

FRIENDSHIP is no Criterion in the selection of an EXECUTOR

Quite the contrary. As a rule, the less personal interest an Executor has in an Estate, the better its affairs are administered. The selection of an Executor is a matter of business, not of friendship. Friendship should, therefore, give way to sound business judgment.

The laws of fashion all allow,
It's stylish to save money now.

And so it has come to pass that the thinking women of the country as well as serious minded men have come to the conclusion that the development of thrift is necessary to the development of national character.
But if you are going to make last season's clothes do a while it does not mean that you cannot have them dry cleaned and thor-must not change the shape or color of them. Our dyeing sys-

MR. JOHN T. POWER.

The almost sudden passing of Mr. John T. Power, son of the late Capt. John and Elizabeth Power, which occurred at his home last evening, came as a shock to his many friends in the city. Wedding Bells.

THISTLE—McLEAN.

A pretty and quiet wedding took place at the residence of Mrs. John R. McLean, when her son John was united in marriage to Miss Isabel David Thistle of Newfoundland Wednesday, February 1st, 1922. Rev. Mr.

A double ring service was performed.

best man, Mrs. Frank Peterson sister of the groom was maid of honor.

Miss Edythe McLean, sister of the groom played the wedding march.

The bride was gown in tulle and carried white carnations. The maid was prettily decorated in blue and Highlanders' Dance

A SUCCESSFUL EVENT.

The Highlanders dance held last night in the C.C.C. Hall, proved very successful. Over 200 people were in attendance, and music was furnished by the C.C.C. Band. Festoons of Tartan ribbon suspended from the ceiling blending harmoniously with the other decorations of the ballroom made the scene very attractive. The dance programme consisted of 12 items.
Supper was served by the Ladies' Auxiliary in a manner which reflected the highest credit on their skill in the culinary art. At the conclusion of the supper dancing was resumed and continued until an early hour this morning. During the evening Sir R. A.
Squires, Hon. Dr. Campbell, Lt.-Col.
Nangle and Mr. W. H. Jackman attended as guests of the committee.
The affair was quite the most successful of the Highlanders' entertainments.

M. C. L. I. Debate.

INSTITUTE THINKS THAT WOMEN SHOULD BE ADMITTED TO OR-DNATION.

Should women be admitted for ordnation in the Methodist Church? The Methodist College Literary Institute believes that they should. The subject was fully debated last night and decided in the affirmative by a majority of the institute.

SPEAKERS.
The leaders in the debate were:— affirmative, Hon. A. W. Meys, J. R.
Smallwood (sub) and C. N. Giles; and negative, Rev. T. B. Darby, Albert Soper (sub) and William White (sub). These led the sides and from the floor the following members took part: C. F. Garland, Joseph Moore, A.
E. Parkins, Wilson Clarke, Fred
Moore, E. Burrey, A. E. Hayward, A.
E. Peller, James Bowden, Hiram Young and J. S. Currie. The resolution was well and exhaustively debated.

AFFIRMATIVE.
The affirmative side wished to point out, first, that allowing women to enter the church for ordination was not like granting the franchise to women.
In the latter case all women, irrespective of status, ability or training would be favored. In the present case only those women who would be qualified to receive the ministry would be favored. The affirmative side did not for a moment ask the Institute to vote that any woman be admitted for ordnation, but only those women who measured up to the necessary qualifications, the same as men applicants for ordination did.

If a woman did measure up to the necessary qualifications why should she be debarred from entering the pulpit. The only difference between male and female who were of equal qualifications was the difference of sex. Should women therefore be condemned because of their sex, if they qualified? It was only for women who qualified mentally, tempermen-tally and vocationally, that the affirmative asked for this permission to serve.

As a matter of fact, of course, they said, women already filled many places in the church—missionaries and evangelists in China and India and Africa. They were admitted to the church to do the "dirty work," but the negative would not agree to letting them fill the positions at home, although the positions were none the less arduous or difficult to fill.
Give them the hard work to do, but keep them from the little honor that went with the ministry. That was not fair. While the affirmative side was really not concerned with whether women did actually measure up to the standard or not, by the wording of the resolution, that side did not mind dealing with the facts.
What were the facts? Women did measure up. There were women lawyers, women musicians, women sculptors, women artists, women journalists, women evangelists and woman missionaries. Would there not be women to measure up to the qualifications of the ministry? It was not because St. Paul was uncomplimentary to women that we should in this twentieth century fail to give them their rights. St. Paul was an old bachelor, anyway. His attitude toward women was notoriously cynical. There was one more point which the affirmative wished to notice —that was the old parrot cry about about women's place being in the home. If women's place was in the home why did the professions admit women to their ranks? Why did the church admit women for various vocations? Why were there women nurses, clerks, doctors, etc. etc. Woman's place was in her home, but there were exceptions.

