

Paint That Preserves Farm Buildings

PURE PAINT is a sure preservative whether it covers buildings or vehicles or implements or anything else. If you use paint because it is cheap you will just as surely pay dear for it in the end as you would if you fed your stock with a mixture of corn and pumpkin seed.

Paint to preserve buildings must be made up of the right raw materials and mixed with the right skill and machinery to make it durable enough to withstand all severe weather conditions and variation of climate.

Any paint may look well but the only test is time. Yes, the old steady sun and the hammering storms will prove that common paint don't preserve.

You Ought To Know About Steel Ribbed Fire-Pots

Any invention that will save you from 1/8 to 1/3 in fuel, is a pretty important subject to the man who is going to put in a new furnace this summer.

The "Hecla" Fire-pot has three times the radiating surface of any other because it has 97 steel ribs fused into the castiron (count the flanges or pins in your present furnace). This increase in radiating means a corresponding increase in the amount of heat given off by the fuel. By actual tests extending over three years, saves from 1/8 to 1/3 of the fuel.

The "Hecla" Furnace

Every one of the "Hecla" Furnace steel ribs radiates heat. They also throw off the heat so rapidly that the Firepot never becomes redhot, cannot burn out, and should be practically everlasting.

We can't tell you all the points of "Hecla" Furnaces, here. Our new catalogue contains them, explains them and illustrates them. Suppose we send you a copy—free?
