Cable News.

Special Evening Telegram.
LONDON, Nov. 10. A despatch credited to the Vienna Reichspost, describes the Turkish Army as utterly demoralized. The correspondent says that whole detachments sink along, unarmed, tired and hungry, glad to be taken prisoners so they may hope for food. The whole country is a scene of fighting, and is strewn with abandoned guns, war material and military debris. Negotiations for the surrender of Adrianople, he adds, have met with no result, but that since the Bulgarians have seized a dominating position in the north-west the capitulation of the city is close at hand. The last train from Tchorlu was so choked with troops and refugees that many persons suffocated in the cars. People got on so thickly that nothing of the train could be seen but the smoke-stack of the engine. The train had to go slowly in order to avoid decapitating soldiers sleeping on the track.

VIENNA, Nov. 10. The Bulgarians are now attacking with all their strength the remaining positions about Tchalalja, and the fate of these vital defences in front of Constantinople is only a matter of hours, according to the Reichspost's correspondent. The Bulgarian third Army has penetrated far into the forest region south of Delkos Lake, preparatory to the advance on Constantinople, while the first army is engaged against the main Turkish position east of Tchalalja. This position is not yet completely pierced but the end of the Turkish resistance appears to be in sight. Raw Turkish troops, large numbers of which rushed out from Constantinople to meet the enemy's advance, are fighting strongly, but the exhausted veterans of earlier battles are offering little serious resistance.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10. Following is the New York World's estimate of the popular vote:—Wilson, 6,383,837; Roosevelt, 4,035,506; Taft, 3,595,806. Control of the Senate is now practically assured to the democrats. Conceding to the republicans the legislatures of all States still in the doubtful column the democrats will have a vote of 48, or just one-half the entire membership of the Senate, with a democratic Vice-President in the chair to cast a deciding ballot in case of a tie. Seven States are yet to be heard from one of these would give the democrats a clear majority. The doubtful States are Illinois, Michigan, New Hampshire, Oregon, South Dakota, Tennessee and Wyoming. With returns practically complete Wilson is reasonably certain of 442 votes in the Electoral College; Roosevelt 77 and Taft 12. Wilson while on the surface an overwhelming victor in an almost unprecedented landslide, received fewer votes than did Bryan in each of his three campaigns.

LONDON, Nov. 10. An uncorroborated despatch in the Chronicle says, Saloniki has been occupied by Greek troops. Their approach was attended by awful scenes. Before the Greeks entered the town the elements of disorder broke loose and a terrible massacre of the non-Moslem population took place. Shooting and looting were general. When the Greeks took possession they imprisoned all the Pasha's officials and Turkish officers. The Turks in captivity at Saloniki number 27,000.

ISKUB, Nov. 10. A battle, which resulted in the capture of the Turkish city of Koprili by Serbian troops, was one of the most severe engagements fought on this side of the Balkan Peninsula. The Serbians lost 2,500 killed and wounded, while the Turks suffered 6,000 casualties. The battlefield is still covered with corpses.

MALTA, Nov. 10. The British battleships, Hibernia, Britannia, Commonwealth, and Dominion, as well as the cruiser Black Prince left here to-day for the Near East. They sailed within two hours on receipt of orders from the Admiralty.

Asquith at the Guild Hall.
Special to Evening Telegram.

LONDON, Nov. 10. At the Lord Mayor's Banquet, Premier Asquith, responding to the toast of His Majesty's ministers, said:—We are living in anxious times, and are spectators of great and moving events. The Balkan crises are in effective possession of Macedonia and Thrace. Saloniki, the gateway through which Christianity first entered Europe, is occupied by the Greeks, and we may hear at any moment of the fall of Constantinople. It is a satisfaction to be able to assure you that so far as this country is concerned its relations with the other Powers, without a single exception, were never more friendly and cordial. The Great Powers are working together with a closeness of touch and a frankness and freedom of communication and discussion, which are remarkable, and which may seem almost unintelligible to those who believe that because, for certain purposes the Powers have been, and are, ranged in different groups, they must, therefore, in the time of European crisis be arrayed in opposite camps. Nothing is further from the facts. The Powers have been blamed in some quarters because they did not succeed in averting war. They sought honestly and earnestly by diplomatic pressure, without resort to force, to secure conditions of order and good government in the European provinces of the Ottoman Empire, but forces were at work beyond the control of any diplomatic manipulation. The Balkan States, having matured their plans and perfected their equipment, co-ordinated their reciprocal position and decided that force was the only effective remedy, and that they and they alone, were prepared to use it. They took the matter in their own hands. Things can never be again as they were. It is the business of statesmen everywhere to recognize and accept the accomplished fact. When Pitt, mortally stricken by the news of Austerlitz, came home to die, he told those about him to roll up the map of Europe that hung on the wall, and even the campaign of Austerlitz did not produce changes so sudden and startling, and overwhelming, complete, as those which during the last month, had been wrought by the Balkan confederacy. The map of Eastern Europe had been re-cast, and in the process it may be that ideas, reconstructions and policies, born in what is now a bygone era, will have to be modified, re-constructed, or even altogether by the board. Upon nothing he believed that the general opinion of Europe was unanimous, namely, that the victors are not to be robbed of the fruits which had cost them so dearly. (Loud cheering.) So, or as we know, there is no disposition anywhere to belittle the magnitude of the struggle, or dispute the decisiveness of the result. We, in this country, have no direct interest in the exact form which consequent political and territorial redistribution may ultimately take. There are other Powers whose special connections, geographical, economic, ethical and historical, are such that they cannot be expected not to claim a hearing and a voice when the time comes for permanent settlement. I purposely refrain at this stage from even indicating in the most general way those points, some of them full of difficulties which must inevitably emerge for solution. So long as the state of belligerency continues, the Government deprecates the raising or pressing of isolated questions, which are reserved to be dealt with from the wider point of view of general settlement. War, terrible though it is, may be a necessary form of arbitration, when a deadlock arrives in human affairs, and none of its horrors have been absent from the campaign which is now being waged. It is at this moment the first and greatest of European interests to circumscribe its scope. For that object the Great Powers have laboured with will and, so far, they have laboured successfully. It is our hope and belief that they will continue to labour to that end. At such times the burden of responsibility falls upon government. Onerous as it always is, it is now exceptionally heavy, and it is a source of sincere gratification to the Government to know that, however divided in the arena of domestic controversy, we have in these large matters the sympathy and support of the whole community, and can speak in the Councils of Europe in the name, and with the authority of a united people.

