Imports of Canada for the past month aggregate $86,000,000 and the duties collected $19,000,000, an increase of $1,500,000, over the same period last year.

Elected by Acclamation. Dr. Pagley, the newly appointed Solicitor General for New Brunswick, has been elected by acclamation in Kings County. He will no doubt prove a valuable addition to the legal profession.

A Popular M. P. How John Costigan was presented with a gold-headed cane by his Ottawa friends, last week, on the occasion of the completion of the seventh year of his career as a member of the government. He was also presented with an address from the officers of the various inland revenue districts of the Dominion.

To Protect Behring Sea. The British war ships have been sent to cruise in Behring Sea. While we are pleased to note this proof of the willingness of the Imperial authorities to protect the rights of their colonies, yet we trust there will be no collision with American vessels and no trouble raised between the English and American governments.

Under New Management. W. J. Jones Esq., who has lately returned from British Columbia, has assumed the editorial control of the Maple Leaf. Mr. Jones is a well informed and clever writer and will no doubt obtain the favor of the Maple Leaf. We extend him a cordial greeting as he enters the journalistic ranks and trust his company of the editorial chair will be both pleasant and profitable.

Committed for Trial. Geo. F. Niles and his son, John and Charles Niles, were examined on Thursday before Justice Weiting and were sent up for trial for shooting, threatening to shoot and ordering the shooting of Thompson Wood, near Bay View on Wednesday last. The prisoners are now in Westchester county jail at Dorchester. Wood is very seriously wounded and his fears are ascertained that he will not recover.

Hope for Thought and Action. A Series of Letters Addressed to the Young by Rev. A. Thomson, Rector, St. Andrew's, Hillsboro, N. B., and Published in the Amherst Gazette in the Year 1880.

If we work upon earth, it will perish; if we work upon heaven, time will efface it; if we work upon hell, it will burn it out; if we work upon the world, it will consume it; if we work upon the soul, it will be immortal; if we work upon the spirit, it will be eternal; if we work upon the love of our fellow-men, it will be the love of our fellow-men; if we work upon the love of our fellow-men, it will be the love of our fellow-men; if we work upon the love of our fellow-men, it will be the love of our fellow-men.

LETTER V. AMUSEMENTS.

My DEAR YOUNG FRIENDS:—I intend at this time to call your attention to the subject of Amusements. That there is a necessity for amusement of some kind I have no doubt. Man is a complex being. His body and his mind both, in order to maintain strength and usefulness, require occasional relaxation. But, as amusement, critically considered, may be either virtuous or vicious, great care must be taken to realize those that ennoble the intellect, add tension and strength to the relaxed sinews, and inculcate rational pleasures. No man should indulge in those that unduly excite the mind, or that sweep like a storm of dissipation over fair prospects and professions. It is sometimes happens that the needed recuperation is obtained by simply changing the scene of labor or business. Gardening, cricket, swimming, rowing, and such like exercises often tend to produce the most beneficial effects on both mind and body. But, on the other hand, we think that theatrical performances, gambling, horse racing, professional dancing, and such like tend to do us harm; for they waste time, corrupt the morals, unfit for duty, and plant little pathways with many sorrows. I am well aware that some of you will not look at these things just as I do; and you may feel disposed to exclaim:—It is time enough to worry us when you are in danger. I do see the danger, although, indeed, you may not now perceive it. It is the very nature and art of vice to appear in the fairest possible form. Now as the ship is built upon the beach, ere she is launched forth to brave the ocean's spirit, so would I desire to help you, before you are launched, as it were, upon the sea of life.

Of the many things that come to us with garlands of roses about their brows, and profusion of love upon their tongues, let us examine the following:—the Theatre, Ball Room, and Gambling. With regard to the origin of theatrical performances we can say but little. They obtained in a distant as well as in modern times. But although occupying a front rank among popular amusements, they nearly deserve the name; especially if that old hebraic, Ty-god, be mounted on her heels. The young man that delights in tragic representations cannot be a person of humanity. The tender spirit of Nero must be strong within him; for it is utterly impossible that he should be kind and to delight in a scene of blood and misery. The theatre has been deluged on the ground that it is a school of morals. Thus, too, has the slave trade been defended. But both have failed to bring the public mind to a better state, and who would have thought that the eyes and souls of the young people would be attracted to the theatre? Meth rather would we have the word of commendation "She has done what she could." Christian sisters there is a great responsibility resting upon us. It is to us that women of heathen lands are looking to-day. They are perishing without the knowledge of the true and living God. How often do our missionaries tell us of the requests expressed that the news of salvation had not reached them sooner.

