

it please the Lord to bless us more and more to do His will in all things, and to increase our love for Him, and for His Church, of which we are members!

During the last year, our congregation saw the need of making a few repairs in the interior of our chapel, to make it more inviting, as well as more comfortable, for those who come to worship. They went to work to collect the money required among themselves, and carried out their plan in a most successful manner. Now the dark, grey walls have given place to pure white, and our pews and floor are neatly painted.

We have especially to thank one of our sisters, Madame Ledoux, of Ste. Marie, who with untiring efforts, wrote to all her old pupils, who had spent six months or more with her, studying the French language, to ask them for a subscription of one dollar each to buy an organ for our little church, and we are happy to report that her efforts were crowned with success.

With the money received she bought a very nice organ, which she presented to the church, and having some money left over (for the Lord always gives more than we ask of Him), she was enabled to buy some good curtains for our windows, that were almost curtainless, and also four chairs for our platform.

Since the 2nd of September, when I preached my first sermon, I have tried to preach the Gospel of God every Sunday to an attentive congregation. I have also visited the families as often as I could, considering that I was called away from my field to spend four weeks collecting on behalf of the Mission. During this time I visited the churches in the valley of the Ottawa, and as far west as Toronto. The trip proved to be very profitable to me, as I made the acquaintance of many dear friends of the Mission, and it was not unprofitable to the cause.

ST. PIE.

In the absence of Pastor Lebeau, our young brother evangelist, Jacques Césan, who has occupied that field two or three months, gives a few facts, together with his own impressions, concerning it.
