

JEROME WHACKS ROOSEVELT HARD

Declares President's Criticism of Judiciary Is An Injustice

Says Judges Must Administer the Laws Whether They Are Good or Bad—Thaw's Mother to Defend Him on Insanity Plea Against His Wishes—Will Not Furnish Funds for New Lawyer—Young Mrs. Thaw Decides to Stick to Husband and Mother-in-Law Will Stop Her Allowance.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)
New York, July 20.—District Attorney Jerome's trip to the south is generally taken as having considerable political significance. In fact, in some quarters, it is looked upon as part of a carefully planned campaign for the nomination for the presidency.
The sun the other day in a double-headed editorial notified the bosses of both parties that "the next governor of New York state will be a Democrat and the next governor of New Jersey will be a Republican." This was taken by the politicians to mean Jerome. At all events this midsummer appearance of Jerome making semi-political speeches in the south is worthy of more than passing notice. In his speech yesterday at Warm Springs (Ga.) Jerome dealt a hard rap at President Roosevelt. His main topic was "Public Opinion" and in the course of his remarks he whacked Roosevelt as follows:
"There is one big game which public opinion is not infrequently does, and it is one which lawyers can do much to correct, and that is the criticism of judges for decisions which they could not avoid making, if they obeyed the law. The recent spectacle of the nation's chief executive, himself not a lawyer, criticizing in a public document, a federal judge for his decision on a point of law, has not, I believe, commended itself to other professions."
"The laws are our laws. Public opinion made them and can change them. Every citizen has a right to criticize them and seek their amendment or repeal, but while they are our laws we want our judges to obey them, and not substitute for them something they deem to be correct, and thus to make the law a mere suggestion."
The political situation in New York state was never so muddy as it is now, and it is all it is very true, as a politician expressed it today, that "Heard has been scared."
The gubernatorial campaign this fall will be the most interesting in years. Roosevelt is to dominate the coming Republican campaign. He is understood to feel that strenuous efforts are necessary to return a Republican majority to the house of representatives at this fall election, or at any rate to retain the present Republican majority unimpaired.
Sagamore Hill, it is expected, will be the scene of a number of political conferences this summer. The first of them will be held here next Monday, when Speaker Cannon, of the house of representatives, J. S. Sherman, of New York, chairman of the Republican congressional campaign committee; Congressman Loudenbaugh, of New Jersey, the secretary, and Congressman McKinley, of Illinois, the treasurer, will come to Oyster Bay to discuss the outlook with the president.
The manuscript of the campaign book which is to supply the Republican orators and stump speakers with their facts, figures and arguments, will probably be dictated by Chairman Sherman for the presidential approval, and the speeches delivered by Republican members of the house at the session of congress that it would be advisable to scatter abroad through the mails will be decided upon by the conference.
Roosevelt is determined that no arguments shall be used which have not first had his official sanction. In order that he might be willing to concede distance in the results of elections in all the states are known, the president declined to start on his trip of inspection to Panama until after November, by which time all the contests will have been decided.
The Thaw Murder Case.
It was made plain today that despite the fact that Harry K. Thaw, who killed Stanford White, will not be tried until after November, by which time all the contests will have been decided.

SERIOUS RESULTS FROM DOG FIGHT

Richard Walsh Has Thumb Bitten by Man—Fredk. Keefe Arrested

TROUBLE STARTED IN UNION STREET

Walsh's Fox Terrier Attacked by Keefe's Bull Dog—Later Keefe, Police Say, Attacked Walsh in Front of the Police Station.

