BAYAWATER, N B, Feb 2—The resident of Bayawater were much startled on the evening of January 30th on the returned of Rev Mr Rickard's horse and sheigh without its occupants. The facts, as 2ar as your correspondent can learn, are that Rev Mr Rickard and Miss Katie Baybow on Monday evening went to accompany some friends from the city as far as Millidgeville on the ice. On their returu the horse broke through the ice where a pond of water had gathered from the last storm. The horse became unmanageable and ran away upsetting the sleigh, leaving Miss Barlow, Mr Richard and the equipments of the sleigh on the rocks at Charleton's Point. Being left in this plight they shouldered the contents of the sleigh and walked home, a distance of over two miles, arriving some time after the horse, and greatly relieving the minds of Mr and Mrs Barlow, who feared that something serious had happened. The sleigh was sinusted and the was a distance of the sleigh and was smooth and manageable. The sleigh serious had happened. The sleigh was sinusted was a man of a britist.—Gruet has a woman's curisomething serious had happened. The sleigh was almost a total wreck, and the

Australia to Become a Nation

MELBOURNE, Victoria, Feb 2-The unanimous agreement finally reached by the Australian colonial premiers regarding certain unsettled questions connected with the Australian federation seems to insure the success of the federation project. The federal capital will be, like Washington, federal territory, the existing capitals being excluded. It will be established in New South Wales. ate and a house of representatives

"You have no business saying that a man was held at the pistol's point," said the editor.
"A pistol has no point." "Not even after the man points t?" asked the new re-porter, who, being young, had not yet learned to treat remarks of an editor
