"A team from the Canadian Air Force, a permanent military organization," said he, "would be eligible to enter the Ontario Hockey Asso-ciation. I doubt, however, if they could get enough Falcons to make up a team, though there are three or four Falcons at Camp Borden now. I saw Frederickson on his way through Toronto to Winnipeg, and he did not say anything about getting up a hockey team. He said he was going west to get recruits for the air force at Camp Borden. If he organizes a hockey team at Camp Borden they would get the same concessions as any enlisted soldiers. A team at Camp Borden would necessarily have to be a Canadian Air Force team."

The last time they mingled at the armories Joyce weighed 127½ pounds—and that was giving him the best of it—and the Italian with the Irish-Scotch monicker 118 pounds soaking wet, and a riproaring bout was declared a draw Some people said Wallace won by a narrow margin. Now Joyce must make 122 pounds at 6 o'clock on November 26. Since then Joyce has changed managers and he is busy trying to get down to weight. "Bud" Lennon is now handling the little fellow's business, and "Bud" has Tommy Daly, Billy Jarvis and Fred Crompton looking after him. If there is anything in that "laugh and grow fat" wheeze, Joyce will weigh a ton when he gets into the ring. He's got cracked lips now laughing at Tommy Daly's tales of how Detroit won the pennant. Anyway, Joyce is confident that he will knock Wallace into temporary oblivion. If he does, he will do what Jimmie Wilde could not do.
