PUGSLEY FLOUNDERED HE COULD NOT EXPLAIN

George Taylor Asks Embarrassing Question Which Gives House Some Entertainment.

OTTAWA, April 24.—(Special.)—Replying to Mr. Foster, Mr. Fielding said in the house this afternoon that, in view of extensive enquiries before the banking and commerce committee, it was his desire that some time should elapse before the insurance bill, was again taken up. In due time it would be heard from again.

Mr. Borden, asking about the Quebec bridge report, was told by Mr. Graham that good progress was being made. As there had been a large number of enquiries, both cable and otherwise, for copies of the report, it was proposed to have a larger number than usual printed, and copies placed in all the public libraries as well as the university libraries.

George Taylor rose to deny an allegation that he had been an applicant for timber limits. In looking over some files recently he had discovered that John Tomlin, M.P., had secured for his partner, John Gentles, certain limits in Alberta, which had been discussed in the House. Mr. Taylor said that Tomlin refers to Gentles as his partner "in this deal."

Mr. Taylor also hurled a bomb at Hon. Wm. Pugsley, entertaining the house with details of the prices paid for material and work on a breakwater at Petit Rocher. Some of these prices were enormously extravagant, and Mr. Taylor had made an effort to obtain all the correspondence, moving in the proper way. What he got was up to the end of 1905; whereas the breakwater had been since swept away and rebuilt. There were no documents concerning these events. Mr. Taylor went after the minister for refusing to obey the mandate of the house.

Mr. Pugsley could have extricated himself and made his detractor uneasy if he had known the facts, but he floundered around in a slough of uncertainty. He believed that his deputy had brought down all the documents on file.

"I've done all that I can do," lamented the minister, apparently anxious to appease the chief opposition whip. "Then he'd better resign," observed Mr. Taylor.

"I believe my deputy," retorted the minister.

"Yes," replied Mr. Taylor, "and I would believe the deputy before I would believe the minister."

The matter would have dropped but that Mr. Turgeon of Gloucester explained that the reason there was no correspondence was because the contractor was responsible to the government for the completion of the work and after it was blown away he rebuilt it.

Mr. Martin (Queen's P.E.I.) was told by Mr. Graham that Mr. Haney's claim against the government for the construction of the Hibroco bridge was for $380,000. The arbitrator, Collinswood Schreiber, had awarded the contractor $184,000.

East Toronto Opens Baseball and Football Season To-Day—County News.

WEST TORONTO, April 24.—The disappearance of Toronto Junction, somewhat complicated matters here. West Toronto at the present time is actually without a court of revision. The situation is amusing inasmuch as the court, another of the members of the council, the requisite number in the case of a township, village or town. But times have changed here now, and the act which sets the court of revision for a city shall consist of three permanent officers, one to be appointed by the mayor, another by the council, and the third to be the official arbitrator, or the sheriff. In the present instance the official arbitrator happens to be the justice judge, so the burden of responsibility in the court of revision will fall on the sheriff. ### New Ideas About Furnishing

THE world has changed since Queen Victoria died. New ideas about many things have been born, but what we want to discuss is the present day movement towards harmony and good taste in house furnishing.

Are you not interested in the beautification of your home? Don't you keep up to date in your reading, in your opinions, in your very clothing? How much more then should you keep in touch with the development of taste in interior fitting, furnishing and decoration? We would like to have those interested in this subject come to us for a talk on the practical possibilities of this subject. We have the goods here that are necessary by way of illustration. It need not be expensive.

An instance of a thoroughly artistic and harmonious dining room is specified below as one of many other suggestions we will be delighted to offer.

Generally speaking dining room walls are decorated in greens, reds, browns, or blues, in either burlaps, tapestry, leathers or paper. Given such a room, then, nothing would be more suitable for the floor than a heavy Axminster Rug, with either a plain centre and band border, or simple design with motif in harmony with whatever pattern occurs elsewhere in the room.

Such a rug for an ordinary-size room can be bought here for $30.00, $35.00, $40.00 or $50.00, seamless, of course, and made by the best manufacturer in all England.

For the Portiere Curtains we will show you a very decorative fabric—all wool—which may be enriched with an applique of buff-colored linen or leather, or a stencilled border, of Elizabethan or Jacobean period style.

These Curtains, with all accessories—poles, rings, cords, etc., will cost from $18.00 to $30.00 per pair.

For the windows, Arabe Lace Panels, Raw Silk Sash Curtains, or English Casement Cloth, hand decorated, in such a variety of ways that we very seldom fill two orders alike, and so each customer has practically a style of their own.

Raw or Rajah Silk, per yard . . . . . $1.50
Linen, 50-in. wide, various colorings, per yd. . 65c
Casement Cloth, 50-in. wide, per yard, 85c to $1.10.

The cost of making is comparatively small, considering the effect produced.

"TWEENIES" Imported Short Smokes
TWEENIES—Tweensies are something different—something new. They are not cigars, nor are they cigarettes. They are less than a cigar—more than a cigarette. They are Tweensies. Tweensies are made by hand—of the very finest tobacco—but of leaves which are just too small to be rolled into large, choice Havanas.
