Can Only Count Two.

Seashore gunners hold that the wild goose can count two, but not three Accordingly it is customary in pre paring to shoot wild geese from blind or some detached ribbon of marsh for three men to row over to the station together and for two of them to return to the mainland. The geese, being unable to count about Dover, N. H., one of the prettiest of two, believe that when they see the been left upon the marsh and carefully avoid the region of the blind.
