as the Yerkes Hospital, and the income from the same to be used for purchasing a plot of ground in the Bronx borough, New York City, and proper buildings for the erection of a hospital there, the aggregate cost of the ground and buildings not to exceed $300,000.

The hospital shall be open for all without regard to creed, color, or race, and any patient received or admitted, whose financial means are not such as to entitle the patient to pay for the necessary treatment, shall be treated free.

It is directed that the trustees shall freely consult with his wife in all matters concerning the hospital and the Yerkes galleries.

The improvements to the theatre are going on apace. In the meantime Shea's orchestra plays every night at Albert Williams' up-to-the-minute cafe on Yonge-street just north of Queen.

WOMAN'S TWO MISTAKES SEND HER TO HOSPITAL

Mrs. Cairns of Bolton First Got on Wrong Train, Then Alighted on Wrong Side.

Two mistakes befell Mrs. Mary Cairns of Bolton in attempting to return to her home after a visit to the city.

To begin with she got on the wrong train at the Union Station. Not knowing the country very well, she went as far as street-level before she discovered her mistake.

Returning by a later train, she decided to get off at Toronto Junction. In mistake she got off the wrong side of the coach. It was quite dark and she fell farther than she expected when she stepped off. Her nose struck the frozen ground and she lost consciousness for a few minutes.

A train hand picked her up and she was taken to the Western Hospital, where she spent the night.
