A Chat With Our Readers

In keeping with its attitude as a typically Western magazine, The Western Home Monthly has always encouraged contributions from Western readers. Most publications rely almost entirely upon syndicated matter and one can hardly blame them because such matter, while not original, is from the pen of a well-known writer and of a character which will just suit the requirements of the publication to which it is submitted. Our encouragement of new writers has brought some successful results and more than one of Canada's leading writers received his or her start in the columns of this magazine.

We receive a very large number of manuscripts every day, but most contributors appear to ignore the possibilities of the short article. And that is wanted by readers today. Short articles of about 2000 words which touch upon different phases of life in our own country. Here is an opportunity for some of our readers to use their talents to good advantage.

THE PHILOSOPHER

The Philosopher page of The Western Home Monthly has for years provided food for sound thought and instruction to thousands of readers. The writer of this department has always maintained a high standard dealing with all problems affecting the West with singular ability and keen foresight. In this issue he deals effectively with questions of great importance at the present time and that are constantly becoming more urgent, viz:—Visionary Reformers.

Impracticable Idealism

The poisonous dogmas of Carl Marx

The Idea of Progress

Bertrand Russell's Testimony

all these bear upon the general unrest of the day and we commend them to the careful consideration of our readers.

Yours truly,

BABY WALKER.

"Never thought he would live."

93, Queen's Head Road,
Handsworth, Birmingham.

Dear Sir,—I am very pleased to write to you concerning your Virol, as when my baby was born we never thought he would live; but a friend of mine advised me to go to the Infants' Welfare, Soho Road.

I took him when one month old, and the Doctor ordered Virol. With careful attention, and Virol added regularly with his food, I am sure it has proved very successful, as you see from his photograph. Wishing your Virol every success.

Yours gratefully,
(Signed) (Mrs.) E. Walker.

Virol is invaluable for the expectant and nursing mother herself, whilst for children it supplies those vital principles that are destroyed in the sterilising of milk; it is also a bone and tissue-building food of immense value. Virol babies have firm flesh, strong bones and good colour.