A small sized riot in King street about 8 o'clock Friday was the immediate result of a mix-up which started in Union street, and the main figures were a man and a woman and three dogs.
The result of the affair, Richard Walsh, of No. 1 Hook & Ladder Company, has a badly chewed thumb, and Fred Keefe, of 10 Carnarvon street, is locked up, charged by Walsh with assault, which included the thumb work.
The trouble started, the police say, about 7 o'clock in Union street, near the Simms factory, when a bull dog owned by Keefe got into a fight with another dog. The dogs were parted and the "other" dog driven over a fence. At the moment Mr. Walsh happened along with his little fox terrier and, finding himself once more free, the bull dog grabbed the fox terrier.
Mr. Walsh here took hold, the police say, and in his endeavor to extricate his little dog, placed one foot on the neck of the bull dog. Just at this juncture, they add, a woman came rushing up and ordered Mr. Walsh to let go of the bull dog. It is then told that Walsh motioned the woman away, and finally succeeded in getting the fox terrier away from the bull dog, but not until the former was badly hurt.
The scene then shifted to King street east, in front of No. 1 Hook & Ladder station. Mr. Walsh told the police he was sitting at the door of the station when Keefe, with a number of other men, came along, walking up to the former, and if he was the man who owned the fox terrier, which was near by jacking its wounds. On being informed that he was the owner, Keefe, as Walsh says, struck him a blow on the face and a couple then ensued. It is also said that while they were struggling a member of the gang took up a stone to strike Walsh, and the others also threatened.
Turned back to the police station, Walsh told the police he was sitting out doing so, the police say, and the men kept the gang from taking any more action, and if he expected to get out of the station, the former's finger is badly hurt, Keefe says, having taken it in his mouth.
Patrolman Joseph Scott was in the guard room at the time, having seen him, had scattered when he got to the street. The patrolman, however, arrested Keefe between 10 and 11 o'clock on the corner of Union and Sydney streets.
His story, the police say, was that the woman who interfered at the dog fight was his mother, and he said that Walsh struck her. The police suggested that a gang had been organized for the express purpose of beating Walsh. Walsh told the police that he merely put up his hand to ward off a blow, and he also told the woman to stand out of the way.

HERE FROM RUSSIA TO FIND HUSBAND MARRIED TO ANOTHER

Woman Makes Complaint at Police Court Against Henry Gord

Latter Here Two Years and Last August Married in St. John--Woman Who Claims to Be First Wife Says She Has Followed Him From Russia.

Henry Gord, a Russian Jew, aged about 21, is charged with bigamy by his wife, who has just arrived from Russia. He could not be located Sunday, but he is believed to be in the city.
The woman, who says she is this wife, went to the police station Saturday evening, accompanied by Policeman Henry To. Police Clerk Henderson she said she wished to lay information against her husband, but it was said last night that so far nothing further has been done.
The first Mrs. Gord says that she married him in Russia, that he left her, and she followed to England, and from there to Canada.
Gord has been here for about two years. Last August he married Miss Wizzel, the ceremony being performed by Rabbi Rabinowitz, who last night informed the Telegraph that he had no recollection of the matrimonial relations.
Sunday a reporter called upon wife No. 2 at her home in Bond's alley, but she was not inclined to be communicative. In her hand she had a big butcher knife and seemed to be busying herself with household duties.

ARM BROKE IN STRANGE MANNER

Frank S. Rogers Injured on Train En Route to Brookville

BONES OF UPPER AND LOWER ARM

Sitting at Open Car Window, With Elbow on Sill, When Something Struck Him—Hard to Find Explanation for the Occurrence.

A peculiar accident happened Friday evening when the suburban I. C. R. train was on its way from St. John.
Frank S. Rogers, the Charlottetown jeweler, had been to the cinema with his family and was returning to his summer home in Brookville. As the car was about opposite the roundhouse he was sitting reading a paper, his elbow resting on the window sill. Suddenly something struck him and then came intense pain in his arm.
Arriving at Brookville station he walked home and then telephoned to Dr. Thomas Walker, who went out on the Quebec express, the train making an extra stop at Brookville to allow him to alight.
He found Mr. Rogers' injuries painful and hard to explain. The bone of the upper arm was broken four or five inches from the elbow, while one bone of the forearm, perhaps both, is broken. The elbow is strange to say, uninjured. On the forearm is an abrasion of the skin such as a file might make. Mr. Rogers does not think he was struck, such as a protruding nail on a car passed on the trip could have caused the injury, but is rather more inclined to believe something was thrown or something fell from directly above the window.
L. R. Ross, I. C. R. terminal superintendent, says he was unable to see who could have struck Mr. Rogers. After the accident he made a personal investigation of the line for fully a mile out of town and saw nothing within three feet of the track over which the train on which Mr. Rogers was a passenger had passed.
Mr. Rogers will be kept in the house for some time.

Will Become Attached to Trade and Commerce Department and Work Up Trade in the Far East—Leaves for London Thursday--Companies Chartered With Millions of Capital--Commander Spain to Try for Divorce Again.

