SEASONABLE REMINDERS

There is a deal of truth in the old saying "All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy." Often times one wonders whether this saying is not especially applicable to country people. Farm girls and boys are usually shy and reserved and while modesty is an excellent and indispensable asset to anyone, the self-consciousness which is oftentimes so pronounced in young people from the farm is not by any means an attribute to be encouraged. But it can very largely be overcome if the adage above quoted be considered intelligently. Let the boys go to any plowing match within reach, take every one on the farm to the special train, try and get a social club organized which will start up some tennis, baseball, garden parties and any other activities which will give the young folks a chance to mix together. Take in the fair and get the children interested in the live stock. Harvest will soon be coming and then there will be no chance to take advantage of any social intercourse.

The following is one of the sayings to be found in the Dominion Experimental Farms Exhibit which is at present being shown at all the large fairs: "Keep bees. Millions of pounds of honey are lost yearly for want of bees to gather it."

"A well managed colony of bees yields from $5 to $10 worth of honey per year."

"Give the boy a start in bee-keeping, it will be a new interest for him on the farm."

Have you, as your water supply, a dug out reservoir? And are you bothered with green scum forming on the surface? If so, try putting a cupful of bluestone into the reservoir. You will find that this will clean up the water and will not affect it at all harmfully for drinking purposes.

Are your mower knives sharp and ready for the hay crop?

Now is the time most of the roadwork will be done. Have you a system in your municipality or do you just fix up the bad spots every year?

There is a tendency in rural municipalities to underestimate the value of good permanent roads. The fact is that there is so much to be done in most districts that many of the farmers do not realize that all the roads cannot be made good at once. There should be some plan decided upon by everyone in each locality whereby the main roads should be attended to first and made so as to be lasting.

It requires a lot of careful thought and a far-sighted give and take policy which must be endorsed, or backed up, by everyone in the district, in order that good roads may be developed to the best advantage.

Put the sods to the outside of the road rather than dumping them on the crown.

Remember that the most effective man-made agent for the destruction of earth roads is the narrow tire. If you are going to buy a new wagon, get one with wide tires, say 3 1/2 inches. It will run better and last longer than a narrow tired wagon.

Read the instructions as to the use of the split-log drag in another column.

There has been recently received a communication which states that the idea is prevalent in certain localities that Canada thistle seed will not germinate and produce new plants. This idea is of course wrong. Canada thistle seed will grow just as readily as any other weed seed will, and it has this added disadvantage that on account of its being so light it is carried by the wind for very long distances. Beware of it. Cut any thistles on the road allowance, in the crop, or along the side of the fence before they have had a chance to produce seed, and don't stop at this; keep an eye on the patch where ever it is and look after it.—E.J.T.
