

GOVERNMENT EXPERT Chooses SHARPLES Tubular Cream Separators for His Three Farms

Like other shrewd farmers, Mr. Anson Groh, widely known agricultural lecturer employed by the Government, knows the money to be made in dairying. He has succeeded because he knows profit is of far greater importance than first cost. Mr. Groh is seen sitting in this picture, with his family and assistants, before his country home. Like others making most money from dairying, Mr. Groh selected the Tubular in preference to all others because the Dairy Tubular contains no disks or other contraptions, has twice the skimming force of other separators, skims faster and twice as clean, and pays a profit no other can pay. Mr. Groh says:

"Preston, Ontario, May 28, 1912.—Some years ago we selected the Sharples Tubular. After a few years' use we found it necessary to get another separator for another farm and selected a No. 6. After several years' service of these two machines, we would not think of introducing anything else on our third farm, recently purchased. ANSON GROH."

Now you understand why owners of other separators are discarding their machines by carloads for Tubulars. Follow the example of Mr. Groh and the many others who have succeeded. Buy a Tubular for the sake of double skimming force, easy cleaning, and all the profits.

MAYPOLE SOAP

The Clean, Easy Home Dye

Maypole Soap cleans and dyes, at one operation, cotton, silk, wool, satin, velvet, lace or feathers. Gives the freshest, most brilliant colors because it contains soap. Colors are even, free from streaks, and absolutely fast.

Being in cake form, Maypole Soap does not scatter, waste or make a mess, as powder dyes do. Does not stain hands or kettle. Has long been England's favorite home dye because it is easiest and most satisfactory.

24 colors—will give any shade. Colors 10c—black 15c—at your dealer's or postpaid with free Booklet, "How to Dye," from

Take A Handful Of "St. Lawrence" Sugar Out To The Store Door

—out where the light can fall on it—and see the brilliant, diamond-like sparkle the pure white color, of every grain.

That's the way to test any sugar—that's the way we hope you will test

St. Lawrence
Sugar

Compare it with any other sugar—compare its pure, white sparkle—its even grain—its matchless sweetness.

Better still, get a 20 pound or 100 pound bag at your grocer's and test "St. Lawrence Sugar" in your home.

THE SPICE OF LIFE.

"LONG LIVE THE KING."

Hats off to the farmer, ye tribes of the earth,
And join in the chorus of praise to his worth,
A song of thanksgiving, a tribute of fame
In glory and honor and love to his name;
For great is the husbandman, mighty is he,
Whatever his station and where he may be;
The wise ones revere him, though heedless may scoff;
He's a true sovereign—then to him hats off.

The hope of all nations, the base of all things—
Foundation of riches, the grandeur of kings;
The life-blood of marts, and of progress the source,
Compelling earth onward upon its fleet course;
Let credit be given to whom it is due,
The one faithful toiler whose laurels are few;
The world is awaking to sense of his worth,
The labor-scarred farmer—a sovereign of earth!

Through all kinds of weather and a seasons through,
He toils at whatever his hands find to do;
From earliest dawn until darkness of night,
He challenges duty and fights the good fight;
At peace with the world and revering his God,
He wrests his inheritance forth from the sod,
Content with the onerous paths he must tread,
That the world shall be clothed and its hunger be fed.
Hats off to the farmer, staunch lord of the soil,
Whose sinews are knit by the force of long toil,
Who scatters the seed and who harvests the grain,
O'er hillside and valley and far-spreading plain.
Wherever men go and wherever they fare,
Is proof that the husbandman also is there,
Who yields the provender that fills the world's trough,
Enriching all nations: Then to him hats off!
—Sidney Warren Mase, in Ohio Farmer.

THE CROP EXPERT.

As each succeeding harvest nears, we never look in vain
For the Bull of Bashan Expert, who travels in a train;
Who gazes through the window,—then loudly he doth state
That two hundred million bushels is his final estimate.
He knoweth not of lurking weeds, of alkali or sand,
But boldly states the crops are good; in fact, are simply grand;
He doesn't even wait to see the green dissolve to gold,
And thinks we Western farmers all believe what we are told.
His head he bothers not a jot with frost, or rust, or hail,
But says the crops are so advanced they really cannot fail;
Then home he goes well satisfied before we tie a sheaf,
And proudly gives his figures, does this mighty Expert Chief.
Then the waiting market falters, then drops, and drops again,
Just as we weary farmers make a start to thresh our grain;
And we bless this blatant booster, as the bills upon us pour—
Not welcome green-backed dollars—but for implements and store.
Will someone give him poison, or paralyze his brain,
Until the threshing outfit has come and gone again?
For we who know the wily West can never rightly state
The number of our bushels till the tally tells our fate.
—By Horace B. Gibbs, in "The Farmer's Advocate and Home Journal," Winnipeg