NEGATIVE.
The negative side based its case on three main points. First, it was no "parrot-cry" that woman's place was in the home. It was literally true.
Nature had designed it. Woman was man's helpmeet. Woman was the complement, the rounding off of man.
Woman was not complete without man. So, too, was woman the complement, the rounding off, of men.
Man was not complete without woman. Together they thrived, and built up the world and the race. They had their separate vocations and tasks. Woman's place was really in her home. It was not woman's place to go out and be the bread-winner, any more than it was the man's place to stay home and keep house and rear children.

The second point was the matter of whether women ministers might marry or not. The majority of circuits did not want even an unmarried male minister. They would not be likely to want an unmarried female minister. She would have to get married, therefore. And if she were married, what about her husband? Where would he fit in? What would he do? Of course there were the negative knew, many men who would send their wives out washing, and stay home and live on the proceeds. But the husband of a woman minister could hardly do that, and retain the respect of his wife and the neighbors. The third point that the negative wished to make was this:

that the woman had not asked for this right. They had not clamored for the right of admission to the ministry, like they had for the franchise. If there was no demand for the right, why should the affirmative be anxious to grant it? If women wished to help in the work of the church, said the negative, there were many ways of doing it. They could become deaconesses, missionaries or evangelists. Was not that sufficient outlet for their efforts? There was no need for women to want to enter the pulpit.

Twenty Years Ago To-Day.

(Evening Telegram, Feb. 24th, 1902.)

A Newfoundland team of Hockeyists consisting of Woodley, Parsons, Marshall, Herder, Higgins, Vinicombe and Munn defeated a challenging team at Truro by a score of one to none.

The weather very mild. So much so that it was contrasted with Feb. 24th, 1888 by an extract from a diary on that subject as follows:—"Freezing one hundred knots an hour to-night. The nails are cracking in the houses like pistol shots, the harbour is frozen over so that you can drive a horse and sleigh anywhere across it, and the whole ocean as far as can be seen from Signal Hill is covered with ice."

N.B.—Practically the same conditions prevail to-day as that of 64 years ago, with the exception that the plumbers were not so much in evidence then.

Crown Life Assurance Co.

HAS REMARKABLE YEAR.

In our advertising columns to-day, readers will note a statement of the financial strength of the Crown Life Assurance Co. of Toronto. This Company had in 1921 a year of remarkable progress, one which will equally please both Policy and Shareholders.
More business was done in 1921 than in any previous year, and substantial profits were made through the enhancement of security values, and the high rate of interest realized on investments. An exceptionally low mortality experience is reported for the past year. The Reserve fund has been considerably increased, as also the free surplus. The outgoing Board of Directors was re-elected for the ensuing year. Great satisfaction was expressed by the Share and Policy holders who attended the annual meeting. The local agent of the Crown Insurance Company is Mr.
Cyril J. Cahill.

Princess Mary Cables Appreciation.

The following message was received last night:—"Princess Mary has noted with interest from Reuter's message in the 'Times' that the Proprietors of the Prince of Wales's Rink will hold a fancy dress Carnival on Tuesday evening next in honour of her marriage on that date." The Princess expresses her appreciation to the Proprietors and hopes that a record attendance may be achieved and an enjoyable time spent.

It's Flavor that Makes the Meal!

And the sauces that the Libby chefs have adapted for you give flavor to the simplest dishes.

It may be eggs, or macaroni, or a cheap cut of meat—an unusual and delicious sauce will make it something you eat with delight and remember with pleasure—because of its flavor.

LIBBY'S CATCHUP and CHILI SAUCE are made from red, ripe tomatoes, grown in the fertile soil of Kent County, Ontario, picked when they are mellowed by the sunshine of long summer days, then rushed to the nearby Libby kitchen.

Here in sunny rooms the tomatoes are cooked with fragrant spices, onions, sugar and the best vinegar—cooked for hours until all the flavors are blended through and through.

Now the sauce is ready to give an appetizing relish to your steaks and chops, or a new piquancy to the meat gravy you serve with your roasts.

Your grocer has, or can get you, Libby's Catchup or Chili Sauce.
Use it with your cold meat teas and note how quickly the second helping is necessary.

The delightful flavor of Libby's Beans is due largely to the wonderful Sauce prepared by the skilled chefs. Have you tried them?