Missionary Meeting. Last Sabbath afternoon the yearly meeting of the Hillsboro W. M. A. Society was held at the Hill. The secretary, Miss Mary Bacon, read the following very interesting report:—Again we come before you on behalf of the mission cause. During the past convention year the Hillsboro Society contributed to the funds of the Union $37.00. The past year was a very successful one for us. The attendance at the meetings was very good, and we enjoyed the presence of the Minister. From the Home and Foreign fields there comes the same earnest cry which was heard by the apostle of old, "Outward and help us." Ere we turn away and disregard those claims, let our imagination carry us forward to that time when the Lord shall stand before the throne. There is not one of us who would like to hear from that loving Saviour, "I have heard as ye did it not unto me of the least of these ye did it not to me." Meth rather would we have the word of commendation "She has done what she could." Christian sisters there is a great responsibility resting upon us. It is to us that women of heathen lands are looking to-day. They are perishing without the knowledge of the true and living God. How often do our missionaries tell us of the requests expressed that the news of salvation had not reached them sooner.

HO TRAVELLERS. Patronize the New Moncton Livery Stable. We have taken the stable lately occupied by F. N. Steves, corner Foundry and Main Streets, and solicit a share of patronage. First class rigs to hire. Horvies boarded on reasonable terms. Careful attention given to travellers' teams. A good hostler always in attendance. TERMS MODERATE. WEST & CRUE. Moncton, Nov. 1, 1888.

Send the gospel faster, striver, Ye who dwell in christian lands; Reek ye not we're dying, dying, More in number than the sands. Hoed ye not His words—your Master—Go ye forth to all the world Send the gospel faster, striver, Let its banner be unfurled! Christian I can say at in silence, While this cry fills all the air, Or content yourself with giving Merely what you well can spare; Will ye make your God a beggar When he asks but for "His own"? Will you deny him from your treasure, A poor pittance, as a loan? The Canadian Baptist missionaries in India have sent out an earnest appeal for laborers. There are 3,000,000 of people in that part of India allotted to them, 2000 of these are dying every week. They ask for 52 missionaries to be sent out this year. At the annual meeting last year the union pledged themselves to assist the Home Mission Board. From our great North West comes earnest pleadings for funds. From the Father Institute in Upper Canada comes a cry for aid. The wants are many and great but if each give according to his or her ability the work will soon be done. The Lord is sitting over against the treasury, and is taking note of the gifts that are cast therein. Of how many of us will he say, as he did of the poor widow who cast in two mites, "She hath cast in more than they all." "She of her want did cast in all that she had even all her living." Canada spends $80,000,000 annually in strong drink and $500,000 for missions. Think of it $80,000,000 for that which ruins body and soul, and $500,000 for that which saves souls as much as it gives up all demerits for carrying out our Lord's last commission, "Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature." In view of this statement the people of Canada cannot plead the want of means as an excuse for neglect in this matter. MARY BACON. Deacon R. Wilber of Germantown gave a most instructive black board exercise on the needs of our Toluca mission as represented by the appeal of our missionaries. About 500,000 heathens to each missionary. Interesting readings were given by Miss Nichols and Mrs. Wright; an address from the pastor and the following statement with an appeal from M. R. A. S. in Hopewell Baptist Church having a membership of 55. They paid into the funds of the Union last year $119.25. There are 120 female members in the church so that half are yet enlisted in this great work. A good resolution was taken and we sang "Praise God from whom all blessings flow," and went out to trust to great usefulness and more earnest endeavor that Christ's kingdom may extend to the ends of the earth. Hopewell Hill, May 27, 1889.

character. Shakespeare, with almost super-human intellect, has done more to render the stage attractive, than any other man, living or dead. The "fair drawn dagger" which led Macbeth to Duncan, the voice crying, "Sleep no more; Macbeth has murdered sleep;" the old king's "silver skin, loosed with his golden crown;" and the spirit of Banquo, shaking his gory locks in the old king's face, surrounded us with an atmosphere pregnant with disease to both mind and body. But, young friends, if you wish to behold scenes so representations, go to the Theatre that God has built; look upon the vast national tragedies of the day; contemplate the great dramatic strong of life that is bustling onward to fame or ruin; and listen to the mighty wail of music as it flows from Heaven's own orchestra; but turn not to the gaslit ball where drunken rascals hold holiday.

Examine with me now, if you please, the matter of Jemmy. The dance is of its origin is of a very early date; and, so far as I can gather from recorded testimony, it is either religious, or the opposite. With the truly religious dance I have nothing to do at present. My plan calls me to contemplate the nature and effects of what is known by the name of promiscuous dancing. I can imagine the possibility of a few young people of the name household, "tripping it on the light fantastic toe," without doing much injury to mind, morals, or body. But in the promiscuous gathering I see every perched upon the brow; and I know that jealousy and deceit rankle in the heart. I anticipate, however, that some of you may exclaim, "tripping it on the light fantastic toe," without doing much injury to mind, morals, or body.
