For the house the tenders ran from $2,400 to $2,998. There was a question as to which of the two lowest tenders was really the lowest, as it was not stated whether one of them included painting. It was finally decided to place the matter in the hands of Architect Rattenbury, giving him power to award the contract. The contract for the drain was awarded to Mr. Murray, the price being $105. The question of the doctor's remuneration was left to the house and finance committee to submit a report. A long discussion arose over the increased rate to be charged patients after October 1st. some of the trustees contending that it was going to work a hardship to the hospital if the price of $17.50 was adhered to. No definite action was taken in the matter.

vet remains quite a considerable distance to be covered before the Tip Top vein can be expected to be cut. On the 1,000-foot level drifting is in progress both ways. Rossland Great Western .- It is the inthere being no developments of any special level are confined to getting under the ore

War Eagle .-- No shipment has as yet been made from the War Eagle, but as the management is clearing out the ore pockets, used for shipping, at the second evel at the shaft, it is possible that some shipments may be made. It is, however, probable that regular shipments will not be undertaken until the tramway is placed in proper condition. The shaft is now down to the point below the eighth level. where a station is being cut.

Iron Mask .- The development work, the scheme of which was begun in February last and which was interrupted by the special work ordered by the experts because of the litigation between this mine Vancouver put up for sale for arrears and the Centre Star, is now approaching completion and will apparently justify the anticipations of the superintendent. Mr. Sam. Hall. The ore body has been struck at depth, 175 feet, on the eastern end of the property, and it is expected that it will be similarly encountered this week or next on the other end. All that will then remain to be done is the connection by drifts along the vein so as to open up the backs required for stoping purposes. It is therefore probable that within the next month or six weeks this mine will be able to resume shipments on a regular scale.

Centre Star .- The shipments from the Centre Star are now ahead of those from the War Eagle, the ore shipped is still being taken from the stope on the west end miners, sailors of the United States manof-war Wheeling, now at Sitka, and residents of Alaskan towns. Several were destined for Victoria, among them being J. D. Simpson, J. Collins, and Mrs. Langley, the latter the wife of Captain Walace Langley, having just completed a very enjoyable trip through to Dawson. In the hold of the Queen was several hundred tons of salmon from the Alaskan canneries, the loading of which cargo was responsible for the delay of the steamer in arriving. She left Skagway on the same day as the Danube, the news brought by which ship is published in another column. This is the last trip of the Queen on the northern run this season, as on he arrival south she is to be placed on the San Francisco route. During the season the vessel was never once able to enter Glacier Bay, and tourists travelling north this year have in consequence been deprived of seeing this scenic attraction. For some reason as yet undefined, the bay has been continually full of ice, and vessels could not go within miles of it. The Riojun Maru, the arrival from the Orient, got into William Head last night. She left Yekohama on September 12th, and had quite an eventful voyage crossing the Pacific. She brought four saloon passengers, namely, Mr. Stockell, Mr. and Mrs. Christiansen, and C. P. Law, and but eleven Chinese, only one of whom was landed here. Some 40 odd tons of general cargo was all the freight brought by the Riojun Maru. After discharging this she proceeded to the Sound early this afternoon.
