From the Kentrille, N. S. Chronicle.

Mr. David O. Corkum, of Scott's Bay Road, is the owner of one of the best known farmers in that section of the county. He is naturally is always to be found busy on his place.

Last winter he spent the whole season in the lumber woods, was strong and the wonder of the neighborhood that he is able to work at all. Before moving to Scott's Bay Road, Mr. Corkum Scott's Bay Road, Mr. Corkum Scott's Bay Road, Mr. Corkum the could not get a moment's respite from the effects of his disease. Feeling that he must get well at any kinds of medicine hoping to receive benchmout to die without a struggle, he had dectors summoned from Halifax, but still continued to get worse. #### At the Post Office Window

It is a never-ending trouble in some country Post Offices to answer callers. The Postmaster at a certain village was a very patient man; but the gentlest temper gets ruffled. Anxious relatives who are expecting letters sometimes cut up rough at a sarcastic repartee, but the solemn lantern-jawed young man looking after letters for his family was very much in earnest and not easily disturbed. "Any thing for the Wattses?" he asked. "No, nothing," said the Postmaster. "Anything for Jane Watts?" "Nothing." "Anything for Jane Watts?" "No, sir." "Anything for Hoe Watts?" "No, on othing." "Anything addressed for 'Fool Joe' Watts, Jim Watts, Bill Watts, Sweet Watts, Jim Watts, Bill Watts, Sweet Watts, Wise Watts, nor any other Wattses, dead, living, unborn, native, foreign, civilized, uncivilized, black or white, franchised or disfranchised, naturalised, or otherwise. No there is positively nothing for any of the Wattses, either individually, severally, jointly, now and for ever one and inseparable." The lantern-jawed young man gazed at the Postmaster in astonishment, and said, "Please look if there is anything for John Thomas Watts." looking after letters for his family was Tollemache, brother of the seventh Earl of Dysart, whose death has just taken place, was twice married, and leaves children by both married, and leaves children by both marriages. The names of some of the children are quite extraordinary. One of his sons, for instance, was given the names of Lyulph Ydwallo Odin Nestor Egbert Lyonel Toedmag Hugh Erchenwyne Saxon Esa Cromwell Orma Nevill Dysart Plantagenet, whilst a daughter's name is given in Debrett as Lyona Decima Veronica Esyth Undine Cyssa Hylda Rowena Adela Thyra Ursula Ysabel Blanche Lelias Dysart Plantagenet. Mr. Tollemache's other children have been hardly less liberally dealt with.

New Danger in Cities.

An explosion of gas in the fashionable action of Fifth avenue in New York the other day threw a dozen massive flagstones into the air. The explosion was a tremendous one. All the windows in the mansion opposite were broken, a basement door was torn from its hinges, houres on bo'h sides of the street were shaken up, and all the aristocratic neighborhood was as badly frightened as if Gabriel had blown his trumpet. The cause of the explosion calls attention to a new danger in cities. The leakage of the electric fluid from wires had eaten into the gaspipe. This gradual rotting of the pipe finally caused a leak. The gas accumulated under the sidewalk, and was finally ignited by a spark from the electric wire which had corroded the pipe. Electrical experts say that this corrosion of gas and water pipes is going on in every city in the country. This fact appears to suggest some tremendous problembs, that will probably not be fully appreciated until there has been some great public catastrophe. hinges, houses on both sides of the street

"Affliction sore long time she bore Physicians were in vain."
At last one day, a friend did say,
"You'd soon be well again"
if you would take, as I did, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, for that is the cure for all the peculiar ailments of women. It is a safe, simple and sure remedy. It banishes those distressing maladies that make woman's life a burden, curing all painful irregularities, uterine disorders, inflammations and ulceration, prolapsus and kindred weaknesses. As a nervine it cures nervous exhaustion, prostration, debility, relieves mental anxiety and hypochondria and induces refreshing sleep." She took the advice and is well. "Favorite Prescription" is the only remedy for the delicate derangements and weaknesses of females, sold by druggists. A pamphlet free. Address World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N.Y.

prescribe Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil and Hypophosphites because they find their patients can tolerate it for a long time, as it does not upset the stomach nor derange the digestion like the plain oil.

Scott's Emulsion is as much asier to digest than the plain oil as milk is easier to digest than butter. Besides, the fishfat taste is taken out of the oil and it is almost palatable. The way sickly children, emaciated, anomic and consumptive adults, gain flesh on Scott's Emulsion is very remarkable.
