King Street, Opposite the Postoffice.

QUEEN'S TEACHER.

London, Nov. 19.—One name not counted in Burke or Dobson is on the list of those who have already been invited to attend the coronation of King Edward and Queen Alexandra. It is that of Miss Scudamore, who taught the Queen the first English she knew, and who afterwards married Alexander Scudamore, the Danish language teacher of the Queen's mother.

The late Duke of Clarence found a strong attraction in the person of Miss Scudamore, and it is said that she was the only woman who was not a member of the Queen's household.

At the Star.
The French Males Burlesques will be the attraction at the Star Theatre next week, with matinee and evening presentations. A good chorus of handsome girls, funny comedians, handsome scenery and beautiful costumes are promised.

Invited to Stay a Fifth Year.
At a meeting of the Official Board of the Queen's College, held last evening, by a unanimous vote it was decided to invite the Rev. C. O. Johnston, to remain a fifth year in the pastorate.

CHARMING BRIDES LED TO ALTAR.

Fashionable Ceremonies Were Witnessed by Many Friends.

Royal Presbyterian Church was the scene of a fashionable wedding last evening, when Miss Alice Martha Dunlop, daughter of Mr. J. H. Dunlop, became the bride of Mr. William Goulding of Chicago.

The Rev. Alexander McGillicuddy, pastor of the church, performed the ceremony. The church was artistically decorated with palms, ferns and chrysanthemums, and the altar was a beautiful arrangement of flowers.

CITY NEWS.

At Osgoode Hall.

F. C. Wilkinson, an Owen Sound shoe dealer, is the defendant in an action instituted by the Slater Shoe Co. of Montreal and Charles E. Slater, by which the plaintiffs seek to have Wilkinson restrained from advertising for sale a shoe described by a name similar to that copyrighted by the plaintiffs. Yesterday the plaintiffs applied for an injunction to Chief Justice Falconbridge, the result of which application is that the defendant, Wilkinson, undertake not to advertise for sale the shoe bearing the copyrighted name pending the trial of the action against him, the plaintiffs on their part agreeing not to make use of Wilkinson's undertaking for the purpose of advertisement.

An effort will be made by Mr. Robert Grant, a local contractor, to have the court close the Slater Shoe Co. house on the ground now occupied by the latter on Dovercourt-road. Mr. Grant, who owns the house, claims that the Slater Shoe Co. lease has expired, while the latter contends that a writ was issued yesterday by the land-lord.

The North Bruce election petition of James McAlpine against James Holliday will likely be the last Dec. 10 by Chancellor Sir John Boyd and Mr. Justice Macdonald.

The Chief Justice Falconbridge yesterday reserved judgment upon an application made by John Dowling, a ratepayer of the town of Mitchell, to have a certain bylaw of the town repealed. The bylaw in question closed a street, and Mr. Dowling claimed that there was no sufficient reason given.

William Adams has instituted an action against O. Newcombe & Co., claiming $2000 damages for the alleged wrongful removal of a piano and for its detention.

Preparatory list for today's sitting of the Court of Appeal: Witty v. London Street Railway, ex Attorney-General v. Scully, Fuller v. Grant, Meyers v. Saint Ste Marie Pulp Co.

Pastor Was Welcomed.

The large school-room of the Carlton street Methodist Church was crowded last evening on the occasion of a reception tendered the pastor, Rev. J. J. Smith, and the late deaconess, Miss McNeill.

Mr. Thomas Thompson, in the chair, and on the platform with him were representatives from many of the churches of the city. A choice of addresses was presented, and short addresses were delivered by Rev. Dr. Chown, a former pastor of the church, Rev. Dr. Briggs, and the pastor himself. Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the proceedings.

Wills in Court.

The will of the late James Gordon of Vaughan Township was yesterday entered for probate. He left $5000 in a hundred-acre farm in Gore Township.

Mr. J. A. Vaughan, there left $188.85 in personality. It will go to Leonard John Willey of the Gore.

Miss Mary Irvine of Rochester, N.Y., died last July, leaving $207 in a Rochester bank, and $2000 in a house at 65 Louisiana street, Toronto. It is all bequeathed to Miss Catharine Crafter of Rochester, who is the executrix.
