Boys and Girls

With the approach of the hot summer weather the diet of the children cannot be looked after too carefully. A poached egg, cooked in the following manner, is good for breakfast, before the little ones go out to play. Have the water in a small agate pan boiling furiously, then set it back and, breaking an egg into a saucer, slip it into the boiling water. Let it stay long enough to set, about two minutes, then take it out and add a little salt and a piece of butter. Put it on toast if you wish.

Soft boiled eggs are cooked in the same manner except the shells are not broken and the egg is left in the water about ten minutes. Prunes are also a splendid article of diet for a young child, or in fact, for children of any age. If they are eaten once a day they tend to keep the bowels regular. Cook them as follows. Wash six large prunes, put into a small pan and cover with cold water. Simmer three or four hours, never allowing the water to boil. As they swell and the water boils away, renew with hot water but use no sugar, as the prunes are sweet enough. Prunes cooked in this way can be pressed through a sieve and used for the filling for sandwiches.

Bethesda Pentecostal Assembly, 191 New Gower St.—At 10 a.m. regular class meeting; regular services at 11, 2 and 7; also services on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday at 8 p.m. We extend to all a hearty welcome to these services.

Brotherhood Meeting—A meeting for men only will be held in the Methodist College Hall on Sunday evening at 8.15. His Excellency the Governor will preside. Rev. I. W. Williamson will tell the story of the World's Brotherhood movement. All men are invited to be present.

IRELAND'S NEW VICEROY AND HIS WIFE

Lord Talbot To Succeed French As Irish Viceroy

Important Announcement Made In British Cabinet Changes.

BIG RECONSTRUCTION.

LONDON, April 2.—Field Marshal Viscount French, of Ypres, will be succeeded as Lord Lieutenant and Governor General of Ireland by Lord Edmund Bernard Talbot, who has held the post of Joint Parliamentary Secretary for the Treasury.

COMPLETE RECONSTRUCTION.

LONDON, April 2.—Andrew Bonar Law's unexpected retirement as Lord Privy Seal, and from the Government leadership in the House of Commons has led to a complete reconstruction of the Government on a much larger scale than was expected.

The most remarkable appointment is that of Robert S. Horne to the Chancery of the Exchequer. In Parliament only two years, he succeeds to the most important position in the Cabinet after the Prime Minister. Several of the score of new appointments are new men who will be obliged to seek re-election.

The appointment of Lord Edmund Talbot to the Irish post is extremely interesting. He will assume office at the beginning of May in order to issue writs for the elections under the Home Rule act. Lord Edmund is the leading lay Catholic in England in the Kingdom and the first Catholic to become vice-roy of Ireland.

APPROVE APPOINTMENT.

The London Times referring to Lord Edmund Talbot as "the most popular chief nationalist whip for a generation," says editorially:

"Whether his qualifications as the foremost lay Catholic in England will recommend him as strongly to the Irish people as the Government seems to expect is an open question; but as he would scarcely have accepted the appointment without some assurance that the system of administration which marked the latter years of Viscount French vice-royalty will hardly be maintained in all its unintelligible rigor, he may enter his most important office under favorable auspices."

The Times further remarks that the Irish problem cannot be solved by a change in person unless there be a change in policy, and concludes by speaking of the new appointments as a whole as follows:

"The comparative insignificance of the extensive shuffle and deal lies in the circumstances that it contains no clear indication of policy. It is a whirl of persons effected apparently without intelligible method or plan."

The appointment of Lord Edmund was due to the necessity, under the Home Rule Act, of appointing a civilian vice-roy.

NUMEROUS CHANGES.

These changes necessitated a considerable reconstruction of the ministry. Among the changes and new

The Sickened Lady

Toothache, says Nurse, is essentially an inflammatory condition and, in most cases, there is a cavity in the tooth. In cases where there is a cavity, but no nerve exposure, the treatment is simple. Apply a sedative and exclude the secretions of the mouth from the cavity and prompt relief will follow, at least until you can visit a dentist. Just because the tooth has stopped aching, don't put off going to the dentist.

A very effective agent and one that is always close at hand, is oil of cloves. If you haven't oil of cloves, apply powdered cloves. It should be applied by saturating a piece of cotton in the oil and introducing it into the cavity on the end of a toothpick. That being done the secretions are kept out by filling the cavity with a small piece of beeswax, a household remedy that should be kept at all times in the medicine closet.

Apply the wax by warming it on the point of a knife and then, while soft, forcing it into the cavity. The wax filling serves not only the purpose of keeping out secretions of the mouth, but it stops the feeling of chill when anything cold is taken.

The Cock of the North

(To the Editor)

Dear Sir,—I notice by the Twillingate Sun of April 9th where the editor of that rag stated that he did not intend to deal at any great length with Mr. Jennings' letter as his own people had plainly shown him during his visit here that Twillingate what they thought of him. I would like to state right here, Mr. Editor, that it was one of the most orderly meetings ever held here and I would like to remind Billy that the same crowd of men is here now as there was when the little editor stood as a Tory candidate and didn't get enough votes to leave the meeting they held here before it was finished and run away home. (What for? Billy knows) He also says that Mr. Jennings made a personal attack on him. Well, Mr.

FRENCH ENVOY PHOTOGRAPHED UPON ARRIVAL

Rene Viviani, former French Premier, has just arrived in America as an envoy extraordinary from France with power to settle all war questions between the United States and France. This is the first time such an envoy has visited America from France since the war of the Revolution. The photograph of Mr. Viviani was taken upon his arrival on board the steamship Lorraine.

Editor, I would like to say that if as he is and men that are able to ask Willie had given a true record of the questions, men that have had more salt water in their eyes than ever he traded it, so the editor of the 'Sun' must take it in good part for what a man sows that must be also reap. He also states that he did send in an application to try and join the F.P.U., and the answer he got was what he expected to get (blackballed he meant.) How funny! I expect, Mr. Editor, that he wanted to get the debates of the House to print and get a little picking and by joining the F.P.U. he might get them. Poor Billy men is here now as there was when the little editor stood as a Tory candidate and didn't get enough votes to leave the meeting they held here before it was finished and run away home. (What for? Billy knows) He also says that Mr. Jennings made a personal attack on him. Well, Mr.

I remain,
yours truly,
FAIRPLAY.
