And now in conclusion, the Session would congratulate the Congregation on the present satisfactory condition of its outward equipment for active service in the Cause and Kingdom of our Lord Jesus Christ. In God's good providence we still have our church edifice in which to worship Him; and have now a Pastor who shall soon be present with us, to "go out and in before us," to break unto us the "bread of life:" to guide our steps in the way of truth and holiness: to impart words of comfort and of hope to the feeble, the sick and the dying, and to administer consolation to the bereaved. And, to help him in the arduous duties of his office, we have a band of earnest and willing workers to engage in the various branches of our Congregational work, and the support and co-operation of a people, among whom are found many, who are animated by a spirit of generous liberality towards every Congregational object, and to the various schemes of our Church. The Session, while rejoicing in this completeness of our external organization for carrying on our Congregational work, would also remember that we cannot expect to achieve any real success in our Christian life and work without the blessing of the Holy Spirit. They would therefore ask the Congregation to unite with them in earnest prayer unto God that He may bless us during the ensuing year with an abundant outpouring of His Spirit, so that the zealous labours of minister and people may be crowned with a large measure of true success.

JOHN JENKINS,
Moderator (ad interim).
