attempt to confer ^{non-privileges} unknown to the law upon persons for their protection outside the House) the courts do not claim the right to decide upon the validity of the claim of privilege raised by the House, which, qua its own privileges is superior to the courts. Its right to define its own privileges and to decide invasion of them seems to be fully recognized.

any resolution should contain a set expression of an alleged breach of privilege.
The sense of the Senate to act now seems to me to be clear. og
