Art School Matters.

It was reported by the Internal Management Committee of the Art School to the directors this afternoon that Dr. May, Frovincial Art Superintendent, had asked if the Hamilton school could undertake the Provincial Art Exhibition next May. Before coming to a decision Principal treiand will ascertain what cost will be involved. The committee reported that the pupils numbered 189, or 14 more than last year, while the fees for the year reported by the Finance Committee amounted to $500.83, $64.41 in excess of last year.

At the close of the routine business the principal of the school and the reporters were asked to retire, as the directors desired to discuss a matter, which was the old trouble over the principal and Miss Muntze's class.

Don't Bruise the Birds.
Farmers and dealers should be careful in handling their birds not to bruise by tying the wings, as every bruise turns black, and spolis the appearance, as well as the sale.

Mr. Gunn stated that it was difficult to get the right kind of stock, as farmers, as a rule, do not feed them long enough to put them in a proper condition before marketing.

There are different modes of packing. This firm pack the birds with breast down and about 200 lbs. weight in each case.

Mr. Gunn also stated that to make a success of the trade the railways would have to provide cars especially prepared for shipping live birds to the different markets.

The King-Darrell Produce Company are also doing a heavy trade this season. Both the last mentioned firms are occupying the Harris Abattoir, where they have every facility in the cold storage rooms for preparing each shipment.

"The Liars" a Great Comedy.

Mr. Otis Skinner will begin his sixth successful season as a star under the direction of Joseph Buckley at the Grand Opera. House Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday evenlings, with a Wednesday matinee, Dec. 1, 12 and 13, in the brilliant comedy by Henry Arthur Jones, entitled "The Liars." This is considered one of the most satisfactory plays Mr. Skinner has had for some time, especially as it is replete with dramatic and comedy opportunities. It is a comedy, up-to-date with an atmosphere of superlative elegance, and a literature at once brilliant and satirical. It tells a most interesting story, and shows Mr. Skinner as an unselfish meddler in the love affairs of others, at the same time that he has a pretty love affair of his own to think about. Some marvelous gowns from Paris and London models will be worn by the laddes of the company. Mr. Skinner is admirably supported: in fact his present company is considered one of the best, if not the best, in its perfection of balance, that he has ever had. Miss Nanette Comstock will be his leading lady.