Almeriana Here.

The Furness Liner Almeriana, Capt. Fairclough, eight days from Liverpool, reached port on Saturday night. The ship brought fifty packages of mail matter and 540 tons of cargo.

Died of the White Plague.

There passed away at the Signal Hill Hospital, yesterday, after a prolonged illness, Bertram Nelson, belonging to Carbonear. He was the only son of the late Roland M. Nelson, M.D., and was thirty-one years old. Deceased leaves two children. His wife predeceased him six months ago. Bertram entered the Hospital showing symptoms of consumption. For the first month or so he showed an improvement, but after that gradually he became worse. Subsequently he was subject to hemorrhages and despite the unremitting care and attention of the nurses of the institution the end came yesterday morning. The remains will be forwarded to Western Bay by to-morrow's train for interment. Deceased has only two relatives alive and they are in Rossland, British Columbia.

Looked for Trouble and Got It.

On Saturday night a carman, well known to the police, and who pays a customary week-end visit to the lock-up, went into Bald's Dry Goods Store to make some purchases. He at once started to quarrel with two clerks, and was thrown out on the sidewalk, cutting his face. Next he visited Horwood's Grocery Store and again started to make trouble. This time he became so obnoxious that the police were telephoned for. Officers Sparrow and Keefe responded and arrested the disturber, who was excited trouble and was accommodated to his grief. The carman was pretty well intoxicated and as he is a blacklisted police will endeavor to find out who served him with liquor.

Beothic Goes to England.

The S. S. Beothic, which was chartered by Revillon Freres, reached Sydney on Saturday, having finished her cruise in Hudson Bay waters. After replenishing her bunkers at Sydney the Beothic will proceed to Halifax and take a cargo of apples across to England, after which she will be dry docked at Glasgow for a general overhauling and repairs. The ship is expected to leave the Black Diamond port to-day.

Presentation at Wabana.

Underground Manager Honoured.
James Kennedy, who for the past 18 months has occupied the position of underground manager, D. I. & S. Co.'s No. 2 Mine, Wabana, left for home in Glace Bay, C. B., by the S. S. Sandford on Wednesday last, where we understand Mr. Kennedy assumes a position with the Dominion Coal Co. Before leaving Mr. Kennedy was waited upon by Messrs. S. Blackmore, J. P. Sweeney and A. Budgell, foreman of No. 2 Mine, who presented Mr. Kennedy on behalf of the workmen of the same mine, with a magnificent illuminated address, the work of Mr. Leo C. Murphy, accompanied by a purse of gold as a slight token of their appreciation of Mr. Kennedy's sterling qualities. Mr. Sweeney in a neat speech made the presentation and voiced the sentiment of all the workmen in wishing Mr. Kennedy continued success and prosperity in his native land. Mr. Kennedy was deeply touched by the kind remarks made, and expressed in loving terms his appreciation of the magnificent gift and address. He deeply regretted his departure from Wabana. He went away with warm feelings for the workmen with whom he has associated in Newfoundland. He had always found them ready to work in the best interests of the Company, and he felt sure that in accepting this gift he was accepting what was much more valuable than the good wishes of the workmen of Wabana.

BOWRING BROTHERS, LTD.

Johnson for Russia. Chicago, Nov. 2. —Johnson, having lost his saloon license, is to leave Chicago, Johnson says he sold his business for $25,000. He says he has signed for a fight with Sam McVey, at Moscow.

Johnson will receive $30,000 for his end of the purse and one-third of the proceeds of the moving pictures. Kliegman said he was not connected with the Aquarium Gardens, but had been sent here by the syndicate which controls the Gardens. There is no record of a prize fight ever having been fought any place in Russia, and it is a question whether Johnson will receive a welcome in the country. It is strong, durable, speedy, reliable—and yet so easily understood that any 10 year old boy can operate it.—nov11,12
