

THORN ADMITS THE KILLING

Acting Inspector O'Brien Has His Confession.

THE GULDENSUPPE MURDER

Appears Likely to be Fixed on the Guilty Parties.

Thorn Went Early to the Woodside House and Awaited the Arrival of Mrs. Nack and the Victim—Thorn Was Concealed Behind the Door of the Closet and Heard the Unsuspecting Guldensuppe Coming Up the Stairs at Mrs. Nack's Request—Shot the Man in the Head as He Opened the Door, Then, Dragged the Body Downstairs and Shoved It Into the Bath Tub.

New York, July 7.—The prisoner who was arrested last night has been positively identified as Martin Thorn, Acting Inspector O'Brien said today that he had in his possession a full confession from Martin Thorn, admitting that he had murdered Guldensuppe, and giving all the details of the crime.

Thorn's Confession. The confession which Acting Inspector O'Brien has in his possession and which presumably was made to John Dolph, the harbor who betrayed Thorn, gives the full history of the crime. According to this document the murder was committed in the house at Woodside which had been rented by Mrs. Nack.

A week ago last Saturday, according to the confession, Thorn went early to the Woodside house and hid in a closet in the upper floor. In his pocket he had a loaded revolver, and beside him was a two-pound package of plaster of paris. Then he waited for the arrival of Mrs. Nack and Guldensuppe. He took off his shoes so that no accidental noise could spoil his carefully laid plan.

The Unsuspecting Victim. It was between 10 and 11 o'clock in the morning when Mrs. Nack and her unsuspecting victim, Guldensuppe, drove up in the survey which has been mentioned in the previous stories of the mystery. Thorn heard Mrs. Nack ask Guldensuppe a few questions about the house, and heard Guldensuppe answer. Then Mrs. Nack said: "Will you wait for me. Go through the house and see how you like it."

"Oh, I'll just stay here until you come back," Guldensuppe replied. Mrs. Nack, however, was anxious not to see the actual transaction of the tragedy she had planned.

"No, don't wait here," she urged, "go and see the rooms upstairs. I think you'll like them."

Thorn, concealed behind the door of the closet, heard Guldensuppe's steps on the stairs as he complied with the woman's request. Guldensuppe, dressed in a suit, opened the door after door, until he came to the closet where Thorn stood. As the door opened, Thorn shot Guldensuppe right in the head. He died almost instantly.

Then Thorn took hold of the body by the shoulders, dragged it downstairs and shoved it into the bath tub. Then Thorn went to the ground floor, where Mrs. Nack was waiting.

"It's done," said Thorn. "I know," replied Mrs. Nack. "I heard."

"Now go back to the city," Thorn said to Mrs. Nack, "and come back here at exactly 5 o'clock. Everything will be ready."

Carved Up the Body. All this conversation and much more is embodied in the alleged confession of Mrs. Nack, which she returned to the bath tub. He cut off the head with a razor and saw. Then he packed the head closely with plaster of paris, until it looked like a block of white stone. Then he took the legs off, and after that the lower part of the trunk. He wrapped it in the cheese cloth, then in the oil cloth, tied the bundles neatly, lit a pipe and sat looking at it all the while.

At the residence of the bride's parents, 4 Wellington-street east, Mr. Charles R. Adams of the Lombard-street hall, was married to Miss Jennie H. Cole. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Williams of St. James' Cathedral. The bride was assisted by Miss Rebecca Cole and the groom was assisted by Mr. Edward C. brother of the bride. The young couple received many valuable and useful presents. The French pressing them and a tea set and fruit stand and the staff of the Bank of British North America with a dinner set.

A Bid for Tourists. St. John, N.B., July 7.—While the rest of America has been sweltering in the intense heat of the last few days, St. John has been reveling in an atmosphere of not over 60 degrees at any time during the last week. The climate of St. John during the summer months is ideal for the pleasure seeker.

Texan Bank Failed. Washington, July 7.—The Comptroller of the Currency today received information of the failure of the First National Bank of Mason, Texas. The bank has a capital of $50,000 and at the date of its last report its liabilities amounted to about $30,000.

Durrant's Photos on Sale. San Francisco, July 7.—In order to carry on the fight for life the parents of Theodore Durrant will place his photographs on sale. The photographs will show Durrant in the prison garb taking his daily exercise within the walls of San Quentin.

Dr. Fowler's Wild Strawberry. Dr. Fowler's Wild Strawberry is a highly recommended remedy for all cases of diarrhea, dysentery, and other ailments of the bowels. It is a pleasant and effective medicine, and is sold in all drug stores.

The Head Master. GENTLEMEN—I have found great satisfaction in the use of Dr. Fowler's Wild Strawberry. It is a pleasant and effective medicine, and is sold in all drug stores.

A Big Beer Combine. Pittsburgh, July 7.—Ten of the largest breweries in Allegheny County have consolidated under the name of the Pennsylvania Brewing Company. The company is capitalized at $10,000,000. The management positively deny that there will be any attempt made to increase prices to retailers or consumers. The sole object, they say, is to better control the market and lessen expenses.

ONTARIO MEDICAL COUNCIL.

Government Will be Thanked for Removing the Duty From Medical Books and Instruments.

Yesterday's session of the Medical Council of the College of Physicians and Surgeons was a short one. The day was principally occupied in committee work.

A motion by Dr. Brock, seconded by Dr. Linton, thanking the Dominion Government for removing the duty from medical books and instruments was passed without objection.

After the motion had been declared carried, Dr. Hoome, ex-M.P., said that political questions of this nature should not come into the council in any shape or form. It will give rise to adverse criticism. The meeting then adjourned until 10 o'clock this morning.

OFFICIAL MINING EXPERT

Will Make an Extended Survey of Eastern Ontario and Report to the Bureau of Mines.

Mr. W. G. Miller, professor of geology in the Kingston School of Mining, has been engaged by the Bureau of Mines to explore the mining districts of Eastern Ontario. He will devote special attention to the conditions of the Ottawa, Cornwall, and Prescott districts, and will spend the greater part of the time, which will be of about three months' duration, in the connection of Hastings, Addington and Frontenac.

He is also instructed to report respecting gold, iron or other economic or valuable minerals found in the region under his charge. He has already some east and west start in at Wilberforce on the Ottawa, Ironstone and Bancroft Railway. In short, Mr. Miller is to operate in Eastern Ontario in the same manner as Dr. Coleman is doing in the Northwestern part of the province.

NINE MEN KILLED.

A Boiler Explosion on a Farm in Tennessee Which Was Disastrous.

Hartsville, Tenn., July 7.—A boiler exploded on the farm of W. A. Allen, this country, yesterday, and Mr. Allen and eight others were killed instantly and five badly injured. The explosion occurred while the boiler was being fired. Some of the victims were mangled beyond recognition, and pieces of the boiler were blown 70 yards.

Dust-Straw Hat. The handsome hat and fur store of J. & L. Leasing, Yonge-street, next door to Ryrie Bros., is not in the tasty shape that it is usually found in. Workmen have been busy all week putting on a new ceiling to replace the one destroyed at the time of the John Eaton Company fire. When completed it will add further attractiveness to this well-appointed store. In the meantime the goods are to some extent dust-straw, especially open lots of men's straw hats.

But buyers who are the buyers. The stock of straw hats of this firm is one of the finest that has been brought into Toronto, and after all the dust-straw over them does not hurt them. The price in any case is made a decided temptation to buy. Beautiful hats, fine manilla, palm leaf and Panama straw hats, and special lot of drab felt hats are all to be sold immediately with little regard to prices that usually prevail for this class of goods. It is a case where straw hat buyers should not hesitate too long.