Ottawa, July 20.—W. T. R. Preston was here today and had an interview with Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Sir Richard Cartwright. Mr. Preston will leave for England on Thursday next. He goes to close up his business as commissioner of immigration in Europe.
It is learned on pretty good authority, although nothing official is to be had, that Mr. Preston has been offered and accepted a position in the department of trade and commerce. After completing his business in England he will go to Japan, China and Korea for the purpose of working up trade between Canada and these countries. There is a steadily growing trade between Canada and the Orient and on account of the great development of the Canadian west a large volume of business yearly will be finding an outlet by the sea. The visit of Hon. Sydney Fisher to Japan a few years ago was the cause of the dominion finding a profitable market for flour and other products in Japan. Mr. Preston will have a good opportunity of still further carrying on this good work.

OCCUPANTS HAD CLOSE CALL IN MONCTON DWELLING FIRE

Moncton, July 20.—(Special)—Fire early this morning did several hundred dollars damage to the residence of Jas. E. White, I. C. R. brakeman, on Upper Robinson street. The fire was well under way in a back shed when discovered by trainmen on their way home, and when the family was aroused. White's three children and the house-keeper were compelled to flee from the burning building in their night-clothes. But for the discovery of the blaze at the time difficulty might have been experienced in getting the children out of the house. White was away from home at the time, and the house-keeper and children were alone. The latter slept up stairs. White's oldest girl was first to be awakened and quickly aroused her two younger sisters, sleeping near getting them out in the nick of time to escape smothering by smoke. The fire occurred between two and three this morning and is supposed to have started from an ash-barrel at the rear of the house.

ALLAN LINE HONORS A TICKET ISSUED 31 YEARS AGO

Montreal, July 18.—Thirty-one years ago a woman named Robertson, whose home is in Glasgow, purchased a ticket to come to Canada, but she had to postpone the trip. The ticket was issued by the Montreal Ocean Steamship Company, which was founded by the late Sir Hugh Allan, and was carefully guarded by the purchaser in the hope that some day it could be used. It was not until today, however, that this ticket was presented at the office of H. & A. Allan here by a relative of Mrs. Robertson. Although more than a quarter of a century had passed, the company willingly honored the ticket by issuing in its place a new one, which will be sent to Mrs. Robertson to enable her to make the long delayed voyage. The old ticket is being retained as a curiosity.

This young man was of excellent character and was engaged in cutting stone with his father at Barker's new building, Victoria street.

Sticks to Husband.

Mrs. Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, who has been trying to carry water on both shoulders between her mother-in-law and her husband, has finally gone to her husband's side entirely, and if his family succeeds in having him incarcerated in the lunatic asylum she will be in practically the same position she was when she came to New York before Stanford White and Henry Thaw interfered with her.
Mrs. Thaw before she left the city yesterday without calling on her son at the home made it plain that not a penny would go toward Thaw's personally selected lawyers or toward his wife.

Another Blow at American Meats

A special cable from Berlin says: "The government, which was not impressed by President Roosevelt's recent assurance to the British Grocers' Federation regarding American meats, has decided to enforce new and more stringent inspection laws in the case of American refrigerated products beginning September 15."
"This will practically annihilate what remains of a once enormous trade. The new regulations provide that cuts of fresh beef from abroad shall be examined to see if the glands bear tuberculous symptoms and if they do not the meat will not be admitted. Inasmuch as American refrigerated meat has the glands removed prior to shipment, the regulations will practically exclude American meat from Germany."
"The government will also stop the shipment of American canned meats to the troops in Africa, although it is under contract for a regular supply until October."

Argonauts Back, Explain Defeat

Montreal, July 20.—(Special).—Captain Barker, Joe Wright, Mackenzie and Dickson, of Argonauts, arrived here tonight on the steamer Canada. Others of the crew will follow later.
Mr. Wright said: "We were too tired on day after exhausting first struggle to show our best against First Trinity. In regard to arrangements for the second day, we were better than anything we have on this side. Our defeat while we did not expect it, was occasioned on that day by a better crew, but it must be remembered that Trinity Hall had the advantage of us rowing a race without an exhausting contest that we had a short time previously."

Moose Plentiful in Ontario.

Toronto, July 20.—(Special).—This year the supply of moose and deer in the Thunder Bay district are reported to be exceedingly plentiful. Fire Ranger Murray reports to the department of land and mines that, during his recent trip through the forests south and east of Mattawan river, he counted 101 moose and seventeen moose calves. The great increase in number of moose is attributed to the efforts of the Ontario government to protect game against the ravages of trappers and squatters. Two agents were recently appointed for this purpose.
